CITY OF 25,000 FALLS; BATTLE RAGES 48 HOURS

150 Killed by Fire of Machine Guns.

BUENOS AIRES, Argentina, Oct. 8.—Official dispatches tonight from the Brazilian revolutionary headquarters at Porto Alegre, state of Rio Grande do Sul, announced that their rebel brothers had triumphed in the north of the republic and that the red flag of the Liberal cause fluttered free in Pernambuco after a 48 hours battle.

The port of Pernambuco, capital of the state of that name, with a population of 25,000 and one of the most important cities in Brazil, did not surrender without a struggle. A portion of the federal soldiery and police remained staunch to the government and fought the rebels in the streets and from their barrack buildings. But the rebels had captured the arsenal and repulsed the federalists with machine gun fire. One hundred and fifty are reported to have fallen in this civil strife.

Federal Planes Surrender.

A dispatch from revolutionary sources also reported that their forces in Minas Geraes had invaded the state of Espirito Santo, being joined by the inhabitants en masse. They added that a second squadron of four federal planes which had been bombing Bello Horizonte today had surrendered.

The rebels are now in possession of six federal planes that are being made the nucleus of the air force of their provisional government.

Two federal destroyers that arrived today at Imbituba surrendered to the rebels so that they have also the nucleus of a navy to fight the federal forces at nearby Florianapolis, where the Rio de Janeiro government has 1,000 men.

Rebels Hold Ten States.

A later radio message from the insurgents claims that the fall of Sao Paulo is only a matter of time, as they now hold ten of Brazil's twenty states. Listed as rebel states are Rio Grande do Sul, Parana, Santa Catharina, Piauhy, Minas Geraes, Pernambuco, Parahyba, Rio Grande do Norte, Alagoas, and Epirito Santo. Revolutionary reports said that Alagoes was captured today by the northern liberal leader, Gen. Jaurez Tavora, and that he was leading an army against the port of Bahia.

Listed as wavering states are Caera, Para, and Matto Grosso. The federal government is only said to be sure of the allegiance of the states of Rio Janeiro, Sao Paulo, Goyaz, Bahia, Sergipe, Maranhao, and Amazonas, the last named being of little importance as it is sparsely populated and practically untouched by civilization.

At this stage of the civil war, however, not too much credence can be given to exaggerated claims from either side. Both appear to have a stalemate and are unlikely to announce anything except victories.

Capture Important Railroad.

The rebel radio announcing the progress of the march on Sao Paulo told of the capture of the Sorocaba railroad. Should this be so it might prove dangerous to the government as the line is an important artery leading to Sao Paulo.

A radio message from Florianopolis denied the capture of former President Arthur Bernades at Marianna, Minas Geraes. Gen. Bernades is supposed to be one of the prime instigators of the rebellion. No other details are forthcoming.

The Brazilian Liberal leader, Lindolfo Collor, arrived here today by air from Porto Alegre. Collor did not reveal his mission, but it is understood that he has come in the capacity of "the provisional government of Brazil's ambassador to Argentina."

Loyalists Bombard Rebels.

BUENOS AIRES, Oct. 8.—(AP)—Dispatches to La Nacion from Para say that police and sailors loyal to the Brazilian federal government clashed with revolting soldiers there today and bombarded them heavily.

A WARNING TO THOSE WHO PROFIT BY AGGRAVATING THE NATION'S ECONOMIC DISTRESS

GOV. LONG APPOINTS YOUNG WOMAN AID AS SECRETARY OF STATE

Baton Rouge, La., Oct. 8.—[Special.]—Gov. Huey P. Long of Louisiana who has broken many precedents since he came to power broke another today by appointing a woman to be secretary of state. The woman is his secretary, Miss Alice Lee Grosjean, 24. She succeeds James J. Bailey, who died this morning.

Miss Grosjean expressed surprise at the appointment although she has been confidential secretary to the governor since he took office in 1928 and his secretary since 1925.

"I never dreamed I would ever be a state official," she said. "Of course I am thrilled. The first thing I did when the governor told me was to call my father and mother at Shreveport and tell them."

Miss Grosjean apparently does not intend to continue in official life after her term and the governor's expire in 1932.

"This appointment," she said, "will not prevent my going with the governor as his secretary when he takes his post in the senate in 1932."

The new secretary was married when she was 15 to James Terrell, one of the two men recently alleged to have been kidnaped by the governor's agents. She divorced him three years ago. After graduating from high school she took a business course.

Quakes Rock All Europe; Hit Persia, Too

BULLETIN.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

TEHERAN, Persia, Oct. 8.—Heavy earthquake shocks were felt here during the early hours this morning. The inhabitants rushed to the streets and prayed. They passed the remainder of the night in the open.

[Copyright: 1930: By the New York Times.]

PARIS, Oct. 8.—A violent earthquake shock was felt throughout Alsace just before midnight last night. It seems to have been related to a series of shocks felt all across Europe and as far as Persia, where a third shock had been experienced in 15 days.

In Strassburg many people felt the shock plainly and it caused considerable commotion, tables and furniture being perceptibly moved. At the central telephone station instruments were thrown out of order. In Wissembourg several houses today showed cracks in walls and were otherwise damaged.

Such was the violence of the shocks that the registering needle in the Seismic institute at Strassburg fell off, an occurrence which has never happened before, though several violent shocks have been registered. Similar shocks were registered at Aurich as occurring in south Germany and western Switzerland, while at Sarajavo, in Jugo-Slavia, one of four shocks lasted forty seconds.

Swiss Towns Rocked.

[Copyright: 1930: By the New York Times.]

GENEVA, Oct. 8. — Earthquake shocks were felt in several towns of northeast Switzerland early this morning, the severest being at Shaffrouse, where furniture was moved and inhabitants were awakened, while a curious luminosity lit the sky over the town. A kind of tidal wave disturbed the south end of Lake Constance, but there was no damage.

Tyrol Buildings Crack.

VIENNA, Oct. 8.—(AP)—Many buildings were cracked and chimneys collapsed in a series of severe earth shocks which struck the provinces in the Tyrol and upper Austria today. The shocks were described as the severest in years.

Rhine Rises Five Feet.

KARLSRUHE, Germany, Oct. 8.—(AP)—Severe rainstorms have visited Baden and the Rheinish Palatinate uninterruptedly since Saturday. Mountain streams are in flood and have caused the upper Rhine to rise about five feet.

Long stretches of meadow land along the line of the Frankfurt-Basel railway have been submerged. Several dams have burst in the Palatinate, washing out highways.

WORK WILL START ON RANDOLPH ST. VIADUCT NEXT WEEK

Construction of the Randolph street viaduct, providing a roadway with room for six lanes of automobile traffic connecting Michigan avenue with the outer drive, is to be started next Sunday morning, it was announced yesterday by George E. Donoghue, superintendent of the south parks.

R. T. Hanrahan, who was awarded the contract for the foundation work on the viaduct, said that ninety days would be required to sink the necessary caissons and complete the foundation work.

The Illinois Central railroad, which awarded the contract, and the south park system are to share the cost of the viaduct equally, Hanrahan's bid being $192,726 for his part of the construction. The railroad plans construction of a new passenger station under the viaduct. Plans for the superstructure of the viaduct have not yet been completed.

Hanrahan said his men will work in three shifts of eight hours each for twenty-four hours a day.

GUNMAN HOPS CAR AT LINK BRIDGE; KIDNAPS AUTOIST

Walter Wells, 6115 Vernon avenue, was driving his automobile at Wacker drive and Michigan boulevard early this morning when a young robber leaped on the running board and smashed a window of the car with a revolver. Then the youth seated himself beside Wells, poked the muzzle of the gun against Wells' side, and ordered him to drive west.

At Arthington street and Keeler avenue, five miles west of the starting point, the bandit took Wells' pocketbook containing $12 and fled.

Bandits Hang Out 'Absent' Sign; Then Rob Merchant

Two young bandits yesterday hung a sign reading "'Back in a few minutes" on the door of a shoe store at 4959 West Chicago avenue, then robbed the proprietor, Sam Lincenberg, of $20 after binding his hands and feet and beating him on the head. Lincenberg was taken to St. Anne's hospital.

Russia Recalls 40 Envoys in Paris on Pain of Death

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

RIGA, Latvia, Oct. 8.—The Moscow radio station announced tonight the immediate recall of 40 members of the Paris legation and trade delegation, promising those obeying the order a bonus of three months' salary. Those failing to report will be sentenced to death.

KILLS HIMSELF WITH GUN IN LINCOLN PARK

Fred Mann, founder and former proprietor of the Million Dollar Rainbo Garden, one of the centers of night life in Chicago until dry agents padlocked its doors two years ago, committed suicide with a pistol late yesterday in Lincoln park. He was 57 years old and widely known.

A stroller loitering about 4:40 p. m. along the path which skirts the park lagoon at the foot of Webster avenue heard a shot at the other side of a big elm tree. Slumped there on a bench, in view of a stream of automobiles on the outer drive, across the water, he found Mr. Mann.

Revolver Found on Bench.

The witness went in search of a policeman and returned with Patrolman Barney Clettenberg of the park force, who listened for a heart beat and decided Mr. Mann was dead.

A revolver lay on the bench, within reach of Mann's right hand. Wounds on both his temples showed the course of the fatal bullet through his head.

In the palm of his half closed left hand was Mr. Mann's business card, on which was penciled the instruction: "Please remove my body to George Klaner's undertaking rooms, 4714 Broadway."

On the reverse side was this farewell message to the undertaker: "Good-by, George. Take care of everything. Notify Al."

The reference, Mr. Klaner said, was to Mr. Mann's only son, Albert Mann, former Illinois boxing commissioner. A sealed message, addressed to the widow, Mrs. Rose Mann, was found in an inner pocket.

Hudson avenue police took the letter, which was to be opened at the inquest, set for 10 a. m. today at the Klaner mortuary. The body was held there last night. The Mann residence is at 4750 Dover street.

Fred Mann, an immigrant boy who became one of the city's best known restaurateurs, was born in Berlin and came here with his parents at the age of 10. He began his career as a waiter in the old Green Mill gardens.

Popular in Night Life.

Business acumen and an amiability for which Mann was famous soon made him manager of the resort. Thereafter for the next ten years, as manager of various cafés, he became a familiar and popular character in the city's night life. Many public men and politicians, including Mayor Thompson, were his friends.

The Rainbo garden, an imposing four story plant at Clark street and Lawrence avenue, was opened about 13 years ago. Critics praised the cuisine, decorations and entertainment. The future seemed auspicious for Fred Mann.

But prohibition brought trouble to Mann. On a January night in 1922, with 1,500 patrons in the place, federal agents staged a raid, confiscated a quantity of liquor, and arrested a waiter. The proprietor was later charged with possessing intoxicants and fined.

In Trouble with Government.

A padlock injunction, sought by the government against the Rainbo garden, was dismissed, the Supreme court at that time having not yet ruled on the admissibility of so-called "set up" evidence, whereby, as was later established a proprietor might be convicted of maintaining a nuisance

Mayor's Wife Views 2 Held in Bandit Hunt

Two handcuffed men, suspected of participation in the robbery of jewels valued at $15,500 from Mrs. William Hale Thompson, wife of the mayor, were taken last night to the Thompson residence at 3100 Sheridan road where the robbery occurred on Monday night. Acting Police Commissioner Alcock, who earlier in the day had announced that one of the suspects had been positively identified, escorted the handcuffed men into the presence of Mrs. Thompson.

After a short time the prisoners, Sam Battaglia, 528 Forquer street, and William Carr, 1114 Huron street, were returned to the detective bureau. Battaglia is the man who, Alcock said, had been positively identified as one of the robber gang of four who held up Mrs. Thompson as she was returning home from a theater, obtained her gems, and took the pistol and star of her chauffeur, Policeman Peter J. O'Malley. Carr is a brother of John ("Red") Carr, once accused of Chicago's first beer murder.

Silent on Result of Trip.

Back at the detective bureau the two prisoners who, before the trip to the Thompson home, had professed ignorance of the reason for their being in custody, appeared to have lost their attitude of dejection, observers said.

Acting Commissioner Alcock declined to reveal whether Mrs. Thompson had identified either Battaglia or Carr as participants in the holdup. He expressed sympathy for Mrs. Thompson, who he said had not yet completely recovered from the shock of having a pistol placed at her head and another gun pressed to her side as her jewels were roughly removed by the robbers.

In his earlier statement Alcock had expressed positive assurance that Battaglia had been identified as one of the bandits.

Puts It Up to Chauffeur.

"The chauffeur has identified Battaglia," Alcock announced.

Policeman O'Malley was seen by a reporter.

"Did you identify Battaglia as one of the robbers?" O'Malley was asked.

"No," he replied. "What I said was that Battaglia looks like the holdup man who put his gun on me and I am almost sure of it."

"But Commissioner Alcock says that you did positively identify Battaglia," O'Malley was told.

"Well," the policeman said, "if the commissioner says that, then I did identify him. I don't want any trouble with the commissioner."

Alcock's early announcement included the information that as yet none of the stolen jewelry had been recovered. Mayor Thompson was notified of the arrests and the trip with the prisoners to his home followed.

Tells of Capture.

When Battaglia and Carr were taken back to the bureau their questioning was resumed by Assistant State's Attorneys Harry S. Ditchburne and Walker Butler.

The reports from the questioning were that Sergt. Frank Casey of the Sheffield avenue district, in which the robbery occurred, had received information that Battaglia and Carr had been seen loitering about 3100 Sheridan road on the night preceding the robbery.

Sergt. Casey took Battaglia and Carr into custody at the Felony court, where they had appeared before Judge Lyle on a minor charge.

Couple Held Up at Home; Robbed of $2,750 Gems

Two armed bandits held up Benjamin G. Kaplan, vice president of M. J. Kaplan & Co., iron and steel dealers, as he and his wife, Bertha, reached the door of the second floor apartment at 5441 Eastview Park last night. From Kaplan the robbers took a $1,500 diamond ring and $100 cash. His wife lost three rings valued at $1,250.

RALPH CAPONE GIVES UP; FREED IN TEN MINUTES

Posts $10,000 Bail in Vagrancy Case.

Gangster Ralph Capone, Al's brother, spent an unharassed ten minutes at the detective bureau yesterday afternoon, signing his vagrancy bond, and was then sent on his way without delay. Although Chief of Detectives Norton and Deputy Chief Lawrence Rafferty were both at their desks during the hoodlum's brief visit, neither questioned him on the recent disappearance of a secret police document which was later found under the pillow of a Capone bondsman when federal officers raided a hotel.

"I was busy working on the Thompson case," explained Norton, referring to the robbery of Mrs. William Hale Thompson. "I didn't care to talk to him."

"Why didn't you put him through the bureau of identification like all the other hoodlums who come in here?" inquired a reporter of Lieut. Phil Carroll, who read the warrant to the gang leader.

Lieut. Carroll Explains.

"I didn't want to be in contempt of court," replied Carroll. The reason for this conclusion was not explained.

Capone's henchmen had previously eased the way for their leader's reception by appearing in the office of James A. Kearns, clerk of the Municipal court, where they posted ten $1,000 bank notes as bail on the vagrancy warrant, one of those issued by Judge John H. Lyle for the 28 "public enemies" listed by the Chicago crime commission. Clerk John F. Gould said three men appeared with the money, the payer being one George Christo, who gave Cicero as his address.

Then it was only necessary for Capone and his lawyer, Miles J. Devine, to appear at the detective bureau to listen to the reading of the warrant and to sign the bond. All this was done in a few minutes.

Gangster Faces Lyle Today.

The gangster will be arraigned before Judge Lyle in the Felony court this morning. Attorney Devine served the judge with a request for a change of venue from the latter's court shortly after the bond was furnished.

Devine stated in the request for a change of venue, which of necessity bore Capone's signature, that Judge Lyle was prejudiced and could thus not extend fair consideration to the rights of the defendant. This prejudicial attitude became known to Capone at 11:30 a. m. on Sept. 23, the request said.

On that date Judge Lyle made a statement in which he predicted criminal lawyers would go to great lengths to keep their hoodlum clients off the rockpile.

Judge Lyle appeared at the bureau of identification, in the detective bureau, in the evening and scanned the records of the Capone brothers, Al and Ralph. He requested that copies of both records be placed on his desk this morning before Ralph is arraigned.

Two Gunmen Indicted Again.

While Ralph was surrendering State's Attorney Swanson was making a move regarded as a rebuke to the Criminal court judges who spoke of the group of officials who are seeking to put all gangsters in jail as a "howling mob."

The state's attorney caused new indictments to be voted against Dominick Bello and Dominick Brancato, who were arrested with revolvers as they cruised in an auto before the Temple building, 77 West Washington street, headquarters of Assistant State's Attorneys Charles F. Rathbun and James McShane and Chief Investigator Pat Roche, who are conducting the investigation of the murder of Alfred Lingle. Judge Joseph B. David refused to hear gun toting cases against the two in the Criminal court, saying that those complaints belonged in the Municipal court.

"Any Criminal court judge ought to be glad to hear these cases," said Mr. Swanson. "They have to hear country town cases; why not these? Any legal means to put the gangsters and hoodlums behind the bars must be used. We must clean up Chicago."

Danny Stanton in Court.

While all these activities were taking place, Judge Lyle was finishing a day's labor in the Felony court—the feature of which was the appearance of Danny Stanton, a Capone lieutenant, on a kidnaping charge. Stanton is now held in the county jail without bail, charged with the murder of Jack Zuta, leader of the Zuta-Aiello-Moran north side gang, who was slain at a Wisconsin resort.

A week ago, before he went to jail,

Bigger Value Per Dollar Built Into Autos Today

The first flurry of snow used to send the family automobile scurrying for cover in the garage, where it was jacked up to save the tires. It rarely went back on the street again until the warmth of spring gave evidence that weather was fit for motoring.

Nowadays zero weather has little effect on tourists. It may take a little longer to warm up the motor, gas consumption may climb a bit because of bucking snow drifts, narrower highways may cut down speed, but the automobile consistently proves itself a year-round means of getting there and back.

Cars are better today. They're doing a better job of transportation in a better way. Present models start quicker, use less gas, slip more easily around traffic congestion, and offer more value per dollar invested than ever before.

THE WORLD'S GREATEST NEWSPAPER

Stanton appeared well groomed as he stood before Lyle, but seven days of confinement reduced him to the appearance of any other prisoner. Stanton is charged with kidnaping and holding Mrs. Lucille O'Neil against her will. Mrs. O'Neil's attorney, Arthur Ahern, asked for a month's continuance to allow his client to recover from the result of her experience. Judge Lyle allowed a continuance until Nov. 1.

The Wisconsin authorities have promised prompt action on the Zuta murder charge as soon as they can extradite Stanton.

Terry Druggan, also on the list of "public enemies," was also scheduled on a vagrancy warrant, but attorneys appeared to repeat the testimony that Druggan is ill in a hospital. The case was continued to Nov. 6.

John Genaro, brother of Joe ("Pepe") Genaro, another "public enemy," was arraigned before Judge Edgar A. Jonas in the State street court yesterday, but was not tried for vagrancy because he had not obtained a lawyer.

"I advised this man to get a lawyer," said Judge Jonas. "He hasn't done so and I will not try the case." The case was sent back to Chief Justice Harry Olson of the Municipal court for reassignment.

Three alleged members of the notorious west side "42" gang were arraigned yesterday before Judge Harry Hamlin in the Des Plaines street court, charged with trying to extort money from Italian merchants. The three, Edward Riccio, Frank Langoni, and Leonard Mosco, were freed when police told the judge the merchants were afraid to come into court to press the charges.

Judge Lyle Addresses Women.

At a luncheon in the Morrison hotel at noon, Judge Lyle told the Lake City Woman's club of his drive against the hoodlums and made a few remarks about the judges who characterized those who are working with him as the "howling mob."

"I am astonished that a judge should refer to the public, terrorized for years by hoodlums, in this fashion," said Judge Lyle. "It might just as well have been said that Col. Albert A. Sprague and Col. Robert Isham Randolph, leaders of the Association of Commerce committee, were leaders of the 'howling mob.' Any one who says that is going to find himself steam rollered."

Referring apparently to Judge Harry M. Fisher, who made a remark about the "howling mob," Judge Lyle said: "When does he get so high and mighty? Shame on him!"

Take Case to Supreme Court.

Judge Lyle was informed late in the day that Attorneys Everett Jennings and Milton D. Smith had arrived in Springfield to petition the Illinois Supreme court for a lower bond for James ("Fur") Sammons, Capone gangster, whom Lyle held in $50,000 bonds last week on a vagrancy warrant.

Aside from the hoodlum cases Judge Lyle heard a variety of causes yesterday. In one of these Attorney Clarence Darrow appeared. This was the case of Nicholas Pace, a bank clerk, who was charged with embezzling $1,024 from the Foreman State National bank. Mr. Darrow had been appointed by Judge Lyle to defend the man and yesterday asked probation for his client, saying that he would make restitution. Benjamin Kilpatrick, vice president of the bank, objected to this, but inasmuch as the state's attorney's office was not willing to sign a complaint changing the charge from felony to petty larceny, Judge Lyle admitted Pace to probation.

MURDER VERDICT IS RETURNED.

A coroner's jury yesterday returned a verdict of "murder by unknown persons" in the killings of Mike Lafakis, 37 years old, and George Peters, 33 years old, of Arco, in an Arco soft drink parlor on Sept. 19. The shooting was done by two or three men who escaped in an automobile.

CRIME IN CHICAGO FACED, NOT HIDDEN, RANDOLPH DECLARES

New York, Oct. 8.— [Special.] — Maybe it's because they're "provincial," and lacking in the polished nonchalance of—say—New York, but Chicago doesn't try to hide her crime under a bushel for fear of scaring visitors away and hurting business, Col. Robert Isham Randolph, president of the Chicago Association of Commerce, let the New York Board of Trade know today.

No, when they have a "shocking murder"—the phrase is Col. Randolph's—out Chicago way, they "tell the world about it, spread it all over the front pages of our newspapers and print pictures of the coroner, the police commissioner and the state's attorney shaking their fists at the dastardly murderer who is probably at the minute on the Century en route to New York or in a T. A. T ship flying to Los Angeles."

"Chicago is not the crime capital of the United States," he insisted. "Neither is New York. New York is the port of entry for much of the crime in the country and Chicago is perhaps the largest distributing center, but the problem is a national problem and organized crime is carrying on its destructive business from coast to coast with the facility and dispatch that modern methods of transportation and communication afford to legitimate business."

REPORT SLAYER'S MOTHER INDICTED FOR ESCAPE PLOT

Mrs. Julia Glovka of Cleveland was reported named yesterday in a true bill voted by the grand jury on a charge of complicity in a plot to free her son, William (Blackie) Lenhardt, condemned killer, from the county jail. Five others have already been indicted, including Frank H. Bell, the prisoner whose exposure of the plot led to its being foiled by jail officers. Bell has also made a confession to the effect that he drove the automobile in which the killers of Alfred Lingle were taken to the scene of that murder on June 9. Bell declared that Joseph Traum, Indiana gangster chief, had directed the killing.

George Jeffrey, United States district attorney at Terre Haute, Ind., said in federal court yesterday that there was no doubt in his mind that Traum had killed the most important witness in a case against him.

13 CAPTURED AS CAPONE BOOZE AIDS SENTENCED

Thirteen alleged members of the Capone booze trust, who had been on trial for two days on charges of conspiracy to violate the dry laws, pleaded guilty yesterday before Federal Judge Wham and received sentences ranging from one day in the marshal's office to one year at Leavenworth penitentiary.

Those sentenced are: Charles Argento, year at Leavenworth; Joseph Almanza, two years probation and a fine of $1,000; Joseph Bruno, one day in the marshal's office; Thomas and Patci Bruno, sixty days each and fines of $1,000; Sam Fernari, eight months and $1,000; Joseph Ingrasci, sixty days; August Laiolfa, thirty days; Frank La Cort, fine of $2,500; Ernest Nilo, four months and $1,000. Vincent Quadracci, thirty days and $500; Sam Vassalo, four months; Joseph Vitello, four months.

FRED MANN ENDS LIFE WITH GUN IN LINCOLN PARK

Ex-Cafe Owner Leaves Note to Widow.

if his staff served cracked ice and ginger ale to drinkers.

The government dealt the garden a death blow in May, 1928. Federal agents had secured "setup" evidence against the garden, and twelve other night clubs. Mann, who had previously promised to carry the case to the Supreme court if necessary, dropped the fight and allowed the entry of a consent decree, by which the garden was closed as a public nuisance.

He was not yet eliminated as a purveyor of entertainment to the city's seekers of gayety, however. He had introduced in the garden the Spanish game of jai alai and the pavilion for this sport was allowed to continue operations.

Make Plea to Reopen.

Proceeds of the jai alai games proved insufficient to support the garden plant and, within a few weeks of the entry of the padlock decree, stockholders filed a petition to reopen the restaurant. In its answer the government averred:

"That prohibition agents saw mere boys and girls of 16 or 18 years in such a state of intoxication that they had to be assisted from the room and that gambling and drinking were encouraged by the management in the jai alai pavilion." The petition was denied.

Within six months the garden stockholders filed a bill for receivership, naming Mann and Max Kay as defendants and alleging that they had appropriated the company's money and property by "large and expensive banquets, intended to secure Mann influence and safety from prosecution for violating the law." The receivership was granted.

Loses All His Interest.

The garden operated for a time in receivership as a convention and exposition hall and, in November, 1929, was sold to Uptown Enterprises, Inc. The sale completely eliminated Mann from connection with the garden he had built.

Mann was prominent among Mayor Thompson's guests on his deep waterway junket to New Orleans in the spring of 1928.

Thereafter Mann drifted into comparative obscurity. At his home his grieving widow, his son, and his brother, Gustave Mann, puzzled last night over the reason for his act. Al Mann said his father had showed no despondency nor had been worried about health or finances.

A marathon dance has been in progress for the last few weeks at Rainbo garden. At 11 o'clock last night, the hour when the nightly radio program of the marathon goes on the air, the dance music ceased for one minute and fourteen weary marathon teams paused on the floor which once was thronged by hundreds.

It was a final tribute to Fred Mann.

OFFICIALS WILL MAP COURSE FOR GRAND JURY RACKET INQUIRY

State's Attorney Swanson, Chief Justice McGoorty of the Criminal court and Solomon T. Kiddoo, foreman of the October grand jury, will meet today to discuss procedure to be followed by the grand jury in hearing evidence bearing upon crime and rackets and the police department. The state's attorney is expected to suggest a course of action.

It was reported at the Criminal court yesterday that the grand jury wishes particularly to learn how a secret list of hoodlums whom the police planned to arrest, was taken from the police files to a South Wabash avenue hotel, where it was found by federal agents under the pillow of a Capone bondsman. Thus far the only action taken by the police department in the matter has been the transfer of Capt. John Ryan from his post as acting deputy chief of detectives to the miscellaneous division.

Tony Tagenti, the bondsman, was not questioned as to how the list came into his possession when he was taken to the detective bureau.

DAVID DEFENDS REFUSAL TO TRY GUN TOTERS

Judge Joseph B. David, who was criticized Tuesday by State's Attorney Swanson for refusing to try gun toting cases in his court, defended his action yesterday. Judge David had stated that such cases, being misdemeanors, should be tried in the Municipal court and not on indictment in the Criminal court.

"The county jail is overcrowded," said Judge David yesterday, "and I am trying from ten to fifteen criminal court cases every day in an effort to ameliorate this condition. Criminal court judges should not have their calendars crowded still further with misdemeanor cases."

Worshipers Flee When Flames Damage Church

Flames, discovered in the attic of the St. Isadore Polish Catholic church at Wood street and Burr Oak avenue, Blue Island, last evening, shortly after vesper services had begun, drove 200 persons to the street and caused $9,000 damage to the building. The building is of frame construction and is nearly 30 years old. The Rev. T. J. Nowack, the pastor, said the origin of the blaze was not known.

Irish Emigration to U. S. Falls to New Record Low

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

DUBLIN, Irish Free State, Oct. 8.—Emigration from Ireland to the United States has fallen to the lowest figure yet recorded, the American consul general at Dublin said today. This is due partly to warnings from Irishmen in America in regard to unemployment conditions there.

Two Are Injured in Crash Returning "Stolen" Plane

Detroit, Mich., Oct. 8.—(AP)—A police detective was near death tonight and an airplane pilot seriously injured as the result of a crash which occurred late today while they were returning a supposedly stolen airplane from Mount Clements, Mich., to Detroit for safekeeping pending determination of its ownership.

GORMAN LOSES ROUND IN FIGHT TO DISBAR HIM

New Commissioner Denied by Supreme Court.

The Illinois Supreme court yesterday denied the petition of John J. Gorman, former congressman, for the appointment of a commissioner other than Roswell B. Mason to preside at the hearing of the disbarment proceedings against him. Gorman was one of Mayor Thompson's leaders in the fight to oust William McAndrew from his post as superintendent of schools.

Gorman asked for a change in commissioner on the grounds that while in congress he had denounced the English Speaking union, of which Mason is a member. The court had previously denied Gorman's motion to dismiss the charges against him.

Brought by Bar Association.

The disbarment proceedings were brought by the Chicago Bar association following an investigation of Gorman's case by the association's grievance committee, of which Benjamin Langworthy is chairman.

Former Congressman Gorman was the chief investigator of allegedly anti-American school history textbooks. His examination of texts followed the mayor's campaign promise to "swat King George on the snoot," and the result of his investigations were reported by Gorman before the school board.

After the McAndrew trial was ended Prof. David Saville Muzzey of Columbia university, author of textbooks in which Gorman said he had found pro-British propaganda, filed a libel suit for $100,000 against Gorman. The suit was dismissed when Gorman issued a formal statement declaring that he had never read the textbooks complained of and that the testimony he gave against McAndrew was really the work of another individual.

All to Halt Suit.

The bar association's petition stated that Gorman was asked by the grievance committee to explain this retraction and that Gorman had replied that the retraction itself was false and was made simply to get rid of the law suit.

Summing up Gorman's conduct in the case, the bar association declared that it was unprofessional and dishonorable; that it denotes a lack of good moral character; that it is calculated to bring the courts of justice into disrepute and contempt, and to tarnish the good name and fame of the legal profession."

COL. C. J. KRAFT TO GO ON TRIAL NOVEMBER 19

Faces Graft Charge in Guard Scandal.

Col. Charles J. Kraft, former commander of the 202d coast artillery, Illinois National Guard, will go to trial on Nov. 19 in the federal court on charges of embezzling federal funds at the Broadway armory. This date was set yesterday when Kraft was arraigned and pleaded not guilty before Federal Judge Wham.

Assistant United States Attorney James C. Leaton, who has been in charge of the Kraft inquiry and who charged at the time of the indictment in July that the loss of federal and state funds was about $200,000, asked for an immediate trial. Nov. 19 was the earliest date available, however.

Two Officers Resign.

Another development yesterday in the most recent of Illinois National Guard scandals was the announcement by Col. Charles C. Dawes, Kraft's successor, that the resignations of two officers of the 202d anti-aircraft unit have been "accepted for the good of the service."

When asked about reports that two other officers are slated to go, Col. Dawes replied that there might be more than two, but said he could only release the names of those whose resignations have been accepted. They are Capt. Herbert B. Muehlhausen, the adjutant of the unit, and Maj. Perry A. Lyon, commander of the 1st, or gun battalion.

"I hope to make the 202d one of the best regiments in the Guard," said Col. Dawes. "Being an anti-aircraft unit, it is one of the most interesting, and I believe it has enough good men to make it one of the best.

Acts on Recommendations.

"In reorganizing the unit, I am following the recommendations of federal authorities, who have made an exhaustive investigation of its affairs."

Assistant Prosecutor Leaton is devoting his entire time to preparation of evidence for the Kraft trial. The attitude of the government in prosecuting the case, observers have pointed out, is in marked contrast to that of state authorities, who to date have taken no action, either criminal or civil, although the loss to the state is alleged to have been $100,000.

Reports that high officials of the guard exerted pressure on the regular army officers to have Arthur R. Johnson, army investigator, removed from the Kraft inquiry, and later to obtain his demotion, led to a war department investigation of the action of Col. C. L. Corbin, Johnson's superior, in assigning him to a clerical position. Johnson was reinstated.

There were further reports that federal investigators requested that two other officers besides Col. Kraft be relieved of their commands, but that Maj. Gen. Roy D. Keehn, commander of the Guard, later announced that only Kraft would be suspended.

TRAYLOR SAYS U. S. MUST SAVE TO CURE TRADE DEPRESSION

Spending as a panacea for the present business depression was denounced last night by Melvin A. Traylor, president of the First National bank, at the annual convention dinner of the Fidelity Investment association in the Hotel Sherman. He warned that the American people must learn to save in order to spend and that spending without saving was the prime cause of depression.

"A year or two ago we were told that a new era had dawned," Mr. Traylor said. "We were told to use the great credit of American resources and to buy against future income in order to foster prosperity. But this has proved a false doctrine. Now we have awakened from this jazz era of the last few years. We have learned that we can live only by work and that debts must be paid.

"Only by saving and working can we maintain the great prosperity of the American people and only by investment can we maintain our economic system, the most favorable for all the people that the world has ever known, against the veils of socialism and the disintegration of communism."

Other speakers were John Marshall, former United States assistant attorney general; Carmi Thompson, former United States treasurer; and Homer J. Buckley.

NO VERDICT ON RUM YET FRO WICKERSH

Chairman Evasive Crime Body Meets

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Oct. 8.—(special.)—George W. Wickersham, chairman of the Hoover law enforcement commission, for a half hour underwent a rapid fire cross questioning by newspaper men as to what the commission is going to do about prohibition. He did not make a definite commitment.

The commission has labored for a year and a half. It has had appropriations totaling $500,000 made available to it by congress. Accordingly Mr. Wickersham, it has not yet decided whether it is authorized to report on the wisdom of enforceability of the prohibition laws.

"Prohibition has been one of the main subjects we have to deal with and we are working on it," said Mr. Wickersham. "But the commission has reached no conclusion. We will get a report ready as soon as we can, but we have an immense amount of material before us. Anything we now would be premature."

Members in Fall Meeting.

Mr. Wickersham submitted the interview following the first full meeting of the commission. At the meeting he said, a report on prohibition prepared by various experts was submitted and discussed by the commission members, all of whom were present. He added that prohibition will be discussed again tomorrow and probably at meetings every day this week. He said that he had "hope," but was not sure, that a partial report could be transmitted to congress early in December.

He refused to discuss reports that the commission is badly split on the dry law issue, explaining that he sought no quarrel with the commission members.

"Do you have any idea as to the prohibition sentiments of the individual members?" Mr. Wickersham was asked.

He Sidesteps Again.

"I won't say in detail what I intend to say in general," he replied. "I have got a question respecting which there is great public interest. To answer by the wayside and say what A. B. or C thought about it would be foolishness. I don't want to be led into making a prediction as to the report of the commission for the obvious reason that I can't. It must be worked out in the wash."

Mr. Wickersham told a house committee last spring that he believed that if the commission found the dry laws unenforceable it should so report. He emphasized today that his views was only an individual opinion, though he believed the commission should conform to the requirements of the act of congress, which authorizes it to "conduct an inquiry into the problem of the enforcement of the prohibition laws."

"How do you interpret the act of congress?" was asked.

Refuses Direct Reply.

"That's another matter," he answered. "There are eleven different people on this commission, you know."

"Is that act ambiguous then?"

"It is not ambiguous, but you can give it a broad or a narrow interpretation."

Asked if his experience on the commission had changed his view on prohibition, Mr. Wickersham said he would not answer, but added, with a smile: "I've never been a wet and never a dry. I have been characterized as a moist. Naturally, I am a strong supporter of the laws of the country and I believe so long as the law stands it should be enforced."

The chairman quoted from a speech made in Chicago last August citing statistics of the Travelers Insurance company showing that 10 cities in the last ten years ranked for intoxication and liquor law

I have been characterized as a moist. Naturally, I am a strong supporter of the laws of my country and I believe so long as a law stands it should be enforced."

The chairman quoted from his speech made in Chicago last August, using statistics of the Travelers' Insurance company showing that in 88 cities in the last ten years arrests for intoxication and liquor law offenses have increased 161 per cent, as compared with 212 per cent for robbery, burglary, and larcency, and 334 per cent for traffic offenses. This, he said, indicated that the crime wave is not confined to violation of the prohibition laws.

Blames War in Part.

Discussing the costs and causes of crime, two of the other subjects the commission is studying, Mr. Wickersham laid a part of the blame for current lawlessness upon the world war.

After the civil war, he said, "the adventurous young men went west and we had the familiar tales of bank and train robberies, but after this war there was no wild west for them to go to, and they became hold-up men and racketeers."

URGE CAUTION IN USE OF RADIUM TO CURE CANCER

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, Oct. 8.—That radium is not yet established as a cure for cancer and is at the present a very dangerous weapon which will do more harm than good unless used with the greatest care is the caution and warning contained in the first annual report of the radium commission issued today. The report emphasized also that it could not too strongly deprecate the creation of false hopes on the value and efficacy of radium treatment in disease.

The report declares that after many years of world-wide experience the best that can be said is that some of the results under certain conditions were very satisfactory, while others, for no clearly established reason, were less so, while in a considerable proportion of cases the results were either inconclusive or definitely disappointing.

"This does not, however, justify a pessimistic outlook, and many problems yet unsolved may yield to experienced research," said the commission, which considers that at least five years of further experience and coordinated research will probably be required before any final verdict can be anticipated.

Orders Permits for Depot Work Withheld

Commissioner of Public Works Wolfe was advised yesterday by Corporation Counsel Ettelson to withhold the issuing of permits to the Chicago and Western Indiana railroad for sewer and water connections to the new freight house which the railroad is constructing at State and Polk streets. Construction of the building has been fought by a number of south side civic organizations on the ground that tracks leading to the new building should be removed.

Egon Hoenle, 5 years old, who traveled alone from Bremen, Germany, arrived in Chicago yesterday afternoon over the Pennsylvania railroad and was met at the station by his father and mother. ADVISES CLOSER STUDY TO REDUCE AUTO ACCIDENTS

Dr. W. A. Evans, health editor of THE TRIBUNE, as the main speaker at a meeting of the Chicago Safety council last night, advised that those engaged in the prevention of traffic accidents should make a closer analytical study of the causes of those accidents, just as the medical profession in its health work concentrates upon the causes of sickness in prescribing treatment.

Ten year old Thomas Michols, 3553 Archer avenue, was fatally injured last night when he ran from behind a street car into the path of a taxicab at 22d and Miller streets. He died shortly after being taken to St. Anthony's hospital. The cab driver, Fred Hillman, 1809 South Central Park avenue, was held.

This death and one other increased the Cook county motor toll for 1930 to 792.

Walter Zgarzelski, 50 years old, 8809 Muskegon avenue, died in the county hospital of injuries incurred last Sunday when he ran in front of the auto of Mrs. Pauline Filter, 6139 South Morgan street, at South Chicago avenue and 76th street.

The police searched in vain yesterday for the motorist who fled after his car, speeding at 50 miles an hour, struck and killed Albert Robbins, Nicholas Senn High school athlete, at Broadway and Granville avenue early yesterday morning.

Britain Gives Chinese Indemnity for Education

LONDON, Oct. 8.—(AP)—The foreign office announced today that Great Britain, by agreement with the Chinese foreign minister, would remit all payments of Britain's share of the Chinese indemnity of 1901, amounting to about $25,000,000, to the Chinese government. The latter will apply the money to the creation of an educational endowment.

THIS $4,200,000 SWINDLE CAUSES NATION TO LAUGH

7 Years to Build Tunnel That's Already Built.

BY EGBERT SWENSON.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

VIENNA, Oct. 8.—The world's slickest, largest scale, and perhaps funniest swindle has just been discovered in Rumania. A construction company spent several years digging a tunnel for the state railways, drawing down $660,000 annually for several years, and finally dedicating it with much speechmaking and banqueting.

It has just been discovered that the construction company did not build the tunnel. The tunnel was already there before the construction company started "operations." The tunnel was, as a matter of fact, dug in 1917, during the world war, by Austrian and Hungarian troops as part of the Rodna-Dorna Watra railroad, a short strategic line for use in operations against the Russians. They failed to quite finish it.

So the Tunnel Is "Built."

After the war the Rumanian state railways, recognizing the military railway line of Rodna-Dorna Watra as having peace time value, decided to place it in commission. They let a contract to that end without first making an adequate inventory of what already had been completed on the railroad and what remained to be done. They let a contract for digging a tunnel of considerable length—a tunnel which already existed.

The contractors went to work, ordered excavating machinery, workmen, steam shovel drills, and whatnot—all on paper. It is a long tunnel and would normally take a long time to build. So the contractors accepted the annual grants of the annual appropriations of the state railways for seven years. Then they decided it was about time to dedicate the tunnel.

Then Some One Tattles.

They sent invitations to the state railways management, to government notables, to foreign diplomats, to newspaper men, inviting them to come out to the woods where they had "built" the magnificent new tunnel and help inaugurate it. There were banquets and there was speechmaking. Everybody was happy over the completion of such a splendid and difficult piece of work. There was much back slapping and mutual admiration.

Everything looked good for a while. But then somebody tattled. And now the entire construction company is behind jail bars, while all of Rumania laughs—with more or less a wry face—at the discomfiture of the state railways management in Bucharest. The total loss to the government amounts to $4,200,000.

AMENDED AIRPORT LEASE APPROVED BY CITY SCHOOL BOARD

The amended lease of 558 acres of Clearing school fund property at 63d street and Cicero avenue to the city for the enlarging of the Municipal airport was approved by the board of education yesterday. The lease in its present form will be submitted to the city council Nov. 5.

The agreement on the new lease will permit construction of an up to date airport to replace the present "one track" field with the $450,000 bond issue already voted. Previous objections to the lease, voiced by the corporation counsel's office, were ironed out at a series of special meetings. The lease is to run for fifty years, starting Jan. 1, 1931, at a graduated rental with a reappraisement at the end of twenty years.

BRITAIN TO FIGHT UNEMPLOYMENT BY FARM DOLES

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, Oct. 8.—Large scale resettlement on soil was revealed today by Dr. Christopher Addison, minister of agriculture, at the Labor party conference at Llandudno as part of the Labor party's scheme for dealing with unemployment.

Dr. Addison declared that 1,000,000 fewer persons are in agricultural pursuits than 50 years ago and that the government intended to redress this situation by taking measures to acquire large areas of land for settlement by small holders, who would be helped with advice on cultivation and marketing.

The government also purposes to assist agriculture by setting up marketing boards, which would prevent market gluts and eliminate brokers and middlemen, who now are charged with giving no real service, but with taking a large toll of the farmers' earnings.

3,030,000 German Jobless; 1,494,000 Live on Dole

At the end of September the total was 3,030,000, of which 1,494,000 were on dole and 472,000 were receiving "crisis" support. About 500,000 more were dependent on welfare organizations and the remainder were unaided. It is estimated that the jobless figures will mount another million during the coming months.

NAVY TRIMS ITS EXPENSES NEXT TWENTY MONTHS

Combat Ships to Pacific; Cut Enlistment.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Oct. 8. — [Special.] — Important changes in the navy's operating plans for the next twenty months were announced today by Secretary of the Navy Adams and Admiral William V. Pratt, chief of naval operations. They provide for placing all American combat battleships on the Pacific, the organization of a new training squadron, reorganization of the air forces afloat, reduction of naval enlisted personnel by 4,800 men, and the disposal and laying up of forty-three submarines and destroyers now with the scouting and battle fleets.

The revisions were prompted by continued White House pressure for economy, a desire on the part of the administration to make the fleet conform as nearly as possible to the limitations of the London naval treaty, and Admiral Pratt's personal desire to make changes in the interest, he explained, of greater efficiency.

When Reductions Will Hit.

Personnel cuts would be effected buy curtailing recruiting, for which the monthly limit will be reduced from 400 to 200 on Nov. 1. Reductions in numbers of ships will be obtained through speeding up the scrapping provision by the London treaty, so that the submarine tonnage in the American fleet will be reduced to just below the 52,700 permitted by the treaty as rapidly as possible, and through laying up destroyers. A total of twenty-three submarines, sixteen destroyers and two mine layers will be laid up. The size of destroyer divisions will be reduced from six to four.

The fleet revision plan leaves the battle fleet on the Pacific, retains the scouting fleet in the Atlantic, and calls for organization of a training squadron on the Atlantic composed of two battleships and eight destroyers, all to operate with reduced complements.

Battle Fleet as Revised.

The battle fleet under the new arrangement will have all the battleships outside the training squadron. The battleship will be the backbone of this fleet, which will be composed of only the best ships, outside of 8 inch gun cruisers, in the whole fleet. The 10,000 ton 8 inch gun cruisers will furnish the major offensive vessels for the scouting fleet. The Arkansas and Wyoming, 12 inch gun battleships, will serve with the training squadron. The Wyoming must be converted into a training ship under the terms of the London treaty.

The air forces afloat will be reorganized so that instead of a commander, aircraft squadrons, battle fleet and scouting fleet, there will be a commander, carrier divisions and the whole fleet. Air forces afloat will be divided into divisions, the Saratoga and Lexington, aircraft carriers, and the Gannet, aircraft tender forming the division assigned to battle fleet; the second division, consisting of the Langley, obsolete carrier and three tenders, going to the scouting fleet.

ALD. MEYERING TELLS DRYS HE IS VERY WET

Explains His Stand After Indorsement.

BY PARKE BROWN.

Ald. William D. Meyering, Democratic nominee for sheriff, announced yesterday that he did not care to receive votes coming to him through any belief that he has subscribed to the principles of the Anti-Saloon league.

As spokesman for the voters' clearing house, Dr. Shailer Mathews, dean of the divinity school of the University of Chicago, made public the indorsements of local candidates by the constituent units of the new organization, among them being the Anti-Saloon league. Included in the list of those recommended was Ald. Meyering.

The nominee immediately wrote to Dr. Mathews, copies of the letter being sent to the newspapers, saying that he didn't want any misunderstanding to exist as to his attitude toward prohibition.

Opposed to Dry Law.

"I am glad to know," he wrote, "that my record in the city council has met the approval of the many earnest organizations represented and that their 300,000 members will be urged directly to vote for me.

"It occurs to me, however, that some of the men and women so advised, as well as others, might gain a wrong impression from the fact that one of your organization's many constituent units is the Anti-Saloon league.

"It is of record that I never have straddled an issue nor sought to advance my own interests by silence or evasion, even when they would so avail. In all my public utterances on the subject I have stood flatly in opposition to the 18th amendment and the Volstead act and as the nominee of the Democratic party for sheriff, favor in its entirety my party's emphatic platform against the prohibition measures now in force.

Credits Stand Against Gangsters.

"I feel it would not be honest of me to accept support, much as I need it and value it, that might be given under a misapprehension that I had subscribed to the doctrines of the Anti-Saloon league.

"Of course, with no dry candidate in the field, I can readily believe that my well known stand against gangsters and extortionists was accepted as sincere and that careful investigation convinced those making it that I have no affiliations which would handicap me in using the full power of the sheriff's office to maintain that stand vigorously."

Speaking at the regular Wednesday luncheon of the Democratic county organization at the Hotel Sherman, Francis X. Busch, former corporation counsel, urged his hearers to rebuke the city hall in the election.

Seek Patronage, Claim.

"When the rank and file of the Republican voters realize that the election of the Democratic county and state tickets will be the death blow to the city hall machine," he said, "you will not have to urge them to support your candidates.

"Once they realize that the city hall is making an effort to elect certain of its favorites in order that the patronage of the offices to which they aspire may be used to renominate the present mayor, they will see to it that none of these favorites is elected."

A statement from Democratic headquarters said that the local leaders were "withholding judgment" on Tuesday's registration until after the canvass next Saturday. But Chairman Snow of the Republican county committee issued a statement saying the registration was auspicious for his party.

"The heavy registration was in the Hyde Park, Rogers Park, Edgewater, and Austin wards," he said. "The Democratic wards showed small registrations, indicating an entire lack of Democratic effort and sentiment."

Church Federation Appeals for Dry Referendum Votes

BY THE REV. JOHN EVANS.

The Chicago Church federation yesterday urged all drys to vote on the prohibition referendum. This is the second time within a week that the Anti-Saloon league policy for drys to ignore the referendum has been rejected. Last Monday the Rock River conference of the Methodist Episcopal church, meeting at Wilmette, urged drys to vote despite the plea of the Rev. George B. Safford, Illinois league superintendent, against dry participation in the poll.

Yesterday's meeting of the trustees of the church federation, held at the Hotel La Salle, had been called primarily to consider the report of the federation's crime investigation committee. The report had previously been passed by the commission on political action, and yesterday the commission presented the document—consisting of about 800 words—to the trustees for final action. When and if passed by the trustees, the report will become the official voice of the federation composed of 800 churches and 17 denominations.

"Modifications" to Be Made.

But the report did not pass the trustees at yesterday's meeting. It was sent to the executive committee of the trustees "with power to act." The Rev. Phillip Yarrow, chairman of the political action commission, following the meeting, said the trustees, under the presidency of Dean Shailer Mathews, had suggested certain "verbal changes." Others, however, spoke against the sensational character of much of the report. Dean Mathews announced that "certain modifications would be made on the report before it would be passed."

The report was introduced following a preliminary committee statement read by Dr. Yarrow pointing to "the growing curse of gambling in the metropolitan area" and asked for steps looking toward its abatement. "We draw attention to the fact that on the streets through various news stands the laws against gambling are flagrantly violated. As this matter has been drawn to the attention of the Newspaper Publishers' association, through our commission, we ask why the violations have not been stopped?" the introduction continued.

The introduction also said the political action commission had failed to arrive at a decision about the dry referendum. The matter, it was stated, came up at the last meeting of the commission and "owing to differences of opinion it was deemed wise to lay the matter on the table."

The trustees yesterday decided that the referendum was not a matter to remain on the table. They took it up at the instance of the women's division of the federation which offered a resolution that urged drys to vote dry in the poll. The resolution also condemned such a referendum as "an unscrupulous political trick designed to befog the minds of voters and for the direct purpose of affording a smoke screen for candidates for office who are unwilling to stand squarely for prohibition."

Seek Dry Showing in Chicago.

It was admitted in the resolution that prohibition referenda provide a basis "for further effective wet propaganda" should states vote wet. It also pointed out that such polls weaken efforts of law enforcement agencies in regard to liquor. On the other hand, it was argued that a good dry showing in Chicago would greatly hearten reform advocates.

Following Dr. Yarrow's introduction to the crime report, the Rev. Frank E. Jensen, chairman of the crime inquiry committee, read the document. After heated debate it was referred to the executive committee of the trustees. This committee will meet next Tuesday and make final disposition of what has been called by the federation leaders a disturbing matter.

Asks $100,000 Alimony from Auto Sales Official

Asking for an alimony settlement of $100,000, Mrs. Lillian Goodwin, 33 years old, 1718 Ainslie street, yesterday filed suit for separate maintenance in the Superior court against Earl F. Goodwin, an official of an auto sales company at 6035 Broadway. Mrs. Goodwin's bill, drawn by Attorney Barratt O'Hara, charges infidelity, desertion and drunkenness. The couple were married Jan. 5, 1915, and separated last August. They have one son.

Washington, D. C., Oct. 8.—[Special.]—Juggling of treasury figures for political purposes was charged today in a statement issued through the Democratic national committee by Representative J. W. Byrns [Dem., Tenn.], ranking minority member of the house appropriations committee.

"The administration now is attempting to create a fictitious surplus by withdrawing from the sinking fund sums legally required for the reduction of the public debt," said Mr. Byrns.

"This being a congressional election year the administration realized that it would not be politically profitable to the Republican party to show a large deficit on the threshold of the election, and to avoid such a blunder the sinking fund is used to meet ordinary running expenses of the government."

LOTTIE O'NEILL RAPS RIVALS ON DRY LAW STAND

Charges Mrs. McCormick Deserted Drys.

Bloomington, Ill., Oct. 8.—[Special.]—Lottie Holman O'Neill, independent candidate for the United States senate, spoke here tonight and assailed both Ruth Hanna McCormick, her Republican opponent, and James Hamilton Lewis, Democrat, in their stand on prohibition.

"The senatorial race is divided into two sections," Mrs. O'Neill said. "Wetness is represented openly by Col. James Hamilton Lewis. I, as the independent candidate, represent the drys of the state. Mrs. McCormick, according to her own words, is dry. But actions speak louder than words! In binding herself to the referendum of the wets, she has proved, in effect, to be as wet as the Democratic nominee.

Leads Drys, She Says.

"Prohibition has never before faced such a critical situation in Illinois," Mrs. O'Neill asserted. "The drys of this state have no one for whom to vote but the independent candidate. They have been betrayed by the Republican nominee, who played into the hands of the soaking wet city hall gang of Chicago.

Mrs. O'Neill stated that a vote for Mrs. McCormick would unquestionably be a wasted vote, indicating her belief that if elected the Republican candidate would not be seated.

Says Mrs. McCormick Will Be Barred.

"It is reasonable to assume that the senate will proceed against Mrs. McCormick just as they did against Mr. Newberry. Indeed there is hardly a doubt but that she will be denied a seat, even if elected.

Mrs. O'Neill maintained that every vote she cast in the legislature was constructive.

"I supported every measure to help the farmer and the laboring man," she said. "I introduced the eight hour law for women. I likewise supported every educational and law enforcement measure. I have never wavered one jot in my dryness. I ask only that every voter will compare my record with the records of Mrs. McCormick and Col. Lewis."

DORAN ASKS AID OF BARBER SUPPLY ASSN. TO HALT BOOTLEGGING

Addressing the National Beauty and Barber Supply Dealers' association at the Palmer house yesterday, James M. Doran, commissioner of industrial alcohol, sought the aid of legitimate users of alcohol to stop bootlegging.

Mr. Doran pointed out that bootlegging concerns sell their toilet goods at a low price, provided the purchasers give them receipts for larger amounts than are delivered. By this means, they are able to divert alcohol to bootleg channels, and the legitimate manufacturers suffer from unfair competition, he said.

"I feel that conditions are much better than they were a few years ago, and they will continue to improve with the coöperation of your association," said the alcohol commissioner.

MEXICO CABINET MEMBER QUITS IN POLITICAL ROW

MEXICO CITY, Oct. 8.—(AP)—Luis Leon, secretary of industry, commerce and labor, resigned tonight, after the city had heard numerous rumors for a week that cabinet changes were impending. Aaron Saenz, at present secretary of education, was selected to succeed Leon.

The information was given out by Gen. Carlos Riva Palacio, secretary of the interior, who said there would be no more changes in the ministry. He added that Gen. Plutarco Elias Calles, who at Monterey Sunday declared that the government must be purged of disloyal factions, was expected here Saturday.

The cabinet member quit after the resignation of Emilio Portes Gil, former president, as head of the national revolutionary party. The party chief's resignation gave life to the rumors of political unrest which have been current for several weeks. Portes Gil's retirement as head of the dominant political party came unexpectedly last night. He explained that poor health had prompted it and that he would return to the private practice of law in Tampico.

G. O. P. Sheriff Candidate of Sangamon County Dies

Springfield, Ill., Oct. 8.—[Special.]—Harry J. Schoettker, Republican nominee for sheriff of Sangamon county, died at a local hospital this afternoon following an illness of ten days.

PASTOR, RUNNING FOR CONGRESS AS A WET, HITS HULL

Charges Peorian Deserted G. O. P. Platform.

Peoria, Ill., Oct. 8.—[Special.]—The Rev. Edwin S. Carr, running as a wet Democrat against Congressman W. E. Hull, a former distiller who voted for the Jones 5 and 10 law, today charged that his opponent had deserted the Republican state platform.

This was his reply to a statement by Representative Hull explaining his attitude on the wet and dry referendum of Nov. 4.

"The Republican party by its platform," said Dr. Carr, "pledges its representatives in congress to vote consistently to carry out fully the expressed will of the people of their districts in the referendum. The platform does not refer to a majority. The inference is that their candidates are pledged according to the vote directly upon the propositions.

"Hull, who was elected as a wet, voted for the modification of the Volstead act. You ask how and I say he voted to modify the Volstead law when he voted for the Jones 5 and 10 amendment thereto. You will recall that since Mr. Hull has represented this district there have been two referenda on prohibition. Each time the voters of this district returned a large majority for the referendum. Did Mr. Hull give ear? Did he then respond to the will of the voters? O, yes, by voting for the Jones 5 and 10 amendment.

"If the prohibition question has no business in politics, as Mrs. McCormick maintains, then let us have done with it by returning it to the states. Let the people exercise local option in the interest of true temperance.

"I committed myself to the doctrine of local option on the prohibition question long prior to the inception of my candidacy and I now pledge myself irrevocably in the event of my election to work and vote for the repeal of the eighteenth amendment and for modification of the Volstead law."

PAPER OWNED BY HANNA OUT FOR DEMOCRAT

Cleveland, O. Oct. 7.—(AP)—The Cleveland News, published by descendants of Marcus Alonzo Hanna, famous Republican leader, came out editorially today in support of Robert J. Bulkley, Democratic candidate for United States senator.

The News, traditionally Republican, announced it would support Bulkley because the Republicans had failed to adopt the newspaper's suggestion that the party place a prohibition reform candidate in the field in the primary.

Manor

Prior to the industrial revolution the manorial system was in vogue over the civilized world. The lord of the manor held complete sway. His right was a right of land. Life and death is no longer the land-owner's province, but to this day a land-owner commands the respect of his fellows as does no other. Land is the basis of all wealth.

HOOVER TALKS OFFER NOTHIN LEWIS ASSER

Criticizes Attitude of President

BY ARTHUR EVANS

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

East St. Louis, Ill., Oct. 8.—[Special.]—James Hamilton Lewis, democratic nominee for senator, tonight assailed President Hoover's speeches at Boston and Kings Mountain. He characterized them as being the "doctrine of despair" to an audience largely composed of industrial workers.

Mr. Lewis declared President Hoover struck a discouraging note for soldiers and farmers, instead of a constructive hope. "The effect the Hoover addresses," he said, "would encourage every calculating demagogue."

"I speak to a citizenship," Mr. Lewis, "that is representative of the occupations and interests of Illinois. To this I protest that it is unfortunate that the President of the United States should have given such a discouraging note to the citizens of the republic at the Labor meeting in Boston, and to the toilers assembled in Boston and to the citizens in general in his address at Kings Mountain.

"In his speeches the President tells the soldier that he has a right to maintain his country and to criticisms of its institutions and to elect himself the favored son of a generous nation and be content.

Finds No Word of Hope.

"The President gave not one word of hope or one promise of relief to the maimed, desolate soldier out of employment or one word of cheer to the maimed bodies and broken lives existing in the hospitals for medical aid, while their families have no means of support.

"In his speech to the federation of labor at Boston, with no sympathy for the situation that is now oppressing the toilers, he dismissed the subject of their nonemployment by telling them that if machinery or circumstances of invention had put them out of employment they should learn some other job, and, without complaint, make their living, saying that the whole issue was to hold the job. How can these men learn new jobs when other all jobs? How could these men get jobs when there were no jobs to get, and when poverty, hunger and disease meat from their homes threatened them?"

Criticizes "37 Commissions."

Mr. Lewis declared President Hoover, while "reproaching the farmer for 'bureaucracy' in relief projects, at the same time has set up 37 bureaus or commisions as necessary to carry out policy.

"In the speech at Kings Mountain," Mr. Lewis continued, "the President refers to the farmer and his plea, which for years he has sent to congress, asking for some equalization of the burdens put upon him by favored legislation given privileged interests.

"The President characterized the struggling claimants for justice as representing a tyranny and a bureaucracy, as though they were the bolshevists of our land."

Criticizes Attitude of the President.

(Chicago Tribune Press Service.)

East St. Louis, Ill., Oct. 8.—[Special.]—James Hamilton Lewis, Democratic nominee for senator, tonight assailed President Hoover's three speeches at Boston and Kings Mountain. He characterized them as breathing the "doctrine of despair" before an audience largely composed of industrial workers.

Mr. Lewis declared President Hoover struck a discouraging note for soldiers, idlers, and farmers, instead of voicing a constructive hope. "The effect of the Hoover addresses," he said, "would encourage every calculating scoundrel."

"I speak to a citizenship," said Mr. Lewis, "that is representative of the occupations and interests of all Illinois. To this I protest that it was unfortunate that the President of the United States should have struck such a discouraging note to the soldiers of the republic at the Legion meeting in Boston, and to the union toilers assembled in Boston and to the citizens in general in his speech at Kings Mountain.

"In his speeches the President first tells the soldier that he has a duty to maintain his country and to defeat criticisms of its institutions and to consider himself the favored son of a generous nation and be content.

Finds No Word of Hope.

"The President gave not one word of hope or one promise of relief to the maimed, desolate soldier out of employment or one word of cheer to the maimed bodies and broken lives waiting in the hospitals for medical care while their families have no means of support.

"In his speech to the federation of labor at Boston, with no sympathy to the situation that is now oppressing the toilers, he dismissed the subject of their nonemployment by telling them that if machinery or circumstances of invention had put them out of employment they should learn some other job, and, without complaining, make their living, saying that the real issue was to hold the job. How could these men learn new jobs when out of all jobs? How could these men hold jobs when there were no jobs to hold and when poverty, hunger and ejectment from their homes threaten them?"

Criticizes "37 Commissions."

Mr. Lewis declared President Hoover, while "reproaching the farmer for 'bureaucracy' in relief projects" at the same time has set up 37 bureaus or commissions as necessary to his policy.

"In the speech at Kings Mountain," Mr. Lewis continued, "the president refers to the farmer and his plea, which for years he has sent up to congress, asking for some equalization of the burdens put upon him by favored legislation given privileged interests.

"The President characterized these struggling claimants for justice as representing a tyranny and a bureaucracy, as though they were the bolsheviks of our land."

ISSUE WARRANTS FOR HUSBAND IN BRIDAL TRAGEDY

Wisconsin authorities procured two warrants yesterday for George W. E. Perry, bigamist, whose bride, Mrs. Cora Belle Hackett, was slain on a honeymoon trip with Perry three months ago at the Lac du Flambeau reservation of the Chippewa Indians, and whose body was found there by an Indian a week ago.

The first warrant, procured by District Attorney George O'Connor at Eagle River, Wis., charges Perry with the murder of Mrs. Hackett. The second, obtained by District Attorney George Bauman of Milwaukee, charges Perry with abandonment.

Perry was identified in Milwaukee yesterday as a man thrice married, with his first wife living there in poverty and his second living in Cleveland. Records show that Perry and wife No. 1 were married by Justice of the Peace Oscar Schwemmer in Milwaukee on Jan. 23, 1912.

Eight or ten years ago Perry was a Milwaukee laundry employé, according to the legal wife, Mrs. Mary Perry, and he later became a railroad brakeman. He left the railroad service following an injury to his right eye, over which a cataract has formed.

Perry, the wife said, had never given her money for support of herself and their three children, and had deserted her 14 months ago after their last child was born. While living with her he received letters from other women and told her that, if she opened them, he would kill her, the wife said.

Lake Co. (Ind.) Assessor Arrested on Fraud Charge

James Clements of East Chicago, assessor for North Township in Lake county, Ind., for 21 years, was arrested yesterday on charges of obtaining county funds by filing fraudulent claims. He was released on $10,000 bond. Clements' arrest followed his indictment by the grand jury at Crown Point.

DEMAND REMOVAL OF CANDIDATES' CAMPAIGN SIGNS

Civic Groups and Wolfe Take Action.

The campaign to remove the litter of posters and signs that have been placed on trolley poles and street light standards in the loop by candidates for public office in the November election yesterday received the support of two civic organizations. Indignation over the defacement of public and private property by the politicians was expressed by officials of the City club and the Woman's City club.

"The city code prohibits the pasting of campaign literature on public property," said Everett L. Millard, president of the City club. "Candidates who will undertake to support and uphold the laws of the city and state should not violate the law in their campaigns."

A committee is to be appointed by Mr. Millard to communicate with each candidate whose signs have been posted contrary to the law and demand that they be removed. Resolutions were adopted by the city beautiful committee of the Woman's City club denouncing the tactics of politicians of having their signs hung at night so that their workmen would not be caught.

Wolfe Orders Signs Removed.

Commissioner of Public Works Wolfe has struck at the practice of politicians in strewing their pictures and literature on public property from another angle. Orders have been given to Joseph J. Butler, acting superintendent of streets, to have city employés tear down the placards, and notices have been sent to political headquarters asking the candidates to refrain in the future from hanging their signs on public property.

Three crews of Chicago Surface Line employés, according to street car officials, have been working each night in the loop to remove political posters from the trolley poles. In a number of instances the signs have been hung so as to cover signal lights and thus become a menace to public safety. Officials said it is difficult to cope with the situation, as new signs are constantly appearing.

WINS PLEA

MRS. ELMERE CARON RHONE.

Mrs. Elmere Caron Rhone, 555 Briar place, yesterday appealed to Superior Judge John J. Sullivan for help in collecting $750 in back alimony from her former husband, Walter Rhone, an importer, of the De Witt hotel, 244 East Pearson street. In September, 1929, Mrs. Rhone won a divorce and $150 monthly alimony on the ground of cruelty. Judge Sullivan ordered Rhone to pay within a week or go to jail.

5 CHICAGOANS ARE INDICTED IN GRAPE CASE

Los Angeles, Cal., Oct. 8.—(AP)—Indictments charging the California Vineyards company and nine individuals, including five Chicago men, with conspiracy to violate the national prohibition act were returned today by the federal grand jury. Bonds of $5,000 were set in each case and deputy marshals in Los Angeles and Chicago ordered to arrest the defendants.

Those named were California Vineyards company Carl A. Futter, president; William J. Vaughn, former president; Calvin George, secretary; Zeno C. Futter, treasurer; M. J. Futter, vice president, all of Chicago; Thomas Stone, sales manager; A. G. Ericks, warehouse manager; J. W. Loweberg, salesman; and J. S. Payne, salesman, all of Los Angeles.

Prohibition officials said the defendants had an annual revenue of $5,000,000 from a nation-wide selling scheme, and the company supplied or prepared grape juice to 250,000 customers on the Pacific coast area alone.

MACHADO DEFIES CUBA FOES; SAYS HE'S STRONG MAN

Crowd Cheers President in Long Speech.

BY TOM PETTEY.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

HAVANA, Oct. 8.—President Machado, with Mussolinilike gestures, gave a demonstration of his control of the Cuban situation today in the auditorium of the palace before a hand picked crowd of 3,000 loyal government supporters, including the governors of six provinces and 123 mayors. The halls of the palace resounded with Latin American oratory, with suitable gestures, for more than two hours. Then President Machado struggled through the cheering mob to the palace steps, where he addressed another crowd of two thousand who were unable to find room inside.

PRESIDENT MACHADO.

President Machado's speech, his apparent disregard of all danger, and his mixing freely with the handshaking and backslapping throng has won him the title of "Mussolini of the Antilles."

Boasts He Is "Biggest Man."

In his address President Machado stressed the point that he was "the biggest man in Cuba."

"Cuba does not need a tyrant," he said. "Cuba has always hated a tyrant. I don't want to be a tyrant. If I have asked extraordinary measures it was to defend the institutions of the country. It has not been necessary to use them so far because I've got the public with me. The president of this republic has neither hates nor passions."

"You do not need the suspension of constitutional guarantees when you have a president who has what I have," President Machado cried. A deafening cheer came from the crowd. For the benefit of those outside of Cuba it was explained that President Machado meant that he had the support of the army and navy.

Rumor All Not Well in Army.

Nevertheless, in opposition circles here there is considerable doubt if all is well with the army. Rumors of wholesale shifting of officers, the removal of several from command, with a couple of days to get out of the country, are coming into Havana daily. These rumors are denied by President Machado.

Former President Mario Menocal is reported to be under careful governmental watch in his home here because of his known power in the Cuban army. It is said on good authority that if Señor Menocal ever asserts himself he will have the support of more than half of the military.

Asks New Electoral Census.

President Machado said at the beginning of his address:

"After Nov. 1 I will send a message to congress asking it to pass laws ordering a reorganization of the political parties and to take a new electoral census."

Opposition leaders tonight pointed out that that is exactly what all the trouble is about. They do not want any election held on Nov. 1, because, they say, that assures the present government of another five years in office, and party reorganization means nothing to them. What they want is a chance to campaign against President Machado now, and that is what they cannot have.

Plans an Investigation.

The president today told his audience that he would have a commission appointed to investigate all acts of the regimes of Presidents Menocal and Zayas as well as his own. He said he would order amnesty for Señor Menocal and Señor Zayas and their office holders if the commission turned up nothing detrimental against them. But, he said, if anything is found wrong, even his own government would be punished.

The opposition's reply tonight to this is that "we will all be wearing long beards before the commission gets anywhere."

REBELS WIN BRAZIL PORT

Brazilian revolutionists continued to make gains yesterday, capturing the important northern port of Pernambuco and beginning an offensive against Bahia. They also claimed to have been welcomed by the populace of the state of Espirito Santo.

BRAZIL'S REBELS WIN BIG PORT IN 48 HOUR BATTLE

which the communication does not identify. Whatever hopes may have existed a few days ago of arranging a peaceful solution have disappeared with the federal government's preparations for defense, and there seems no longer any doubt that Brazil is on the brink of the worst civil war yet seen in South America.

The federal government sent out statements today that it has sufficient forces to master the situation and would begin preparations to suppress the revolt regardless of cost.

The federal army is advancing in the state of Minas Geraes, but progress is slow because it is necessary to repair bridges and railroads as it advances. The federal government is depending on Sao Paulo to halt the advance of the southern revolutionists while it carries on a defensive against the northern rebels.

Plan Double Attack.

The southerners have announced the intention of flanking Sao Paulo with part of their forces and joining the rebels in Minas Geraes while other southern forces attack Sao Paulo from the south. In this they are favored by the fact that the southern half of Matto Grosso is disposed to join the revolt.

The fate of the federal government hangs largely on the attitude taken by the navy, which for several years has been trained by a large American naval mission. Admiral Belfort has been ordered to establish a base at Florianopolis for operations against the rebels in the south, and the latter in turn have closed the port of Rio Grande do Sul by sinking two large barges on a sandbar which closes the entrance, except at high tide.

Federals Drive Back Rebels.

[Copyright: 1930: By the New York Times.]

SAO PAULO, Brazil, Oct. 8.—The consensus of today's reports indicates that the federalists are now well consolidated and ready to carry out their military program, reducing the revolutionary forces of Minas Geraes and Rio Grande do Sul.

The revolutionists were met at Palmyra by a federal column and defeated, being pushed back towards Barbacena where it is possible they will take part in another engagement.

The seaport of Florianopolis is reported quiet with the citizenry loyal to the government representative, Gen. Nepumuceno Costa.

The 12th battalion of infantry, located at Bello Horizonte and which has been surrounded by revolutionists since the outbreak of hostilities, is reported heroically holding its position. This isolated group is supported by six pieces of mountain artillery.

Call Out Reserves.

The first and second classes of reservists, which include men up to 30 years, have been called out and their names published in the press this morning, ordering them to report to their respective mobilization points within 8 days. State police here have received a large number of applications from volunteers for service.

Rio de Janeiro and Sao Paulo streets are quiet with no disorders, although business is extremely quiet.

The consulate reports all Americans safe, although the power plant, which is owned by the Electric Bond and Share of Bahia was partially destroyed. The damage is estimated at $2,000,000. The trouble in Bahia is blamed on a small communistic group.

U. S. WATCHES BRAZIL REVOLT; 675 MILLION IN CAPITAL AT STAKE

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Oct. 8.—The extent of the American and European capital tied up in Brazilian investments has heightened the interest with which government officials are watching the progress of the revolutionary movement in Brazil.

The latest available figures place the amount of foreign capital in Brazil at $2,500,000,000, of which more than 600 millions represent American loans. Close to one-half of Brazil's foreign financial obligations are owed to Great Britain.

American investments in Brazil include federal, state and municipal loans of from 400 million to 450 million, manufacturing investments of from $40,000,000 to $50,000,000, public utility investments of from $90,000,000 to $110,000,000, and miscellaneous investments of from $45,000,000 to $65,000,000, a total of from 575 millions to 675 million dollars.

BRITISH EMPIRE REJECTS PLAN FOR FREE TRADE

Dominions Insist on Right to High Tariffs.

BY JOHN STEELE.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, Oct. 8.—Empire free trade was painlessly killed and buried at today's plenary session of the imperial conference, which was called to hear the economic proposals of the various states of the empire.

One after another the delegates condemned empire free trade and declared they had no intention of giving up the protection of their own growing industries for the sake of Great Britain. Of course, they did not put it as crudely as that, but that is what they meant. Moreover, they still have hopes that some way may be found to induce Great Britain to buy more of their agricultural products.

Britain Withholds Proposal.

The session was opened by J. H. Thomas, dominions secretary for Great Britain, who carefully refrained from making any proposals. He explained afterward that this was a matter of tactics and that Great Britain's proposals would be put forward after the other members of the commonwealth had laid their cards on the table.

Mr. Thomas' speech was a cry of distress, in which he gave facts and figures showing the decline of Great Britain's trade with the dominions and asked whether something could not be done about it. Not only Great Britain, but the world, he said, is in an "economic blizzard."

Mr. Thomas was followed by Prime Minister Bennett of Canada, who got down immediately to brass tacks.

Wants Market for Wheat.

"The primary concern of Canada today is to sell its wheat," he said. "We believe we shall be reaching toward a solution of the problem if we can establish a better market in Great Britain. That is the market we want, and for it we are willing to pay by giving, in the dominion market, a preference for British goods."

Then he made a definite offer to Great Britain and all the rest of the empire for preference in Canada in exchange for like preference in their markets, based on an increase of 10 per cent in all tariffs existing or to be created.

This, of course, was a bid for a British tariff on foreign food, against which the British government is pledged. Then came the fatal blow to empire free trade.

Free Trade Impossible.

"In our opinion empire free trade is neither desirable nor possible," Mr. Bennett said.

He concluded with a proposal that the conference agree on broad lines to his scheme, refer the details to expert committees and adjourn until a meeting in Ottawa early next year.

Prime Minister Scullin of Australia, who followed, also supported preference and, by implication condemned empire free trade, as did also Prime Minister Forbes of New Zealand.

H. C. Havenga, South African finance minister, said plainly that South Africa intended to stick to protection, but that it hoped to increase trade with Great Britain. Patrick MacGilligan, head of the Irish delegation, said that Ireland intended to go on developing her own industries, although she was likely for many years to come to be Great Britain's best customer.

Deadlock on Empire Tribunal.

A deadlock has been reached on the question of the proposed empire tribunal to settle legal disputes among the dominions, and unless some solution is found, it is likely that the proposal will be dropped. At yesterday's meeting the question was debated by the delegates, who took diametrically opposite views on the relations of the states of the empire with one another.

The Irish Free State delegates stated bluntly that they would have no use for an empire tribunal and in no circumstances would they surrender their right to appeal to The Hague court on any international dispute, whether between states of the British empire or with foreign countries.

They were backed up by South Africa and Australia. Canada was neutral, while New Zealand supported Great Britain.

WEST INDIES LEADER REJECTS PLAN FOR UNION WITH CANADA

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

MONTREAL, Que., Oct. 8.—Annexation of the British West Indies by Canada, a proposal which has attracted some attention recently and has drawn comments from American sources, is not a possibility even in the distant future, unless some new factor enters upon the scene, according to Michael Cordova, owner of the Kingston, Jamaica, Gleaner, and a leader in the public life of the West Indies.

Mr. Cordova, here on a visit, said also that a political union between Canada and Jamaica is not a question of more than academic interest at the present time. A few years ago the matter of closer union between Canada and Jamaica was discussed and much was written about the advantages which would accrue for both the island and Canada if united, but the arguments fell upon deaf ears, as far as the Jamaicans were concerned.

But when this subject received some attention by Canada's governor-general, Lord Willingdon, following a recent trip to the West Indies, people were roused to take sides in the matter. The response was not favorable to the idea of the West Indies becoming part of the dominion, said Mr. Cordova.

MAYOR TO GREET HEARST AT CITY CEREMONY TODAY

Long Automobile Parade to Circle Boulevards.

Mayor Thompson, preliminary to a reception today for W. R. Hearst, California publisher, delivered two radio addresses yesterday and last night, telling "Your mayor with your support will keep Old Glory flying at the masthead and will renew prosperity in Chicago." The mayor has not announced whether he will be a candidate for reelection.

This afternoon there will be two meetings, speaking, and music as a demonstration of patriotism, prosperity, and of welcome to Hearst, who was recently expelled from France.

Two Parades on Program.

The first parade will consist of 50 floats depicting historical events and will start at the Black Horse troop. It will proceed to Michigan avenue and Roosevelt road, and proceed to Soldiers' field, where at 2 p. m. there will be a program of music and a speech by Frederick Germak of the county board. The second parade, of 4,500 automobiles, will tour the boulevards and wind up at Soldiers' field at 3:40 for another program.

Mayor Thompson is chairman of the arrangements and has sounded his campaign slogan of "America First" in urging the automobiles for the parade and the citizenry to attend the Soldiers' field ceremonies.

The surface lines said they had received no official response yesterday to their appeal to the mayor to let cars through the automobile parade at five minute intervals, although Thomas K. Golan, parade marshal, said orders had been issued which will permit the street cars to operate on schedule.

The procession of automobiles, according to the plan, will be about 25 miles long and will take more than an hour and a half to pass any given point. The line of march will be along Michigan avenue, Diversey parkway, Sheridan boulevard, Western avenue, Ashland boulevard, South Park way, Lincoln Park boulevard, and the outer drive.

Evenson Tells Difficulties.

J. H. Evenson, superintendent of transportation for the surface lines, said the line of march cuts every important street car line in the city and that unless some relief were afforded the parade would cause protests from riders for a million car riders. Evenson declared he would be unable to get cars into the loop to accommodate the evening homeward rush of shoppers and employés from the central business district.

"The matter has been placed before the mayor and we are waiting to hear from him," Evenson said.

The bus lines and taxicabs will also be in the tieup, it was predicted by Evenson. The boulevards, with their traffic of private automobiles, will likewise be blocked for an hour and a half or more, according to the original orders issued by the mayor to Police Commissioner Alcock.

The commissioner has assigned 1,400 policemen to enforce these orders. Captains have been told they will be cited before the police trial board if they let any traffic through the twenty-five mile parade.

Mayor Thompson, in his afternoon radio talk, said he regretted that some of "Chicago's dirtiest newspapers are not coöperating in your mayor's campaign for patriotism and renewed prosperity."

"THE TRIBUNE," he continued, "will advise you to vote against the city's bond issues. It would throw 150,000 men into the streets this winter, men now employed on public improvements. The fact that THE TRIBUNE is against the city's bond issues is reason enough to vote for them."

Last evening the mayor gave another radio talk to further the plans for today's celebration.

Hearst will arrive in Chicago from New York this morning. He will be met by the mayor's official reception committee. At 2 o'clock the long automobile parade will leave Grant park, going north in Michigan avenue. It is scheduled to return to Soldiers' Field after the circle of the boulevards, at 3:40 o'clock.

Many choral societies and bands have been recruited for a chorus of 2,000 voices accompanied by 1,000 bandsmen. Forty thousand red, white and blue toy balloons will be released and a thousand sky rockets with little flags will be fired. There will be speaking, including addresses by Mayor Thompson and by Hearst.

Hearst will leave for the west coast at 7 o'clock in the evening. The mayor has arranged three banquets, which he calls Chicago Day-Prosperity banquets. Former Senator James A. Reed of Missouri is scheduled to speak at the Palmer House banquet; Senator Smith W. Brookhart of Iowa at the Midwest Athletic club, and Lewis E. Myers, president of the Chicago board of education, at the Hotel Sherman.

CONTEST JERSEY INHERITANCE TAX ON GOULD ESTATE

Trenton, N. J., Oct. 8.—[Special.]—Decision was reserved by the Supreme court today after hearing arguments to set aside an inheritance tax levied by New Jersey on two items totaling $2,825,000 in the estate of the late George J. Gould of Lakewood.

The items taxed were made up of a $1,825,000 contribution by Guinevere Sinclair Gould to the estate of Jay Gould, her husband's father, and a $1,000,000 trust fund alleged to have been created by George J. Gould for his wife fifty-six days before he died.

The heirs seek to deduct the widow's contribution from George J. Gould's taxable estate and declare taxing of the trust fund was not legal.

The dead are: Kenneth Griffith and Gail Smith, Rock Island, each 18; Earl Gould, 22, and Sam Lacey, 64, Davenport.

Appoint Commisson to Improve County Streams

Members of the commission are Commander Eugene A. McDonald, U. J. Herrmann, Patrick Joyce, Vincent Bendix, W. Rufus Abbott, A. J. Buscher, Thomas M. Courtney, Edward J. Hughes, Edward J. Kelly, Michael L. Igoe, A. A. Sprague, Robert Kingery, Harry T. Hollingshead, Burt A. Massee, Joseph Nicolai and David E. Shanahan.

CITIZENSHIP FOR PACIFIST BEFORE U. S. HIGH COURT

Another Naturalization Case Tested.

Washington, D. C., Oct. 8.—[Special.]—For the second time the United States Supreme court has been called upon to decide whether an alien who refuses to take an oath to bear arms in defense of the government whenever necessity arises is eligible for American citizenship.

This question, answered by the high tribunal in the negative in the Rosika Schwimmer case a year ago, was again brought before the court today when Solicitor General Thomas D. Thatcher asked it to review the celebrated case of the Rev. Douglas Clyde Macintosh of Yale, university professor. The Second Circuit Court of Appeals, reversing the lower court, held that Macintosh did not have to subscribe to the oath to fight.

Chaplain During War.

Dr. Macintosh was a chaplain in the Canadian army during the war. When examined for his naturalization papers and asked whether he would take up arms in defense of his country, he answered, "Yes, but I should want to be free to judge of the necessity." The district court held the reply showed he "was not attached to the constitution," but the Court of Appeals ruled that "the refusal to perform military services on account of religious scruples has not been regarded as inconsistent with the duties and obligations of citizenship."

In his argument for reversal of the Court of Appeals decree Solicitor General Thatcher warned that it opens the way for the creation of a class of citizens who reserve the right to determine for themselves whether any future war merits their service.

Cites Former Decision.

The solicitor general cited the Schwimmer case, in which the opinion of the court declared: "That it is the duty of citizens by force of arms to defend our government against all enemies whenever necessity arises is a fundamental principle of the constitution." Justices Holmes and Sanford, dissenting, held that a prospective citizen might properly entertain individual views upon changes they think should be made in the constitution.

Another professor with pacifistic ideas who gained attention today was Prof. William I. Hull of Swarthmore college, who was the target of an attack by Representative Fred A. Britten [Rep., Ill.]. In reply to an invitation by the Pennsylvania committee for total disarmament to debate the question of immediate total disarmament with Prof. Hull, Mr. Britten declared "it would be a waste of time."

"I would respectfully suggest that Prof. Hull and his pro-British associates at Swarthmore confine their efforts toward the reduction of armaments to their beloved Great Britain," said Mr. Britten. "The spread of foolish pacifism in the United States but breeds communism and disrespect for stable government."

CHICAGO WARNED OF FIRE HAZARD IN CITY HOMES

Sixty-two per cent of all fire fatalities take place in the home, according to the Chicago Safety council, which last night issued a warning to American housewives against the perils of fire.

The statement was issued on the eve of the 59th anniversary of the great Chicago fire of 1871, which will be observed today in the city.

Officials of the safety council are cooperating with other fire prevention agencies in observing National Fire Prevention week.

The safety council asserted that the average American home is little better than a fire trap. Housewives, said the council's bulletin, are proud of the neatness and cleanliness of the rooms, but in the closets, attics and storerooms of most homes may be found the materials for a fire that could destroy the city.

The following suggestions for fire prevention were given to housewives by the safety council:

1. Don't use gasoline, naphtha, or benzine in dry cleaning unless you know enough about them to guard against fire.
2. Do not let old papers and magazines accumulate.
3. Do not tamper with electric wiring or fuses. Only a licensed electrician should be allowed to handle them. Do not smoke in bed. Keep fireplaces clean.

ALL CANDIDATES ARE POLITICALLY DRY IN OKLAHOMA

But Voters Are Dripping Wet in Practice.

BY ARTHUR SEARS HENNING.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Oklahoma City, Okla., Oct. 8.—[Special.]—Superficially prohibition has not figured up to date in the congressional election in Oklahoma. But it is lurking beneath the surface and may influence to a profound degree the contest for the senatorship.

"Are all the candidates dry?" I asked Alfalfa Bill Murray, Democratic candidate for governor.

Mr. Murray regarded me a bit doubtfully, I thought, while a smile slowly took possession of his countenance, the same smile I encountered everywhere that I asked the question.

"Well, yes, they are all dry—politically dry, you understand."

Alfalfa Bill's smile had broadened into a grin and ended in a guffaw.

Admits He's Honestly Dry.

"As for myself, I'm an honest to God dry," pursued Bill. "I never was drunk more'n three times in my hull life and I ain't had a drink in 23 years."

Alfalfa Bill was legislated onto the water wagon, for it was 23 years ago that Oklahoma came into the Union, with prohibition in its constitution, which was framed by a convention of which Bill was chairman.

"Do you regard prohibition a success?" I asked the sage of Tishomingo.

"Well, I'll have to answer you the way I did a feller who asked me that same question years ago when I was in congress. I told him prohibition was a success in Oklahoma. He wanted to know if it wasn't a fact that anybody that wanted a drink of liquor in Oklahoma could get it. I said yes, that was a fact, I guessed."

Plenty of Liquor There.

"Well, how could I call prohibition a success, he wanted to know. Because, I said, them that wanted it could get it, and them that didn't want to see it didn't have to see it. So everybody was satisfied."

All the testimony is to the effect that anybody who wants liquor can get it in dry Oklahoma as readily as in such unregenerate regions as Connecticut and Rhode Island, which have never ratified the eighteenth amendment. Oklahomans brew their beer and ferment their wine at home, as do the wet easterners, while many are given to home distilling.

The other bibulous brethren have their regular bootleggers who supply at $8 and $10 a gallon an exceptionally high grade of corn liquor distilled by old time moonshiners in the Kiamichi mountains in the southeastern corner of the state, or the increasingly popular corn sugar whisky which is made in large quantities right here in Oklahoma City and other large communities. City distilling has been made possible by the fact that no betraying odor attaches to the making of "sugar whisky," as it is called.

Cater to Transient Trade.

Liquor figures as largely in business dealings, in conventions and in public and private hospitality in Oklahoma as in other parts of the country. Catering to the transient trade is well organized. Ordinarily the bell boys in the hotels either have a supply of liquor for guests or are able to arrange for deliveries by the regular bootleggers.

A tragic product of production during the last year was the "jake paralysis" epidemic. Several thousand Oklahomans are incurably afflicted with semi-paralysis of the feet as the result of drinking a Jamaica ginger preparation of 90 per cent alcoholic content in which there was a mysterious poison. This was a popular tipple among those unble to afford corn liquor at $8 and $10 a gallon. It was sold in two ounce bottles in drug stores without a prescription.

Kansas and Oklahoma, pre-Volstead era dry states, were the chief victims of "Jakeleg." In nearly all of the larger communities of these states jake paralytics are to be seen edging painfully along the pavement unable to lift their feet.

200 Jake Cases in Capital.

In Oklahoma City alone there were 200 registered cases and probably even more, say the authorities, in families not compelled to disclose the affliction by application for public treatment. The result, according to some, has been to frighten people into total abstinence, while others maintain that the episode has made votes for repeal of prohibition.

There have been more liquor scandals in dry Oklahoma than in many a confessedly wet state. These scandals invariably have been due to violation of the tacit rule that tolerates violation of the law so long as it is under cover where those that don't want to see it don't see it. Every time a new oil field comes in, open saloons and brothels spring up over night. They run openly, sometimes for months, until outside authorities, generally federal intervene. As a result of these prosecutions the Oklahoma penitentiaries contain a choice assortment of saloonkeepers, bootleggers, and rum runners as well as sheriffs, policemen, aldermen and other officials who were protecting or conniving at the traffic.

In the senatorial contest prohibition scarcely has been mentioned so far. Both candidates are drys, but the subterranean gossip is that the wets incline to the support of the Democratic candidate, former Senator Thomas P. Gore. Senator William B. Pine, the Republican candidate, is constantly twitting Gore on former Gov. C. N. Haskell's assertion that Gore is "one of the constant wets" and that Gore when he entered this contest "was undecided whether he would be an open wet or a passive dry."

Gore for Wet Jim Reed.

"Haskell recalled that Gore managed the campaign of dripping wet Jim Reed for the Democratic nomination for president at Houston in 1928. Gore's alleged indecision was attributed to the surprising growth of wet sentiment in Oklahoma revealed by the Literary Digest poll. There were 28,912 votes for enforcement of the present law, 14,129 for modification and 13,714 for repeal, a majority of only 1,069 for the present régime. Gore like Pine, is running as a dry, neither one having been called upon so far to state definitely what attitude he would assume in the senate on the question of modification or repeal.

The Democratic state platform declares that "the state of Oklahoma having passed three times upon the prohibition question and each time ratifying the same, the people of the state are entitled to have it considered the settled policy of the state unless and until they themselves otherwise will, and are entitled to the strict enforcement of the said laws of both state and nation."

The Republican platform contents itself with a single sentence declaring for strict enforcement of the federal and state constitutions and "all amendments thereto."

SUES CITY FOR AUTO INJURY.

Miss Amanda King, 19 years old, 2128 North Maplewood avenue, yesterday filed suit for $125,000 damages against the city and the Chicago City Railways company, as the result of injuries incurred when the auto in which she was riding struck a hole in the pavement on Western avenue near Upton street.

N. CAROLINA PRIMARY TO BE THE NEXT FIELD FOR NYE COMMITTEE

Washington, D. C., Oct. 8.—[Special.]—The Nye senatorial campaign funds committee is to turn its attention next week to charges involving the Democratic primaries in North Carolina. Senators Gerald P. Nye [Rep., N. D.], Roscoe C. Patterson [Rep., Mo.], and probably Robert F. Wagner [Dem., N. Y.] will go to Raleigh, N. C., to commence hearings next Monday.

Senator Patterson, in announcing the program, said that charges have been made that 40,000 illegal ballots were cast in the North Carolina primary; that large sums of money were sent in from the outside, and that out of 1,700 absent votes cast all but about 40 to 50 were cast for J. W. Bailey, who won the Democratic senatorial nomination over Senator F. M. Simmons.

Following completion of the North Carolina inquiry the committee will turn its attention to Tennessee and also probably to Delaware.

G. O. P. RECKONS HOOVER TRIP AS BIG VOTE GETTER

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Oct. 8.—[Special.]—Confidence that the Republicans will be able to hold one of the two congressional seats captured in North Carolina two years ago was evident today among the party leaders as a result of President Hoover's visit to the state yesterday. The President, who returned to the White House this morning, was greatly pleased over the reception given him at the Kings mountain sesquicentennial celebration and also at various North Carolina towns where his train made brief stops. The crowds were friendly all along the route, even more so in this normally Democratic state than at Boston on Monday or at Cleveland last week.

The Ninth North Carolina district is the one that the Republicans are particularly anxious to retain. Representative Charles A. Jonas, who is seeking reëlection, took a conspicuous part in yesterday's proceedings.

President Hoover did what he could to aid his candidacy by appearing on the back platform of his train with him before a crowd that choked the railroad station at Charlotte. The President stopped at several other points in the district, including Kings Mountain and Gastonia.

Representative Jonas, who is the Republican national committeeman for North Carolina, defeated former Representative A. L. Bulwinkle in the Hoover landslide in 1928, and again has Mr. Bulwinkle as his Democratic opponent this year.

Even though President Hoover carried North Carolina two years ago, the Republicans appear to have little hope of electing their senatorial nominee, Representative George M. Pritchard. It is the impression that the division in the Democratic ranks which caused the nomination of J. W. Bailey over Senator F. M. Simmons will have healed sufficiently to insure Mr. Bailey's election.

In reviewing the results of the Hoover trips of this week and last his friends place particular importance upon the sendoff given the President at the American Federation of Labor convention in Boston on Monday by William Green, its president.

Mr. Green praised President Hoover for his efforts to minimize the effect of the business depression and gave him credit for having averted general reductions in wages.

Republican campaign managers also expect that political benefits will come from the President's appearance before the American Legion convention at Boston and before the American Bankers' association convention at Cleveland last week.

UNIVIS Bifocals (New-Type) Give Better Vision Near and Far More Comfort—Greater Safety

A scientific advancement, the perfected UNIVIS Lens eliminates all faults that made old type Kryptok bifocals unsatisfactory. Note Great Improvement.

The new reading segment is indicated by the dotted line. This shape of segment gives a much wider field of near vision for reading left to right and up and down. And yet allows more lens for distance seeing than any other bifocal.

This sketch is shaded to show the blind area and useless parts of the old-type Kryptok bifocals. These blind segment-edges were worse than useless. They tended to blur nearby objects. In UNIVIS the space they occupied is added to the distance field.

TO read and see near objects with greater ease. To look up and down, near or far, without encountering that confusing blur that occurs near the edges of old type reading segments—that is what this perfected bifocal lens now makes possible. No experience you have had with other bifocals can give you any idea of the advantages and comfort UNIVIS Bifocals will bring you. Guaranteed as always. Stop in and see. Ask for UNIVIS.

UNIVIS lenses can be had in every style and shape. The segments are of the Invisible type (scarcely noticeable).

LEGION IS URGED BY LABOR CHIEF TO AID JOBLESS

Veterans Cheer Speech by William Green.

Drys Raid Hotel

Boston, Mass., Oct. 9.—[AP]—Federal prohibition agents under the leadership of Dennis T. Lorden descended on the Hotel Statler, American Legion convention headquarters, early today, seized several men, and held them on bootlegging charges.

The agents, in ordinary attire, met Lorden in the hotel lobby shortly after midnight. Their orders had been issued and their presence in the hotel was not known until the first arrests were made.

After circulating in the main lobby the agents went through the halls and rooms of the floors above. Persons partaking of liquor were not bothered.

Groups of agents were sent to other hotels by Lorden soon after the raid on the Statler.

Lorden was rescued from a crowd of hoodlums in Park square Tuesday night when he arrested four men for bootlegging. Boston and Legion police saved him and his prisoners from roughnecks.

Boston, Mass., Oct. 8.—[Special.]—The American Legion was urged today to join the American Federation of Labor in the establishment of relief committees throughout industrial areas of the United States to combat unemployment distress by William Green, president of the labor body.

Conventions of both organizations are now in session here. Mr. Green's speech was received with tumultuous enthusiasm by the thousands of ex-war veterans assembled in the Boston arena and it is expected that the various departments of the Legion will act upon it individually.

Millions Represented.

"We come here, you in your official capacity representing millions of legionnaires," he said. "I refer to those who are identified with your great organization and to those who ultimately will be and who are eligible. Then, sitting near by is that great other organization which for the moment I have the honor to represent representing approximately 5,000,000 seeking men and women—two powerful organizations representing a cross section of American life—in American public opinion, coöperating in furtherance of American ideals, noble and lofty purposes of humanity. The urge that these two organizations engage in coöperative enterprise, performing teamwork, must be irresistible.

"It seems appropriate for me to refer to the present industrial situation. You come from every section of the land. You know that there are thousands of men and women out of employment, seeking work. Distress, to some extent, is abroad throughout the land. We have been hopeful against hope that we would emerge from this reaction. We have, I think, optimistic way, interpreted the advent as best evidence of improvement in the situation of a return to prosperity, but it occurs to me, legionnaires, that this coming winter is going to be most difficult.

Duty to Aid, He Says.

"There is going to be much distress abroad throughout the land. It will be the duty of these two organizations to coöperate through the establishment of official committees in cities and towns of the country, the industrial sections of our land in an effort to relieve economic distress.

"Out of it, we must feel that we shall come a permanent remedy, a permanent solution for this difficulty."

Conventions of both organizations are now in session here. Mr. Green's speech was received with tumultous enthusiasm by the thousands of world war veterans assembled in the Boston arena and it is expected that the various departments of the Legion will act upon it individually.

Millions Represented.

"We come here, you in your official capacity representing millions of Legionaires," he said. "I refer to those who are identified with your great organization and to those who ultimately will be and who are eligible. Then, sitting near by is that great labor organization which for the moment I have the honor to represent, representing approximately 5,000,000 working men and women—two powerful organizations representing a great cross section of American life and American public opinion, coöperating in furtherance of American ideals, noble and lofty purposes of humanity. "Out of it, we must feel that there shall come a permanent remedy, a permanent solution for this difficult problem of unemployment. I am of the opinion that it can be controlled, that it is not insolvable, but that it is an economic problem that can be solved through the application of American good sense and American judgment."

Attacking radicalism as not offering a solution for the present difficulties, Green declared that "We know that all is not right. We know that there are many wrongs to be righted, we know that there are many social and economic problems that challenge us, that cry for a solution and that must be settled. But, realizing all these facts, we are determined that we shall not tear down our national structure in order to satisfy the demands of those who present a visionary remedy.

For American Methods.

"We are determined that we shall work out our social, community, national, and economic problems in an American way and in an American fashion, in accordance with American traditions and American ideals."

The labor leader praised efforts to promote international concord, but advocated preparedness.

Bugles and loud cheering greeted each speaker. Among them were O. L. Rondenhamer, national commander; Admiral W. H. Benson, U. S. N., retired; Brig. Gen. Frank T. Hines, U. S. A., federal administrator of veterans' affairs; Gen. Sir William Hickie, head of the world war veterans' organization of Ireland; Gen. Henri Gouraud of France, and Lieut. Col. L. R. Lafleche, dominion president of the Canadian Legion.

Gen. Hines stressed the need of a unified policy in veteran relief.

Admiral Benson, who was chief of naval operations in the world war, denounced disrespect for the law and deplored the failure to apprehend many offenders.

WIFE FILES SUIT FOR DIVORCE FROM JAMES SIMPSON JR.

James Simpson Jr., 22 years old, son of the chairman of the board of Marshall Field & Co., was sued for divorce in the Superior court yesterday by Mrs. Alicia Patterson Simpson, 209 Lake Shore drive. Mrs. Simpson's bill, drawn by her attorneys, Kirkland, Fleming, Green & Martin, charges desertion.

Miss Alicia Patterson, who is the daughter of Joseph Medill Patterson, publisher of the New York Daily News and an official of THE TRIBUNE company, was married to Simpson on Sept. 28, 1927. The ceremony was performed at the Patterson country home at Libertyville.

The young couple went to Europe on their honeymoon and were gone for seven months. Mrs. Simpson's bill says her husband deserted her on Sept. 29, 1928, one year after their marriage.

Both Mrs. Simpson and her husband are aviation enthusiasts. Mrs. Simpson is an experienced flyer while he recently received his private pilot's license after taking lessons at the Palwaukee airport, near Wheeling. Simpson's home is at 375 Sheridan road, Glencoe.

COURT'S "YELLOW DOG" CONTRACT RULING ASSAILED

Massachusetts Law Hit by A. F. L. Speaker.

Boston, Mass., Oct. 8.—(AP)—Massachusetts law, which permits the judiciary to rule on the constitutionality of legislation before it is passed, was criticized today before the American Federation of Labor convention here by John P. Frey, secretary of the metal trades department. Frey spoke on the so-called "yellow dog" contract.

The criticism was made, Frey said, because a recent opinion of the Supreme court of this state, which declared proposed anti-yellow dog contract legislation to be unconstitutional, would undoubtedly be used against labor in other states. The only state in the Union that has adopted legislation prohibiting the yellow dog contract is Wisconsin, Frey said.

Assails Supreme Court.

Frey said the "interference" of the judiciary with the legislative branch of the Massachusetts government was contrary to the federal constitution and destructive of human rights. He criticized the Supreme court for taking advantage of the provisions in the law which allowed it to render such opinions.

The yellow dog contract is an agreement whereby an employer prohibits an employé from doing certain things, usually affiliating with unions. It is because of a decision unfavorable to labor on such a contract that organized labor opposed the nomination of Judge J. J. Parker for a place on the United States Supreme court bench recently.

Keep Reds from Meeting.

An attempt by a group of 50 communists to gain entrance to the convention hall was thwarted by federation officials. The communists departed only when police threatened them with arrest.

Hanford MacNider, United States minister to Canada; Patrick H. Hurley, secretary of war, and Eugene P. Carver Jr., past commander of the Veterans of Foreign Wars, addressed the convention.

William Green, president of the organization, announced that Secretary of Labor James J. Davis would address the convention on Friday.

Holt Ross of the Mississippi state federation offered a resolution which asked that the President of the United States exercise the power granted in the recently enacted tariff act and prohibit the importation of such products when there was a strong probability that such products were made by convicts or forced labor.

GIRL CONFESSES KILLING MAN IN DRINKING PARTY

Camden, N. J., Oct. 8.—[Special.]—Mary McClyment, 19 years old, who shares an apartment here with two other girl employés of a local factory, confessed to Prosecutor Clifford A. Baldwin today that she had killed Edward Nicholson, 33, of Camden during a drunken party last night on a farm at Blenheim, fourteen miles from here on the Black Horse pike.

The McClyment girl and the three companions were arrested about a half mile from the scene of the shooting when their automobile collided with another car. They were questioned all night and for several hours today before the slayer acceded to the pleas of her companions and admitted firing the fatal shot.

"I pulled the gun on him," she told Prosecutor Baldwin in a brief statement, "but I didn't fire to shoot him. We all were drunk, but I remember it clearly now."

At an arraignment before Justice of the Peace Laird, the McClyment girl was held without bail for the grand jury on a charge of murder. Catherine Carroll, 19, and Leonora Roppel, 17, who live with her, were held without bail as material witnesses, as was Edward Sims, a companion during a visit to the farm of Joseph Van Dexter, 65 years old, where the shooting took place. Van Dexter also was held as a material witness.

Police investigation disclosed that the girls with Nicholson and Sims had been drinking in Camden until early last night.

GUN HELD CLOSE TO LEENEY HEAD, EXPERT TESTIFIES

CRIMINAL COURT.

Henry Becker, robbery, sentenced to 1 to 20 years in the penitentiary; Bruno Karinski, John Bannoch, and Ben Frazier, larceny, sentenced to 1 to 10 years each in the penitentiary by Judge Joseph B. David.

Frank Bider, receiving stolen property, sentenced to 1 to 10 years in Pontiac reformatory by Judge Hugo M. Friend.

George W. Jorgensen, false pretenses, sentenced to 1 year in the Bridewell and fined $100 by Judge E. I. Frankhauser.

Robert Parker, murder, sentenced to 14 years in the penitentiary by Judge Philip Finnegan.

Samuel J. Hachiman, embezzlement, sentenced to 1 to 10 years in the penitentiary by Judge Peter Schwaba.

Mrs. Florence Leeney held the muzzle of her revolver within four inches of her husband's face when she fired two bullets into his head. This testimony was given yesterday by Col. Calvin Goddard, ballistic expert, who was called as the state's final witness in Judge Joseph Sabath's Criminal court where Mrs. Leeney is on trial for murder.

Col. Goddard said he reached his conclusion from tests he made with the revolver used by Mrs. Leeney. The powder marks enabled science, he said, to prove that the revolver was held close to Leeney's face. The bullet holes found in the bathrobe worn by Leeney also demonstrated this fact, Col. Goddard said, because tests showed that the garment burned when a bullet was fired at such close range.

Find Bathrobe Smoldering.

The police had previously testified that the bathrobe was found smoldering on the floor when they entered the apartment and found Maurice Leeney, teaming contractor, fatally wounded. Col. Goddard said that his tests proved the bathrobe would not burn if a bullet was fired at a distance greater than six inches.

The prosecutors said they will argue to the jury that Leeney was shot while asleep on a couch with the bathrobe thrown over him. The couch has bullet holes in it.

Defense Calls Witness.

Immediately after Assistant State's Attorneys George Lavin and Ross Lee Laird closed the testimony for the state the first defense witness was called to the stand. She was Mrs. Helen Hartough, 4125 North Tripp avenue, a welfare worker. She said that she examined Mrs. Leeney at the jail and found her to be suffering from bruises on the forehead, throat, breast, abdomen, and legs. Her testimony is preliminary to the story expected to be told today by Mrs. Leeney. Her defense will be, according to Attorneys Charles Dougherty and Samuel Hoffman, that she shot in self-defense after her husband had abused her.

Florence Leeney, 19 year old daughter of the defendant, was on the witness stand when court adjourned last evening.

STEEL WORKER KILLED.

Peter Anderson, 38 years old, who lives at 91st street and Houston avenue, was fatally injured yesterday when struck by an overhead crane at the plant of the Illinois Steel company, 3426 East 89th street.

MOTHER WINS CUSTODY OF DODGE-CROMWELL HEIRESS AGED 8 YEARS

Providence, R. I., Oct. 8.—[Special.]—Society curious were cheated of a sensation here today when, at the order of a courtroom hearing attorneys announced that James H. R. Cromwell, clubman and son of Mrs. Edward T. Stotesbury of Philadelphia, had yielded custody of his 8 year old daughter, Christina, to his former wife, Delphine Dodge Cromwell Baker.

The expected court trial with the millions of Stotesbury, a Morgan partner, matched against the Dodge motor millions of Mrs. Baker, wife of the former director of the United States mint, failed to materalise because of the last minute settlement.

Former mothers-in-law got together to arrange the settlement out of court, it was said. The former mothers-in-law are Mrs. Stotesbury and Mrs. Hugh Dillman, the widow of Horace Dodge, whose marriage to Dillman, actor and former husband of Marjorie Rambeau, was a sensation a few years ago. Whether Cromwell has consented never to see little Christina is not known.

WHO STARTED ELECTRON? ASKS SCIENCE IN VAIN

Dr. Lewis Tells Students About Matter.

BY PHILIP KINSLEY.

"Who started the electron in its orbit?"

Dr. W. Lee Lewis, director of research of the Institute of American Meat Packers and the discoverer of Lewisite gas, asked this question in a lecture before the contemporary thought class at Northwestern university yesterday, but made no effort to answer it.

Here is where chemistry and physics, and all science pause.

"Why does not the electron stop?" was another question which was not only put but answered.

"Because it should not," said Dr. Lewis.

Balance and Rhythm Compared.

He compared the balance and rhythm in the systems of electronic orbits with that which keeps the moon from falling into the earth, and all the solar systems swinging in their gravitational fields.

This ordered system of orbits is the present field of work in the structure of matter, he said. There is a rhythmic recurrence of properties, a rhythmic periodic change of structure, but it is not yet understood.

"In the last analysis," he said, "matter is possibly the same as electricity — some modification of the ether. It is granular and discontinuous, not at all solid, as it looks, and there is a tremendous amount of space in it, even in an atom. The electrons are flashing signals to us, as if the people on Mars were trying to tell us of their civilization. If we knew what these flashes meant, these spectra of heat bands, we could probably reconstruct the system of orbits. There is a structural urge among the atoms that makes them trade back and forth in electronic properties."

View of French Astronomer.

Dr. Lewis' observations seem to follow closely the calculations of Charles Nordmann, astronomer to the Paris observatory, who said:

"There is now no matter. There is only electrical energy, which, by the reactions of the surrounding medium upon it, leads us to the fallacious belief in the existence of this substantial and massive something which hundreds of generations have been wont to call 'matter.' It follows, by calculation and the simple and elegant reasoning of Einstein, that mass and energy are the same thing, or the two different sides of one and the same coin. There is nothing but energy in the external universe. A strange—in a sense, an almost spiritual—turn for modern physics to take."

Tells of 92 Elements.

Dr. Lewis compared the 92 elements out of which everything is spun, including the physical body of man, to the 26 letters of the alphabet. Sonnets are made out of the letters and animals and plants are made out of the elements. Most of the work is done by 14 of these elements, and the law of nature is that we must give back that which we have used so that it may be used over again. There is no loss of energy.

While mankind is hundreds of thousands of years old, it has only been in the last 2,500 years, he pointed out, that the atomic structure of nature has become known. It is in the last hundred years that the greatest progress has been made. It was thought at first that the molecule was the smallest thing. It is very small. The molecules of a film of oil that floats on water are 1-25 millionth of an inch in diameter. The molecules in a pint of water, if chained together, would go around the earth 200 million times.

Atom Is Split Up.

Then science split the atom, 1-1800th in the case of the hydrogen atom, and came to electrons, the basic building stone of matter. The proton was assumed as its positive principle and the search is still going on. The action of molecules in gas is like the incessant hail of rifle bullets.

Science has broken down the old barriers between organic and inorganic life, but the question of "Who started it all?" remains unanswered. We must go to the philosophers for that.

Morning Mouth

Everybody has it... Astring-o-sol corrects it

PENETRATES
and Kills The Hidden Germs

Scientists will tell you that any good mouth wash will kill the germs that are loose in your mouth. But they also say that it is the germs which are embedded in the tissues that are dangerous; and that no ordinary mouth wash can reach these serious trouble makers. ¶ Official tests of all leading mouth washes have recently been made by the nation's foremost laboratories. These tests prove that Astring-o-sol is such an effective antiseptic and germicide that it penetrates down deep into the tissues, tiny crevices and pockets and kills the dangerous germs embedded there. Its antiseptic and germicidal power goes to the sources of infection. Goes to work when it gets there. And stays there for hours—until the work is done.

This 4-ounce bottle makes 12 full pints of refreshing mouth wash.

Like a Sparkling Shower Astring-o-sol Wakes You Up... Peps You Up... Corrects Morning Mouth in a Twinkling

FREE!

An artistic Lanster Glass—in your choice of 5 beautiful Pastel Colors—is given FREE with every bottle of Astring-o-sol. Your neighborhood druggist is now featuring this special introductory offer.

FOLLOW the sparkling refreshment of your morning shower with the most delightful and exhilarating bath of all—the Astring-o-sol Mouth Bath that corrects Morning Mouth!

Just shake a few dashes of Astring-o-sol into a quarter-glass of water. Then gargle the tingling liquid down deep in your throat—and swish it through your teeth.

That dry, stale, disagreeable taste you wake up with will disappear like magic. Your mouth and throat tissues will feel cooled, refreshed, stimulated, and clean. Your breath will be pleasant. And you'll have a delightful after-taste to enjoy breakfast.

More Effective for Mouth and Throat

The amazing effectiveness of Astring-o-sol as a mouth wash and throat gargle is due to the fact that it—

Penetrates down deep into the tissues, tiny crevices and pockets rapidly and thoroughly;

Exerts a powerful antiseptic and germicidal action that kills the germs embedded there, yet is absolutely safe to the most delicate tissues;

Produces a mild astringent action that helps to drive out bacteria;

And leaves an antiseptic effect that remains at the sources of infection for hours.

Does More—Costs Less—Tastes Better—Because Concentrated

Astring-o-sol is a concentrated preparation. This feature makes it: 1. Do More—you can use it in any strength you require; 2. Cost Less to Use—a 4-ounce bottle makes 12 full pints of refreshing mouth wash; 3. Taste Better—you can dilute it to suit your personal taste; 4. Take Up Less Space—in your traveling bag or medicine cabinet.

Dentists and doctors everywhere use Astring-o-sol and prescribe it to their patients for its superior penetrating power, powerful antiseptic and germicidal activity, effective astringent and cleansing qualities.

Try a bottle today. You'll wonder how you ever got along without it. For there is nothing so zestful, so concentrated and packed with germ-attacking power! So safe and delightful to use.

THE BIG SHOW—TWO BILLS, TWO SAMS.

When the French asked Mr. Hearst to leave France because he was breaking their hearts he seemed to take it with a good natured philosophy. At his time of life there were other countries, including California, and he had seen most of everything, but later it appeared that he had not been able to compose himself. In fact, Mr. Hearst was mad and was not consoling himself with the reflection that he had been fired out of better countries than France and knew where there was another wake.

Most of Mr. Hearst's well disposed fellow citizens did not think that a blight had settled upon his autumn days. Incidents of such nature may happen to any person who has opinions and does not incline heavily toward reticence. The United States was disposed not to permit Mrs. Pankhurst to enter the country, and Great Britain did keep Harry Thaw out. The French have their sensitive moments. Mr. Hearst merely stepped into one of them. However, the incident left him craving solace, affection, and sympathy. He longed for the clasp of a friendly hand.

His need was nicely timed with that of another great American, Mr. Thompson, mayor of Chicago. For a year and a half Mr. Thompson has been unable to rid himself of the feeling that he also was being pushed about. The impression prevailed with him that he was continuously bouncing downstairs without his hat. He endeavored to suffer in silence. Mr. Thompson needs his hat when he talks. It is to him what store teeth are to an octogenarian. It enables him to articulate.

Both the Williams needing human support and the sound of friendly voices to sustain them against the inner feeling that no one loved them, it was natural for them to join in an appeal for understanding, and our Bill thought it could be done in Chicago, where they would have the help of the Sams, Insull and Ettelson, Big Sam and Little Sam.

Mr. Insull always could be relied upon for assistance. He loaned Mr. Ettelson to Mr. Thompson when Mr. Thompson needed a corporation counsel and he is always ready to learn what the boys in the back room will have. He has been in the nature of an all year Santa Claus, and the restoration of the two Williams to the confidence and affection of their fellow countrymen would appeal to him as something to be undertaken in a large way. The city council, the county board, and the south park board were responsive and Mr. Hearst was officially invited to come to Chicago and be cherished as a part of the commemoration of what has been regarded hitherto as the greatest disaster the city ever knew.

Mr. Insull can establish almost any one's credit by shaking hands with him in front of a bank, and there is every reason to believe that today's outpouring of a rejoicing citizenry accustomed to arms will restore the two Williams to their old self-esteem. As Chicago clasps them to its battle scarred breast France will regret the day it asked Mr. Hearst to remove himself at once to other parts and the British empire will be relieved, seeing that Mr. Thompson is off to another war.

In return for the cherishing which Chicago will offer so freely in assungement it may be relied upon that the Williams and the Samuels will think of something they can do in return for so much good will. It may be that they will offer Mr. Thompson to Chicago as mayor again. Then the city can give up its celebration of a minor disaster, such as the fire, and find a better one.

The only competition today's big show will have is offered by the whale on the old soap factory lot. The citizenry may take its choice. The only advantage the whale has as a show is that it is protectively pickled and might be preferred by any one sensitive that way.

UNION WITH AUSTRIA.

In desperation a people may seize fantastic hopes, and, though Herr Hitler seems to be mainly a romantic chatterbox, the German people may accept his leadership and Fascism as a desperate chance. With moderate leaders and wise counsel prevented by the Versailles treaty and allied interference from working out a sound future for the Germans, it is natural that radicals and extremists of one sort or another will gain power. The great gains both of the communists and the Fascists in the German elections are the consequence of the evil treaty at Versailles.

Herr Hitler now is talking of the guillotine for German moderates and republicans who founded the new nation, and, with Mussolini as his model, threatens Europe with new war and revolution. That such events can only be disastrous, perhaps finally disastrous, for Europe, and of very serious disadvantage to the United States, is evident. They will be the consequence of a treaty and a peace designed really for Europe's ruin.

Among the other handicaps imposed on Germany is the refusal to allow her union with old Austria. Austria has been dismembered, and the stub, or ancient Austria, including Vienna and part of the Tyrol, is left a helpless, starving nation without hinterland or resources. Both Austria and Germany would gain by union. Both are German stock, and together the two countries will have better balance and a better chance to live.

The allies should promote this union now, so far as it is possible. Such action would help to reduce the bitterness in both countries and give the moderates there a better chance to maintain European order.

GUN TOTING AND THE COURTS.

A judge of the Criminal court the other day indignantly refused to entertain a gun toting case, on the ground that he is sitting to hear "serious felonies" and not misdemeanors.

His view may or may not be technically correct. The chief justice of the Criminal court does not think so, and lay opinion, at least, will strongly support him. If the law makes gun toting a misdemeanor rather than a felony there is reason for amendment of the law, but in the meanwhile we suggest that it is the clear duty of all our Criminal judges to take judicial notice of notorious conditions and to realize that if gun toting is by present legal definition a misdemeanor, it is in fact in certain circumstances a misdemeanor so serious as to bring it properly before any judge of the Criminal bench.

For carrying a deadly weapon no rigid or general penalty or manner of procedure need be or should be laid down. Where the individual taken in this breach of the law can show a reputable character and a reason for carrying it as a means of self-defense there is no reason why he should be penalized. Night workers, individuals whose occupation requires them to carry money or valuable property, individuals who have to travel remote or dangerous districts—in short, any one who can show cause for carrying means of defense—should not be molested by the police or the courts because of a technical breach of the law against carrying concealed weapons. But there is no more flagrant and intolerable evil than the general bearing of deadly weapons by hoodlums and criminals at large, and these any sensible magistrate should recognize as in an entirely different category. When a person has a record of lawbreaking, is known by the police to be a dubious or dangerous character, or cannot prove to the court a responsible character and means of livelihood, his possession of a deadly weapon is evidence of a purpose to use it unlawfully, and if it is technically not in itself a felony it is evidence of a felonious intent. It means a readiness to commit the most serious felonies—robbery at the least or murder. That a judge of any Criminal court should refuse to consider this necessary implication and treat the offense on narrow technical grounds indicates clearly an inadequate or perverted sense of judicial authority and responsibility. Gun toting may be technically less than a felony, but it is in most cases brought into court as an adjunct of felony and a misdemeanor of a character so grave as to rank with felony in any judicial conscience not closed to notorious circumstances it is in duty bound to know and consider.

A DEPRESSION WITHOUT STRIKES.

Mr. Hoover made the point in his address before the Federation of Labor that in this period of business depression there have been few strikes and those which have taken place have been of no great consequence. In this respect, he said, the present depression differed from those which have preceded it in the last hundred years.

The fact is evidence of sound leadership in the labor movement as well as in industrial management. In previous slack times employers sought to reduce costs by the process known as deflating labor. If the attempt succeeded it was likely to be only after a strike, and if a strike was avoided for a time it was almost certain to come as soon as business began to recover and labor was in a better tactical position to fight back.

We have made progress. Few employers are talking about the deflation of labor, as in the old days, largely because there is a general appreciation of the fact that labor has been deflated. A man who is working part time is deflated. A man without a job can be deflated no further. To cut wages can only result in reducing the general purchasing power and, to that extent, in delaying economic recovery. The maintenance of wage levels assures every worker who has suffered loss of time in recent months that his pay will increase steadily as soon as jobs become more plentiful.

Meanwhile it is possible to find some encouragement in the thought that, as we have been able to avoid serious labor troubles incident to business depression, we may in future greatly reduce both the intensity and duration of the periods of depression themselves.

WESTERN BACKSLIDERS.

[New York Times.]

Senator Capper has seized the prophet's staff and shakes it threateningly at "the great wet cities in New York and other eastern states." The New York Republicans don't represent the dominant sentiment of the party. The west runs that party. The west put the eighteenth amendment through and will stick to it. Clear the decks for '32! Put nobody but prohibitionists on guard! As a chief of the farm bloc, Mr. Capper is the man of men to organize the western dry bloc and discomfit the eastern sons of Belial. But while his dreams of the future swirl before his eyes, he is blind to the living present. For the workers of iniquity are strong, even in that paradise whose forces he sees himself mustering triumphantly.

The Illinois Republicans are wet, subject to a condition sure of fulfillment. The Wisconsin Republicans, regular and progressive, are wet. It is not unlikely that Ohio may elect a wet Democratic senator in November with the aid of disgusted Republicans. Then the Ohio Republicans, like their brethren here, may get sick of the experiment noble in motive if its value as a vote loser has been sufficiently demonstrated. The Republican candidates for senator in Colorado and Montana are wet. California Republicans have nominated a governor who is not true to the cause. In Wesley Jones' state of Washington the sinners are masters of the congregation of the righteous. There are great wet cities in Missouri. It is no time for Arthur to be playing Merlin. He needs to hone Excalibur and get busy. The enemy is not only at the gates but very much within the gates.

No sensitive augur could have any heart for his duty when the entrails look so inauspicious. Mr. Capper should give up divining and fare as a missionary to parts of the western infidels.

INCREASE IN SOME DISEASES.

APPENDICITIS and cancer are increasing yearly in importance. At least that is what vital statistics show. Both are regarded as surgical diseases, and for them the surgeon assumes responsibility.

Figures on appendicitis found in a Metropolitan Life Insurance company bulletin show an increase of fatality rate of from 13 to 20 per cent in the last twenty years. In males there has been an increase at all age periods except ten to nineteen years, and in females at all age periods except ten to thirty-four years.

This is not the fault of the technical skill of the surgeons, either as diagnosticians or operaters. The fault lies with them as preventers. If they are to claim the disease they must carry the responsibility for it in all of its phases. But if it be the result of wrong methods of living, including wrong diet, the people must carry their share of the responsibility. If the surgeons are to supply leadership the people must supply followship.

The bulletin says the increase in fatal appendicitis may be due to one or more of the following: Infections from neglected foci, diet, and diet fads, abuse of the roughage philosophy, habits of living, abuse of laxatives, and especially self-medication with laxatives, including mineral oils. It supplies no proof as to any of the suggestions, but thinks all of them should be investigated.

It is more important that we find how to prevent appendicitis and apply the information than it is that we further improve methods of operation.

The cancer problem presents many points of similarity. Cancer is on the increase. It is regarded as a surgical disease. Surgeons are diagnosing and operating on it better than they ever did before. But in spite of that the proof is conclusive that the disease is increasingly fatal.

The need is for prevention. The responsibility for controlling cancer is up to the surgeons. The community is not willing to let them off with the plea that they are mechanics and that alone. The important thing is that the disease be suppressed, and the community will not be satisfied with less.

A few causes are known and a few methods of prevention are available. Among these are: Avoidance of certain chemicals, prevention of certain chronic inflammations and irritations, cure of certain precancerous conditions.

Something must be done to tell the public what is known and to get such prevention as we know into action.

BREAKING STAMMERING.

E. W. writes: I have a three year old niece who is apparently bright and well, but for the last six months she has been stuttering constantly and is getting worse. Will she outgrow this habit? What can we do to make her stop?

REPLY.

The cure of stuttering is a matter of training. It is not advisable to trust to the child growing out of it. Nervousness is a part of the foundation. Home training is a part of the treatment.

FEAR THE UNDERLYING CAUSE.

A. M. J. writes: My 14 year old daughter always screams at night. When we ask her what she dreamed she doesn't remember. Is there any way of stopping her from screaming?

REPLY.

Fear is behind her trouble. If you can get at the cause of the fear and overcome it the trouble will disappear. In any event the treatment consists in training.

If she will eat a light supper, spend her evenings quietly, and sleep in a comfortable, well ventilated room she will have fewer attacks.

PROBABLY NO HARM DONE.

Y. V. writes: What are the harmful effects of drinking four glasses of hot water before breakfast? I felt if hot drinks caused ulcers and cancer of the stomach that hot water might have the same effect.

REPLY.

Probably none.

CHECKS ON CLOSED BANK.

Chicago, Oct. 5.—[Legal Friend of the People.]—I had several bank money orders made at an institution that is now in the hands of a receiver. These were paid for with cash. The bank closed before the money orders were cashed. Will these fare the same as deposits or will they be paid in full?

2. One of the money orders was sent to an individual eighteen days before the bank closed and was returned six weeks later. Will I be responsible and have to repay that bill? MRS. A. H.

1. The former.

2. On an ordinary check, if the holder delays depositing and the bank fails during the delay, the loss falls upon the holder. We cannot determine whether your case is controlled by the same rule without knowing the wording of the instrument.

UNSAFE STRUCTURE.

Chicago, Oct. 2.—[Friend of the People.]—The unfinished building on Laramie and Chicago avenues is unsafe. There is no walk on Laramie avenue, which makes it necessary for children and others to walk on the street. There are dugouts throughout the building with a drop of many feet, with loose boards for protection upon which the children play. B. L.

This is a three story fireproof incompleted building. Notice has been sent to the interested parties, a bank now temporarily suspended, to board up openings in order to prevent accidents and also provide sidewalk on Laramie avenue side.

Chicago, Oct. 4.—[Legal Friend of the People.]—I hold a deed to a Chicago cemetery lot which I bought for speculative purposes. I understand that the cemetery has gone into the hands of receivers. 1. Is my deed still valid or do I lose it? The deed also carries a perpetual care clause. 2. Will this clause also hold? C. C. V.

1. Yes, if your grantor had good title.

2. Not if the company lacks sufficient assets to respond to its obligations.

RATHER DULL THESE DAYS—

Everybody seems to be waiting for the election. Oh, of course there's plenty of holdups and robberies and things. (Boom! Oh, that sounded as though it were down in our alley.) One thing the average citizen can be glad of is that he hasn't got the combination of a safe hidden away in the back of his mind. People who know the combination of a safe so often have to sit around all trussed up with the clothes line until morning comes and the safe can be opened. Maybe people are moving from the country to the city so fast these days because they think they're safer where there's so many other people around. Oh, well, it's a pretty thought anyhow. (Boom! BOOM! Boom! Wonder if that was a murder or an auto back firing? Turn on the radio, then we won't hear the shooting.) Henry Ford says his new Lizzie factory in England will be bone dry. Henry, do you know what they did to King Charles I. over there when he got too bossy? You can make all the rules you want to, Henry, for your factory, but an Hinglishman's 'ome is 'is bally old castle, old bean, and that's that. (Boom! Boom! Boom! some more. It's entirely too noisy to write anything. Wish we were down in Brazil; revolutions are much quieter.)

TO M. H. C.

Dear heart, dear heart beneath this heavy stone
Where the gold buds are brightening to the sun,
How many happy hopes for you and me
I lay away forever one by one,

Turning aside in helplessness and fear
From this bright sun and this unpitying dawn
That shone upon us when we wandered here
And shines no dimmer now that you are gone.

O, not my grief and not my loneliness
Can give me back the hope that was so bright;
I put it by and bring my little songs
In love and tears to bear you soft good-night.

The Moving Trigger Finger Writes—

Dick: In pursuance of your recommendation in re my biography of Mr. Capone, I have to report progress in the plans for an Autograph Day, and I wish to say, here and now, I regard the idea as doggoned civic of you, Dick.

The site has not been chosen, although Al prefers State and Madison. I am wondering if that isn't a little noisy? He insists that customers bring their own machine guns and ammunition, as he can't be bothered reloading every time he signs a book. Ground rules probably will have to be made because of the crowds; so that if Al's finger slips in dotting an i or crossing a t and he scores a double hit among the customers it will only go as a single. I think this is only reasonable, and that neither Al nor the coroner should kick.

The committee on arrangements informs me the parade preceding the autographing will be at least two miles long, headed by Tommy O'Connor, grand marshal, and back of him the public enemies with a band, followed by police and detectives, judges, lawyers, habeas corpus writs, clews, etc.

I learn from the committee on resolutions that the Veterans of Local Wars have endorsed Al as an outstanding American; and, by the way, Dick, the big stiff wants to sing, "You Made Me What I Am Today; I Hope You're Satisfied." Can you imagine? FRED PASLEY.

HOW TRUE! HOW TRUE!

This is Chicago Day and we wish Cal would write an epic about Mrs. O'Leary's cow; but, anyhow, we'll do it for him. Mrs. O'Leary's cow kicked over a kerosene lamp and burned down a wonderful city. Cows are like that, thoughtless, and at times inconsiderate. We should all be careful of the feelings of others. Kind hearts are more than coronets and simple faith than Norman blood. Cows are made to give milk and not to kick over lamps. The great dairy regions of Wisconsin and Illinois show how much better it is for a cow to give milk and cheese and butter than to waste her time kicking over kerosene lamps. It is only noble to be good. Sitting home at night studying the words of the great writers of the ages is much better than kicking over lamps. Knowledge is power and books are the windows through which the soul looks out. This country today is the mightiest country in the world. Washington was the first President. Providence left him childless that his people might call him father.

HALL-MARKED.

The firelight gleams upon its slender grace,
Lifting in spirals to the curving rim;
Beneath the bending trees that interlace
Inviting-eyed, with parted lips a-dare
Satyrs and nymphs go chanting Bacchus' hymn;
Lost in the rapture of its pagan thrill
"'Beauty is truth, truth beauty,' everywhere,"
I murmur, dreaming with my books, and turn
To a young poet, singing to an urn.

THE Johns Hopkins hospital has set a mark of five years in which to discover the cause of common colds. We can't help out Johns Hopkins any about the cause, but we can tell them the cure. We know it's the cure because it's what everybody tells us when we begin to sniffle. Go right home, soak your feet in hot water, take a stiff drink of whisky, and go to bed under two big warm woolen blankets. Of course, these days, when things are the way they are, the trouble will be to get the two big warm woolen blankets.

FROM THE TRIBUNE'S COLUMNS

16 YEARS AGO TODAY

OCTOBER 9, 1914.

LONDON.—The Germans are bombarding Antwerp furiously. The invaders' sixteen inch siege guns are hurling their devastating shells right into the heart of the temporary capital of tiny Belgium. Dispatches from Ostend say that many parts of the town are in flames. A dispatch from Ghent says King Albert left Antwerp yesterday.

CHICAGO.—An indictment against William Lorimer and Joseph P. Gallagher, his associate in the construction firm of the Lorimer & Gallagher company, was returned by the federal grand jury probing the La Salle Street bank crash. It is based on worthless loans of $56,500 of depositors' money made to the construction company when the bank was a national institution.

CHICAGO.—An exposure of the cooperation of policemen, lawyers, and bondsmen with known criminals was begun before the city council commission on crime. Three investigators were called to the stand. Posing as confidence men, two of them had been arrested and they fooled Chief Halpin of the detective bureau and his right hand men. The third man, who engineered the false arrest and negotiated with the professional bondsman in the case, was a reporter for THE TRIBUNE, loaned to the commission at the request of Chairman Charles E. Merriam.

OCTOBER 9, 1900.

CHICAGO.—Fifteen thousand persons packed the great tent at North avenue and Clark street to hear Senator Chauncey M. Depew of New York speak on the issues of the campaign, while 5,000 more clamored in vain for admission.

CHICAGO.—Mandamus proceedings brought by the Chicago Teachers' federation to compel the scheduling of corporation capital stock for taxation were followed by the filing of such schedules. Miss Catherine Goggin, president of the federation, and Miss Margaret Haley, who have charge of the proceedings, however, are dissatisfied, and action will be taken to have some of the totals raised.

CHICAGO.—At the close of the performance of "Rip Van Winkle" at Powers' theater, which long will be held memorable, Joseph Jefferson gave Rip's last toast to the audience. "I drink to your health and to your family," he said, "and may you live long and prosper." He was given an enthusiastic ovation as he appeared, and in his talk grew reminiscent. He said it was thirty years since he first acted the character of Rip in Chicago, and sixty years since he first came to Chicago as an actor. He acted the character, he said, before the fathers and mothers of many in the audience, and probably before some of their grandparents. It was in 1839 when he arrived here by boat, to find a village of 2,000.

OCTOBER 9, 1880.

PARIS.—De Lesseps announced at the last meeting of the Academy of Science that operations for carrying out the scheme of a Panama canal are about to begin, under auspices of a syndicate composed of the leading financial establishments of America and Europe.

CHICAGO.—John McCullough presented his great interpretation of "King Lear" at Haverly's last night to an audience which crowded the theater and received the work with the liveliest enthusiasm.

CLEVELAND, O.—About 400 young men of Cleveland who will cast their first votes on Oct. 12 called on Gen. Garfield yesterday at his home in Mentor and presented him with a eulogistic address. He replied in a humorous, happy and eloquent speech.

EDITORIAL—Nine years ago today, as every person then resident in Chicago will vividly remember, occurred the burning of our beautiful city, and what has followed? Many predicted that it would take at least 25 years to rebuild, and today, nine years after, we have one of the finest business and resident cities in the world. Looking back to that fearful morning it is pleasant to contemplate the vast work that has been done; to realize that what seemed then an unmitigated, irretrievable disaster had unseen promises of a grander fruition even in its black and ugly ruins.

WORLD'S FAIR EMPLOYMENT.

Chicago, Oct. 4.—During Chicago's good will tourists' visit to Peoria, Dr. Rudolph Clemen stated regarding the coming World's Fair, "Five large World's Fair buildings are now under construction or will be built in the next few months."

This information, while undoubtedly correct, is bound to encourage the unemployed of Peoria and other cities to flock to Chicago hoping to obtain occupation on these contemplated buildings. As is generally known, thousands of our own citizens are unemployed and are eagerly seeking an opportunity to get work on the World's Fair. The charity and relief organizations are making provision for the hardest winter in the city's history from the standpoint of unemployment. In all fairness to our own out of work and in justice to those who may be encouraged to come here by these "boosting" trips, shouldn't warning be given that the labor market is already overcrowded, and disappointment sure and certain will meet those coming here seeking occupation?

NIGHT SCHOOL FEES.

Chicago, Sept. 26.—On Sept. 17, under the signature of H. W. H., there appeared a complaint about the fees charged in evening schools. A $2 registration fee is required in all opportunity evening high schools, and a $5 fee in each of the three accredited evening high schools. The increase in the registration fee in accredited evening high schools is due to the fact that the session in these schools is twice as long as in the opportunity schools. Credit is given for the work done on the same basis as in the day high schools, and a diploma of graduation from a high school is secured upon the completion of the work. This diploma admits students to any college or university. Furthermore, these registration fees are refunded to the student if he has attended three-fourths of the total number of evenings of the session, so that very little of the amount paid as registration fees is retained by the board of education. If school equipment or material purchased by the board of education is used by the student, one-half the registration fees are retained to pay for the use of the equipment and for the material used. It costs the board of education in the neighborhood of half a million dollars annually to conduct the evening schools, and so it is manifestly unfair even to wonder "what the board of education does with this excess pin money."

LONDON IS QUIET.

Chicago, Sept. 26. — The proposed crusade against unnecessary noises in Chicago would be welcome news if there were any prospect of results. No people, unless insanely fond of noise, would tolerate the constant honking of automobiles in the business center. This bedlam is wholly unnecessary. Drivers do not purposely obstruct traffic, and they are just as anxious to drive on as the impatient ones back of them.

London, twice the size of Chicago, is almost entirely free from this nuisance. It is simply a case of bad manners, and it is doubtful whether the offenders can be reformed.

ALEXANDER GREENE.

FROM A VETERAN READER.

Chicago, Sept. 26.—I have been reading your paper for the last 53 years and can't get along without it, though I have been disgusted with the course you have pursued for several years, especially since the prohibition law was passed by congress and signed by the President of the United States. The law, then, according to our basic law, is to be equally enforced in all the states—referendums and individual resistance is nonsense until the law is repealed. Lest we forget, lest we forget: In 1832 congress passed a law putting a tariff on muslin and cotton goods. The South Carolina legislature passed a law ordering the customs officers and agents out of the state and set a date for them to be out, and if not out then the state would put them out. The governor notified President Jackson of the law, and he notified the governor that on that date a fleet of troops and warships would be in the harbor of South Carolina and see to it that the customs officers and agents would remain in that state and the law be enforced.

THE SUN'S HEAT.

Chicago, Oct. 6.—I read with interest THE TRIBUNE editorial Oct. 3, "No Light Between Sun and Earth," and it confirms the theory I have preached for years.

The ancient astronomers believed and taught that the sun was an enormous fiery body set in heaven solely for this earth. This fallacy is still believed today by many and even by some scientists. It may be heresy to say that the sun is not hot, nor even luminous, but it is somewhat like our globe and contains many of the metals found here, but with this difference: That it has the inherent quality or power to emit, discharge, or throw out enormous invisible energetic rays somewhat similar to electrons, and when they reach our atmosphere we have light and heat.

That heat from combustion, no matter how intense, can travel the millions of miles to the furthermost planet in the solar system without losing its potency is hard to imagine, as it is contrary to nature's laws. L. W. F.

BROKEN WINDOWS, $200,000.

Chicago, Sept. 29.—A large portion of our school buildings consists of glass. The damage, mostly done by vandals, costs the board of education about $200,000 per year, an enormous sum, that has to be met by the taxpayers. The board of education is sending investigators in the various districts who try to educate the public in every possible way. Radio talks and newspaper articles are to be used to that end. Isn't it about time that the parents wake up to a realization of the misdeeds of their offspring and try to restrain them in the interest of the community? FRED M. JACOBS.

GOLF FOR MENTAL ILLS.

Chicago, Oct. 6.—Saturday there was an article on the first page of THE TRIBUNE telling about a midget golf course about to be built at one of the New York state hospitals for the mentally sick ex-service men. I would like to call your attention to the fact that at the Elgin state hospital, Elgin, Ill., they already have such a golf course for the ex-service men stationed there. This course has been in operation for two months and is doing a world of good. The men enjoy it and take a great interest in making a good score.

It is Studebaker's deliberate judgment that

is the greatest development in automotive engineering since the self starter

Why America is going free wheeling

MOMENTUM is generated by every automobile. But until Studebaker developed Free Wheeling with positive gear control it was wasted. Not only was it wasted, but in the process caused wear and tear on engine, propeller shaft, universal joints, clutch, transmission, differential and rear axle. Not only that but it pumped unwanted oil and gasoline through the engine—more waste.

CUTS OPERATING COSTS—Free Wheeling puts momentum to work—under control. It saves 12% to 20% in gas and oil. It adds immeasurably to chassis life and cuts repair bills. The engine works only 8 miles while the car travels 10. Free Wheeling merits a slogan like that with which coaster-brake bicycles made obsolete all cycles not so equipped: "Ride all day—pedal halfway." But even if Free Wheeling cost more instead of less—America would go Free Wheeling.

BETTER PERFORMANCE—Free Wheeling gives the driver a new and thrilling sensation of freedom of movement. And it results in undreamed-of ease of shifting. You may move the gearshift lever back and forth between high and second at any car speed, without touching the clutch.

QUIET—Even in second you may glide smoothly forward without a sound.

SAFETY—The full braking power of the engine is instantly and easily available even at high speeds.

LOW ONE-PROFIT PRICES—Those who are driving Free Wheeling Studebaker Eights will tell you that they would demand this great engineering advancement even if it cost more and even if there were no savings in cost of operation. But Studebaker Eights cost less to operate and they are built on the famous Studebaker One-Profit basis—built to the standards of quality established by Studebaker through 78 years.

IN our announcement advertising we said, Free Wheeling under positive gear control is the greatest development in automotive engineering since the self starter was introduced nineteen years ago.

The American public is confirming it by purchases of Studebaker cars. Here are the facts:

JULY

Free Wheeling Commanders and Presidents were announced July 10th and Studebaker jumped to 6th place in number of new cars registered in July.

AUGUST

Other manufacturers either announced new models or reduced prices in July and August, but Studebaker advanced to 5th place among the 45 makes of new cars registered in August.

SEPTEMBER

On September 18th a new Dictator Eight with Free Wheeling was announced and Studebaker ranks fourth in some of the few states from which registration reports have been received.

These other features of the new Studebaker Eights would put them ahead of all competition even without Free Wheeling.

C. & N. W. CHIEF DEFENDS BUYING FROM SHIPPERS

Sargent Says Railroad Favors Friends.

BY WILLIAM SHINNICK.

Railroad purchases of supplies on the basis of reciprocity, meaning that big shippers get big equipment and supply contracts, were defended yesterday by Fred W. Sargent, president of the Chicago and North Western road who appeared as a witness in an interstate commerce commission hearing at the Hotel Sherman.

"I am an old fashioned Republican," he said, "and if reciprocity is good between nations it ought to be good between individuals. When I was practicing law I used to keep my funds and my clients' funds in the bank that retained me; I didn't keep them in a competing bank.

"If you try to change the system of trading with your friends you'll have to change all the business of the United States."

Does Not Favor Premiums.

Mr. Sargent explained that he did not mean a premium should be paid to any seller of railroad requirements because he was a shipper, but that, all things being equal from the standpoint of price, service and quality, the customers of the road were to be favored.

In one instance, the North Western president admitted under questioning, a low bidder had been passed over a favor of one slightly higher who was a good customer of his road. In brief, the story was that the Heywood-Wakefield company, long a shipper on the North Western, cut off all its traffic and the carrier was informed this was done because it was not getting any contracts to furnish car seats.

Bids Below Cost, Claim.

"I refused to discuss the matter until this embargo had been lifted," Mr. Sargent asserted. "Then representatives of this company told me that the company that was getting contracts was selling to us below cost in an effort to make some competitor merge with them. I knew this was true, and, as we desire to have those who sell us stay in business and make a fair profit, I told our purchasing department to favor Heywood-Wakefield over the other concern. The latter was low by only about $500 on the contract we had at that time, for five cars."

Usually, he said, the road did not allow rebates by friendly concerns after it was learned that others, not shippers, were lower. He said he did not believe that large concerns like the Chicago packers had ever changed any routings because of favors shown or denied to equipment concerns in which packing executives might have been interested.

Denies Banking Influence.

Asked whether any large banking interests had attempted to sway purchases, Mr. Sargent said they had not, and continued to remark that he made the policies of the Chicago and North Western, subject only to his board of directors.

The interstate commerce commission, on its own motion, is investigating to determine the extent of reciprocity trading and whether it results in railroads sometimes paying a premium to companies that she large shippers. In the last year and a half commission employés have examined millions of letters in railroad files and have gathered millions of words of evidence. It has tended to show that the practice is general, but little to demonstrate directly that it costs the roads anything to buy on this basis.

'ABSOLVE STORE OWNER AFTER HE KILLS PROWLER

A coroner's jury late yesterday returned a verdict of justifiable homicide in the case of Edward Smith, 20 years old, who was shot to death early yesterday by Harry Langan, proprietor of an ice cream parlor at 5558 Stony Island avenue, as he tried to enter the place through a rear window.

Langan, who was sleeping in the place was awakened and opened fire when he heard glass falling from a window which Smith was believed to have broken accidentally.

The slain youth's mother, Mrs. Margaret Smith, 5437 Kimbark avenue, testified that her son had been crippled since he was eight years old and had been despondent because he could not hold a job.

TWO HELD FOR MURDER.

Tony Lucas, 48 years old, and James Bissel, 43 years old, were held to the grand jury yesterday on charges of murder for the death of Willis Johnson, 50 years old, in a fight at 509 West Madison street, where all three lived.

RUSSIA SETS UP HUGE WAR CHEST TO INVADE EUROPE

Seeks $75,000,000 to Seize Bessarabia.

BY LORIMER HAMMOND.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, Oct. 8.—The soviet Russian general staff has intimated that 150,000,000 gold rubles [$75,000,000] will be the approximate cost of taking Bessarabia from Rumania next spring by force of arms. Despite hasty denials from Moscow, it is known that a war chest for the Bessarabia project has already been established, with $15,000 deposited as a nucleus. If the plan goes through the rest is to be raised by special sales of Russian produce and national treasures.

Thus far the controlling members of the political bureau have been unable to agree on the advisability of attacking Rumania. Three members claim that nothing but a quick and popular war of conquest can save the present administration from passing out along with the slow death of the Russian five year plan.

War Chief Favors Plan.

These three are Molotov, second secretary of the Russian Communist party; Koganovitch, third secretary of the party, and War Minister Voroshilov. Rudzutak, Rykov, and Kubishev oppose the entire scheme of undertaking any armed action in Europe. They say the expense would be too great and there would be too much danger of outside interference. None of these three are Communist party officials.

Joseph Stalin, dictator, is believed to be more in favor of the Bessarabian adventure than against it. He, however, will not commit himself until the soviet diplomatic representatives in London, Paris, and other European capitals have had time to make careful investigations in order to foresee as clearly as possible how the big powers would react.

Fear French Interference.

The war element in Moscow has already made a preliminary survey from every political angle and has drawn the following conclusions:

First, it is contended that a quick, surprise military action against Roumania might not necessarily bring on a real war. According to this argument, Rumania is more likely to accept the soviet terms than to fight, and Russia would enjoy the advantage of a hasty settlement designed to preserve peace at all costs.

The greatest danger seen is the possibility of French interference. But, it is asserted, the Red army could, by an extremely swift invasion, force Rumania into a settlement before the French would have time to interfere.

Discount British Action.

In case of real hostilities, the general staff figures that France would be obligated to give Rumania technical help—chiefly aircraft—and that Italy would also try to help Rumania in the air.

British intervention is considered improbable if the Red campaign can be put into action while the Labor government is in power. Otherwise it is thought that any Russian move against Rumania would bring the British fleet into the Black sea. The soviet authors of this Bessarabian war plan do not want to involve naval operations. They want to depend upon a swift raid across the Dniester river.

Germany, they calculate, would do nothing until peace negotiations were started between Moscow and Bucharest. They think they could then count on German diplomatic support.

Speculation Over Hungary.

One important factor in this soviet war plan is the attitude Hungary is expected to take. In event of a Bessarabian revolt Hungary, it is contended, would not fail to seize the opportunity to press her claims against Rumania for a revision of the Transylvanian frontier, and would also make strong demands in behalf of Hungarian minorities in Rumania.

Last July there was a bitter quarrel in the political bureau when Molotov, Koganovitch, and Voroshilov demanded a large increase in grain exports in order to swell the war chest. Kalinin, president of the soviet union, opposed them, and was supported by Rudzutak and Ordjanikidze. Stalin voted for the fund, and the grain exports were accordingly raised. It was also decided to increase the lumber export.

Art Treasures to Be Sold.

To realize the $75,000,000 war chest, masterpieces from the soviet national art museums will be sold abroad. A secret list of these treasures has already been prepared, naming the ones which will be sold.

From the famous Hermitage museum a priceless collection of ancient Greek and Egyptian statuary will be "liquidated." The list also includes a noted Rubens collection; twenty valuable masterpieces from the Tretiakov gallery at Moscow and the finest items from Shukin's gallery, which is famous for its collection of modern paintings by Rehoir, Matisse, and Van Gogh.

It is expected that $25,000,000 will be raised from the sale of these art treasures.

DIES AT OFFICE DESK.

Leo Seely, 37 years old, 11307 Church street, died of a heart attack yesterday at his desk at the Federal Spring company, 7409 Stony Island avenue, where he was manager.

48TH OF BRITISH AIRSHIP'S CREW DIES IN FRANCE

Rigger's Father, Fiancee Lose Death Race.

BY EDMOND TAYLOR.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

BEAUVAIS, France, Oct. 8.—The death toll in the R-101 disaster rose to 48 this afternoon when Samuel Church, one of the dirigible's riggers, died at the hospital from burns received when the airship exploded and crashed on its maiden flight to India last Saturday.

Shortly before his death Church's father and fiancée were wired to take a plane for Beauvais, according to the dying man's last wish, but they were prevented from starting immediately by unfavorable weather conditions. They arrived at 7 p. m., three hours after his death.

Will Rush Body to England.

The British vice consul arranged to rush the body to Calais tomorrow morning in order to reach London in time for the funeral services Friday. Despite a driving cold rain, French and British experts spent another day poking amid the steel and aluminum carcass of the crumpled airship. They still have hopes of finding the ship's log, which contains the key to the disaster. They will continue their investigation tomorrow, but do not expect to make any announcement before Air Commodore Holt, who is heading the inquiry, returns from the funeral.

It was stated this afternoon that the British experts already have a fairly definite idea regarding the cause of the disaster, and that on Air Commodore Holt's return from England they will lay the information before their superiors and receive instructions on the manner of continuing the investigation.

BRITAIN MOURNS DEAD

LONDON, Oct. 8.—Britain today paid homage to the 47 dead of the R-101, whose bodies lie in purple draped coffins in the mortuary chapel of Westminster Abbey. Over each coffin was a flag. Throngs passed through the chapel throughout the day.

Tomorrow the bodies will be removed to Westminster hall, where the bodies of King Edward VII. and William E. Gladstone lay in state. The hall will be opened to the public Friday from 8 a. m. until 10 p. m.

The memorial services on Friday will be in two parts. The Church of England memorial will be held in St. Paul's cathedral, while Westminster cathedral will be the scene of a mass of requiem by the church of Rome. Distinguished visitors of other lands will attend both services, along with British officialdom. Dr. Hugo Eckener, commander of the Graf Zeppelin, has announced he will be present.

Burial on Saturday.

The prince of Wales will represent King George. The services will be broadcast from all stations in the British isles. On Saturday the coffins will be removed to Cardington by train for a common burial at the home port of the R-100 and the R-101.

Many relatives of the airship victims made positive identification at the mortuary chapel today. Lady Brancker, widow of Sir W. Sefton Brancker, director of civil aviation, identified her husband's monocle. The bodies of Flight Lieutenant C. H. Irwin, the R-101's captain; Wing Commander R. B. B. Colmore, Lieut. Col. C. C. Richmond, and M. A. Giblett, meteorological officer, were identified.

An inquest was opened today by Coroner Ingleby Oddie, who adjourned it pending the appointment of a successor to Lord Thomson, minister of air.

LOS ANGELES, IN AIR SERVICE FOR 6 YEARS, JUST AS GOOD AS NEW

Washington, D. C., Oct. 8.—(AP)—Two to four more years of life were forecast for the Los Angeles, the huge navy dirigible, by the board of inspection and survey of the navy department today after a study of the physical condition of the ship.

Christened the Los Angeles by Mrs. Calvin Coolidge in 1924, the ship already has lived double the three year period predicted by its makers, the German Zeppelin company.

"The Los Angeles is now over six years old and has had over 2,500 hours under way, representing over 110,000 air miles, and in addition has operated about 1,200 hours at mooring masts," the report said. "This represents a longer useful life than that of any rigid airship known to date."

HUNT BAND WHO HELD BANKER'S FAMILY CAPTIVE

Sheriff Harry Jones of Grundy county, aided by officers of the Illinois Bankers' Protective association, last night was investigating clews in connection with the robbery early yesterday of the First National bank of Mazon, Ill., of $13,000, by four bandits. The robbers held the bank president, Gardie E. Clapp, his family, and a neighbor, in captivity most of the night before forcing the banker to open the bank safe at 5 a. m.

The gunmen appeared at the Clapp home in Mazon about 7:30 o'clock Tuesday evening, placed Mrs. Clapp in a bedroom and, as the banker and his son, Edwin, 17 years old, came home, made them captive. A neighbor, Miss Mildred Strouell, coming to call, was also made prisoner. Until 5 a. m. the bandits spun stories, played the radio and talked politics. Then, with the remark that "the time lock is off now" two of the robbers escorted Mr. Clapp to the bank, forced him to unlocy the safe, and put the currency into a suit case.

Returning to the Clapp home, they bound their prisoners back to back with adhesive tape and departed. Reserve funds were rushed to the bank from Joliet and the institution opened for business at 9 a. m. as usual. Clapp said the loss was covered by insurance.

Cold Keeps Mayor Walker in Bed and Off His Job

New York, Oct. 8.— [Special.] — Mayor James J. Walker was confined to his bed today with a cold. He had not been feeling well for several days and complained last night of a slightly sore throat. Today his physician advised him to spend the day in bed.

CONVICT FORMER CONGRESSMAN ON LIQUOR CHARGES

Two Others Found Guilty with M. Herrick.

Baltimore, Md., Oct. 8.—(AP)—Manuel Herrick, former Oklahoma congressman, and two men who were tried with him on charges of manufacturing and possessing liquor, were convicted today in federal District court. Judge Morris A. Soper said he would impose sentences tomorrow.

Herrick was arrested in a raid on a still in southern Maryland on Aug. 8. He was working as a $15 a week handy man. On the stand today he declared he was getting evidence for the prohibition department at Washington.

Two Convicted with Him.

J. P. Moore, a subordinate of Amos W. W. Woodcock, director of prohibition, told him, he testified, that "I'll be very glad to have you give me any information that you acquire about prohibition law violators, but I can't guarantee you immunity from arrest or recompense for your work."

Acting as his own attorney, he took with him to the stand what he called "a record book" and read notes on his activities while working at the still.

The men convicted with him were William F. Rirey, who Herrick said employed him, and Pius B. Ennels, a Negro.

Elected to Congress in 1920.

Herrick was elected to congress from the Eighth Oklahoma district in the Harding landslide of 1920, but ran a poor third when he sought reelection in 1922.

In 1921 he was the defendant in a $50,000 suit brought at Washington by the guardian of a New York girl, and later, Miss Ethelyn Chrane, his Oklahoma stenographer, sued him for slander. Herrick countered with a breach of promise action.

His term of office over, Herrick's fortunes drifted downward. Tonight he was sent back to jail, where he has been since his arrest in default of $1,500 bail.

KNIFE WIELDER SENT TO CELL.

Sam Light, 65 years old, 8029 Parnell avenue, a carpenter, was sentenced to 60 days in the Bridewell and fined $100 yesterday by Judge Max Luster. Clayton Williams charged that Light stabbed him with a knife while intoxicated.

Hugh Gibson, U. S. Envoy to Belgium, Visits City

Hugh Gibson, American ambassador to Belgium, paid a brief visit to Chicago yesterday. He was returning to his post from California, where he was called recently by the death of his mother. Ambassador Gibson declared the cause of disarmament is making slow but sure progress, and that while local flareups delay the movement they cannot halt the world-wide trend toward permanent peace. He left in the afternoon for Washington, where he expects to confer with President Hoover.

Sale of $3,000,000 Lake Front Bonds Authorized

The Lincoln park commissioners at their regular meeting yesterday authorized the sale on Oct. 29 of $3,000,000 bonds voted a year ago for park improvement and extension. The bonds are to be used for the extension of the outer drive northward from Montrose avenue and for other lake front improvements.

NASH Announces . .

3 new EIGHTS and a new SIX

NEVER was such motor car quality offered at prices so sensationally low. The literally startling difference becomes at once apparent when you contrast the prices of the new and finer Nash series, with prices of corresponding models a year ago.

Coming at this time, these wholly remarkable values constitute an achievement of special import, not only to those who buy—but to those who manufacture motor cars, as well.

This unique example in value-giving was planned last November. At that time, C. W. Nash and the strong group of executives surrounding him, clearly foresaw present conditions. They at once began to design cars affording value so great, so unmistakable, as to overcome all buying reluctance.

The result is instantly apparent. Even casual inspection of the four new Nash cars establishes the fact that nothing even remotely approaching them in downright dollar value has ever been available in their respective price fields. The low non-productive Nash overhead, the fact that Nash operates entirely without the heavy financial burden of borrowed capital, and the foresightedness of the Nash organization, alone enable Nash to offer so much for so little.

These three factors have combined to produce in these cars beauty and luxury and performance so notable, at prices so low by contrast, as to win for Nash a still larger place in the minds and the hearts of the motoring public.

Whatever style of car you desire, there is a Nash suited to your needs. Come in at once—drive one of these thrilling new cars—let us appraise your present car.

SENSATIONALLY PRICED !

STUDY THESE SENSATIONAL PRICES!

Compare what is probably the most remarkable achievement of Nash in greater value-giving—the New Six—with the Single Six it succeeds. The New Six offers a multitude of superiorities—at prices which range from $160 to $140 below the prices of the Single Six.

MICHIGAN HAS A TEAM IF IT CAN BE PICKED OUT

But Who Are the 11 Best Men?

BY IRVING VAUGHAN.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Ann Arbor, Mich., Oct. 8.—[Special.] —In the quarters given over to the construction of a University of Michigan football team there is hope but fervid that everything is problematical.

Coach Harry Kipke, once himself a Wolverine performer of consequence, thinks that inside of 48 hours a good portion of his problems may be solved. He thinks, or at least hopes, he will in that time find the proper places for the many youths who have indicated their possibilities as stars.

The hurry to determine these things, of course, is occasioned by the fact that Purdue, about the toughest, most versatile outfit in the Big Ten is coming here Saturday to demonstrate its stuff, and that isn't the half of it. After Purdue the Wolverines must meet up with Ohio State, Illinois and Harvard, which constitutes a stiff schedule in any league.

All Positions Open.

The trouble with the Maize and Blue so far as can be determined now, is that there hasn't been time to figure out which fellow is better than the other. Almost every position is open to applicants who can show the qualifications. The one post that was vested down from the start was the end occupied by Bill Hewitt, the only proven star available. He broke an ankle last Saturday and that dismissed him for the season. Now Michigan needs not one but two ends. The nice feature of the predicament is that they may be found, but probably not until after a couple of games.

Another item that buoys the Wolverines' hopes is the possibility of a better line than a year ago. Some of the men who helped to make that wall have departed, but it is the fresh blood that has caused the chances for improvement. Kipke has learned, like other coaches, notably Bob Zuppke, that great performers frequently fall down on the job in their senior year. Experience makes them less susceptible to the plaudits of the mob. When a fellow becomes a senior he is pretty well convinced that football is a tough game and that the honors are short lived.

Here Are the Problems.

The quickest and most convincing way in which to explain the state of Michigan's football affairs is to point out what must be done eventually if not before the champion Boilermakers get here Saturday for the first time in two decades. Here are a few of the problems:

1. The quarter backing, which involves the handling of the team's attack, is doubtful between two men.

2. No sure fire forward pass attack has been developed. Only two passes were completed when Michigan State held the Wolverines to a scoreless tie last week.

3. What was regarded as the best lineup started against the State team, but five of these positions may have different occupants at the start of the game with Purdue.

Yet with all these things undetermined Kipke still believes Michigan has an outside chance to blow up the Boilermakers. He thinks the defense will be good enough to hold Purdue, and that a line battering attack, or a break, might prove sufficient to outpoint the visitors.

In the practice this evening Kipke began some experiments. He returned Dravelling to right end in scrimmage. Dravelling, after two years as wing man, has been moved to tackle and out up with an injury. With him out of the way Samuels was employed in his berth and his work so far has indicated he might be satisfactory. That releases Dravelling for end duty but whether his injury or his skill will let him supplant Daniels will not be known for another day. Before getting his chance at tackle Samuels was a guard.

Hudson Shows Promise.

One of the youths touted as a possible star in the back field is Marty Hudson, a junior, who originally was a half back but now operates at full. He not only can plunge, but is fast enough to split through the tackles. Against Michigan State he advanced the ball 74 yards in 22 attempts. The only back who came even close to him was Charley Debaker who was a half back, moved up 62 yards in 16 efforts. Debaker is one of the boys trying to win a job away from Willie Heston, offspring of a Michigan hero of Michigan's days of a point a minute teams.

Kipke has another full back possibility of worth in Duval Goldsmiths, a Virginian, who put in five years at his position while at military school. Picking the quarter back is a matter of deciding between the safety first and the daring type. The cautious one was Tessmer, who started last Saturday. He displayed an inclination to hesitate when the hostile line was close. The take a chance boy is Newman, a short, heavy set lad. Both are sophomores.

North or South, Methodist or Catholic—All One Family

BY ARCH WARD.

What happens when a Methodist from the south exchanges blows with a Catholic from the north in the heat of a great football battle?

Why, they shake hands and apologize, of course.

If you don't believe it, ask any one who saw Southern Methodist play Notre Dame at South Bend last Saturday.

It was a furious, up and at 'em struggle all the way. Until the last few minutes the score was tied, 14 to 14. A tie would be equivalent to victory for the lads from the south. A tie always is a defeat for Notre Dame.

When the fighting was hardest a Methodist leg took a kick at the seat of a Catholic's pants. A Catholic fist immediately cracked against a Methodist jaw. Umpire John Schommer saw the goings on. Calling the two players aside he addressed them as follows:

"I ought to throw both of you out of the game. You, John Blank, are representing a great Methodist university. You, Pat Blank, are wearing the colors of a Catholic school. What will those 25,000 persons up in the stands think if I have to rule you out of the game? Shake hands and apologize or I'll send you away."

"I'm sorry," said the lad from Texas to the boy from Indiana.

"Same here," was the reply.

The game went on without repetition of the offense. After it was over there was a general exchange of pleasantries among the players.

Proving once more that we are all one big happy family.

GARDNER CALMS BRUDER.

Schommer's action in settling a dispute between youths fired by the heat of conflict is evidence of the kind of officiating we are getting these days. The men picked to handle the big football games, particularly in the Western conference, appreciate more and more that they are there to help the players observe the rules, not to display their authority officiously.

Last Saturday Hank Bruder, star back field man on the Northwestern eleven, threw a forward pass against Tulane that was ruled illegal because he wasn't five yards behind the line of scrimmage. Bruder stormed around with uncomplimentary remarks about the officiating.

A few moments later time was taken out. Fred Gardner, the referee, called Bruder aside and said:

"Hank, I didn't make the football rules. I merely am here to see that they are observed. I was sorry to call back that play, but you weren't five yards behind the scrimmage line. There was nothing else to do."

Bruder, realizing that after all Gardner was only doing his duty, said he was sorry for his remarks and believed Gardner was right.

HOW OFFICIALS ARE PICKED.

Have you ever heard how officials are chosen to work the big games? If not, this information may be interesting.

After every game the coaches of the rival teams send a report on the officiating to Maj. John L. Griffith, commissioner of the Western conference. The officials also file a report on the other arbiters—whether they know the rules thoroughly, whether they are prompt to enforce them, etc. Maj. Griffith himself provides the third check. He watches a different group work every Saturday.

At the end of the season they are rated according to the reports of the coaches and officials and Griffith's observation.

The five leading conference referees for 1930, according to this appraisal, are Frank Birch, James Masker, Fred Gardner, Joe Magidsohn, and Dr. J. H. Nichols.

2 INJURIES CUT IRISH VARSITY TO A MERE 120 MEN

Donoghue, Mullins Won't Be Used Saturday.

BY EDWARD BURNS.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

South Bend, Ind., Oct. 8.—Coach Knute Rockne has a great deal of respect for the football team representing the United States Naval academy, which will appear against the Notre Dame boys here in the dedicatory game at the new stadium Saturday, but he isn't so steamed up that he'll take a chance on playing any of the athletes who got scuffed up by Southern Methodist last week.

The most notable of the athletes who are scuffed up are Moon Mullins, first string full back, and Dick Donoghue, first string right tackle. Both of these lads could play if the emergency were deemed sufficiently urgent, but they are not going to play, come what may, Coach Rockne announced after today's workout.

There Are a Few Players Left.

Of course there are other players trying out for the eleven, and Mr. Rockne's plight at losing two players for one game isn't as pitiable as it might be. At this afternoon's practice, for instance, there were 120 varsity candidates in uniform, 109 of whom will not be in the starting lineup against Navy Saturday.

Of these, all 109 would gladly play any position in Saturday's game that Mr. Rockne told them to, so it is certain that even with Mullins and Donoghue on the side lines, the full back and right tackle jobs will be adequately taken care of when the starting whistle blows.

The practice today was quite spirited, with a scrimmage and everything. It was the last severe scrimmage before the big dedication show on Saturday.

It's a Bit Confusing.

We saw it all, but having just come from the world series, we were a little bit confused by so many athletes running around in padded pants. When the drill was over, Mr. Rockne asked us what we thought of the team.

"Well," we said, "they certainly do look strong and willing. What do you think of the team, coach?"

"Well," says the coach, "I think they are a good team, only they're green and don't always heed my admonitions."

So that seems to be about the size of it. It is a strong and willing team, but it is a little green and the fellows don't always heed Mr. Rockne's admonitions.

Watching a Notre Dame practice is almost as good as watching a regular game at most places. In addition to the 120 varsity candidates, there are 60 freshmen, and outside of about a half dozen skinny fellows, Mr. Rockne knows them all by name.

What's the Chair For?

You remember, of course, that the Notre Dame head coach was an invalid last year and he's supposed to

WHEN CARDINALS WERE FORCED TO GIVE UP

Cardinal Grid Team Defeats Newark, 13-0

Pro Grid Scores.

Portsmouth Spartans, 39; Frankford, 7.
Chicago Cardinals, 13; Newark Tornadoes, 0.

New York, Oct. 8.—[Special.]—The Chicago Cardinals, without the services of Ernie Nevers in the back field, defeated the Newark Tornadoes, 13 to 0, tonight at the Newark City stadium.

Five thousand fans saw the professional league encounter, including Nevers, who sat on the Chicago bench in his street clothes. He was injured in the Portsmouth game last Sunday.

Scores on 25 Yard Run.

Both Chicago touchdowns were made in the second quarter and both were made by Gene Rose. The Cardinals found the left side of the Newark line weak and tore through that side to pave the way for the first touchdown. They worked the ball to the 25 yard line and Rose crashed through tackle for the touchdown. Bogue missed the try for the extra point.

Rose's second touchdown came late in the second quarter, after a Cardinal aerial attack had carried the ball to the two yard line. McDonald did the tossing with Maple receiving. Rose then slipped off left tackle for the touchdown. He also kicked the extra point. The score at half time was 13 to 0.

Newark Eleven Threatens.

The Newark team strengthened in the third and fourth periods. A series of forward passes in the third gave Newark the ball on Chicago's 20 yard line, but here the Cardinals held for downs and kicked out to avert the threat of a score.

Late in the fourth period the Tornadoes made several gains on punts by Jim Mooney, former Georgetown star. The game ended with the ball in midfield. The lineup:

PORTSMOUTH, 39; FRANKFORD, 7.

Portsmouth, O., Oct. 8.—(AP)—The Portsmouth Spartans routed the Frankford Yellow Jackets, 39 to 7, in a national professional league football game here tonight. Glasgow's 101 yard run through the whole Yellow Jacket squad featured the game. Frankford made its only score in the first quarter when the Spartans used second stringers.

LEFTY O'DOUL.

Coach Joins Invalids at Purple Camp

Pat Hanley, line coach at Northwestern, is one member of the coaching staff who is ready to admit that the Wildcats are putting drive into their work.

While working with the line men Tuesday Pat got into the scrimmage to demonstrate how to block. After running several plays, he was put out of action by a hard blow on the chest. Yesterday he appeared in the coaches' quarters with X-ray negatives which revealed two fractured ribs.

The players themselves are none too well off physically as they approach Saturday's struggle with Ohio State. Several regulars are suffering from bumps and have been unable to take part in scrimmages scheduled against the frosh.

Capt. Hank Bruder, bundled in a sheepskin coat, watched yesterday's drill. He appeared weakened from an attack of the grippe and is not scheduled to get into a uniform until Saturday.

Other regulars kept out of yesterday's scrimmage were Kent, Woodworth, and Riley, line men, and Hanley and Russell, backs.

A call for additional players brought out twelve recruits yesterday. These men, together with several reserves, will make up the B squad which will go to Waukesha, Wis., Saturday for the annual game with Carroll college, since 1918.

Phils to Trade Robins O'Doul and Thompson

Philadelphia, Pa., Oct. 8.—[Special.] —Frank [Lefty] O'Doul, leading batter of the National league in 1929, and Fresco Thompson, second baseman, will play with the Brooklyn Robins next year. In exchange for these two players, the Brooklyn club will give William E. Baker, president of the Phillies, $25,000 in cash and four players, Ray Moss, pitcher; Jake Flowers, second baseman; Gordon Slade, shortstop, and Harvey Hendrick, outfielder.

Robins Refused Terms.

The Robins almost landed O'Doul during the 1930 season. Baker named his price and in addition insisted upon and outfielder and Moss. At that time the Robins were in a struggle with the Cubs for the pennant and Robbie refused to part with his young right hander.

Now he is willing to trade him down the river along with Flowers, Slade and Hendrick. While the deal has not been announced officially, it probably will be in a day or two by the Brooklyn club.

O'Doul was up among the batting leaders this year. While a good hitter, he is not classed as a brilliant fielder and still uses his pitching throw when heaving a ball in from the outfield. There is no doubt that his batting will give the Robins a greater offensive punch next season.

Thompson's Worst Year.

Thompson played the worst ball of his big league career this year. He never seemed able to get started and was ridden hard by the fans here every time he missed one around second base. However, he is rated as one of the best second basemen in the league and should be a big improvement over Finn and Flowers.

ATHLETICS WILL GET $5,000 EACH; CARDINALS $3,350

Philadelphia, Pa., Oct. 8.—(AP)—The victory of the Athletics today gave them the winner's end of the money, approximately $5,000 per man, figured on a basis of their total of $136,027.69 being split into 27 shares. Last year each Mackman collected $5,620.57 for whipping the Chicago Cubs, the players' pool being much larger than this time.

The Cardinals will have their feelings soothed to the approximate extent of $3,350 each, figuring their purse of $90,684.14 on the same basis as the A's.

The total gate receipts for the series exceeded $950,000 and were the nearest to the million dollar mark since 1926.

BY WESTBROOK PEGLER.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Philadelphia, Pa., Oct. 8.—The world series commotion of 1930 died away in a pathetic calm this afternoon as the Philadelphia Athletics pounded away at four unfortunate parties wearing upon their shirt fronts the picturesque bird on a ball bat insignia of the St. Louis Cardinals. The Athletics won the final game, 7 to 1, and the series four games to two, and both teams quickly vanished from the scene after the closing putout, a fly ball to right.

GEORGE EARNSHAW.

A few customers hopped over the low barriers separating the grandstand from the playing field to touch the hems of the heroic vestments of George Earnshaw, the society man with entrée to the biggest houses in the Philadelphia suburbs, and of Mickey Cochrane, the catcher.

Seven Runs; Seven Hits.

The thirty thousand in the ball park and the 3,000 illegitimate customers who had been sniping long views of the game from temporary bleachers on the roofs of a block of shabby apartments across the street from the right field wall rose quietly and trudged away.

Earnshaw had held the Cardinals to five hits, but he had yielded only three until the ninth inning when, with a lead of seven runs, he seemed to feel no need for caution. The Athletics had made only seven hits themselves, but they were all long ones, two homers and five doubles. Moreover, Max Bishop scored twice and Jimmy Dykes once after bases on balls.

No Suspense at Any Time.

There was no suspense at any time, and the series may be said to have petered out instead of rising to a climax. Earnshaw was throwing a routine of speed and curves that defied successful molestation at all times until the final inning, and from his demeanor then it was quite apparent that he was not exerting himself with anything like desperation. In Mr. Earnshaw's set, one does not lose one's poise however trying the circumstances, and today's circumstances were such that the only member of the upper classes ever seen in the house livery of a major league baseball firm probably would have yawned himself a number of yawns but for the fact that this was another thing one does not do in public.

Wild Bill Hallahan, the little fellow who won one of the games for the Cardinals in the stand the clubs made in St. Louis, was the first appointee to pitch for the visitors today. After Max Bishop, the first batter, had been retired, Jimmy Dykes received a spontaneous, though by no means uproarious, vote of confidence from the patrons when he went to bat. Mr. Dykes had gummed up a couple of plays in the St. Louis games, and this pattering of palms and some rather strained whooping and yodeling assured him that his little failures were not being held against him.

Loiters Around for a Pass.

So, after boosting a long shot into the left field stands which might have been a home run but fell foul and therefore was only a common strike, he loitered around, swishing his bat in practice licks until Hallahan gave him a base on balls. Mickey Cochrane then fired a double over first base, which ripped through Jim Bottomley's

In the WAKE of the NEWS

TRIBUTE TO STAGG.

THE sun had set but a second ago, leaving the sky a darkening blue overhead, but changing to a pinkish and fiery red color as one's eyes followed an overhead east to west direction. As I was slowly walking west on 57th street I could smell the odor of cooking that emanated from the old "Commons."

Then my eyes chanced to rest on Stagg field. It was deserted now, there were no gay throngs of pretty girls wearing big maroon or yellow flowers on their coats or waving variolored pennants. I could hear no music of brass bands, there was no low loud undertone of conversation.

Yes, the place was deserted, almost ghostlike. The great stands were empty, tier upon tier of vacant seats met the eye, and then the blank walls seemed to say, "This is the home of 'the Old Man.'" Then I recalled how in the good old days Stagg year after year had one of the finest teams in the country, and I could picture him standing near the bench, his fingers twitching nervously and with every nerve and muscle on the alert.

The last chime echoed and reechoed across the campus. The spell was broken—Stagg field was behind me, but I breathed a fervent prayer that "the Old Man" might have this year a championship team, and that his son, Paul, might play no small part in leading the team to victories which would materialize the ambition of not a football coach, not one of the greatest authorities on football, but just "the Old Man."

An Admirer of Stagg.

Michigan and Notre Dame.

We have been asked by a reader the record of Michigan and Notre Dame games and why the two elevens do not meet now. We do not know any particular reason why these teams do not meet except that both have developed enough other rivals to keep a hard schedule filled. Here is their record:

1887—Michigan, 8; Notre Dame, 0.
1888—Michigan, 26; Notre Dame, 6.
1898—Michigan, 23; Notre Dame, 0.
1899—Michigan, 12; Notre Dame, 0.
1900—Michigan, 7; Notre Dame, 0.
1902—Michigan, 23; Notre Dame, 0.

Senators' First Baseman Gets License to Marry

Kansas City, Mo., Oct. 8.—(AP)—Joe Kuhel, first baseman for the Washington Senators, obtained a license today to wed Miss Willette West of Kansas City. Kuhel, who gave his age as 24, and that of Miss West as 20, said the ceremony will take place tomorrow in St. Francis Xavier church.

upstretched and yearning mitt, and Dykes began the scoring with a dash all the way from first. Cochrane, himself, went to third during a slight delay in the return of the ball which had rolled between Watkins' legs as he plodded in to back up Bottomley. This was an error for Watkins.

Al Simmons fanned, and the customers let loose another restrained ovation for Jimmy Foxx, the Maryland field hand, as he appeared, in memory of his home run in the ninth which won the fifth game in St. Louis. Foxx tried to bunt, but the ball rolled foul and Hallahan took a deep gouge of turf as his cleats tripped him on the run in the field. Mr. Eddie Collins came in from the coachers' box at third and held up the game a moment while he gathered up the divots and gentled them back into the sod, each root and blade, with his fingers.

Gives Hallahan Pained Glance.

This done, Mr. Collins stepped back, surveyed the damage, shot a pained glance at Hallahan, and returned to his coaching duties. A useful man, Mr. Collins, a strategist who is not above performing the tasks of the greundskeeper, if need be, and always careful to preserve his employers' property. Mr. Collins will deserve well of the firm and will succeed Mr. Connie Mack if Mr. Mack ever needs a successor.

Foxx walked, too, after considerable time devoted to inspection and rejection of the stuff Wild Will was throwing to him. He didn't score, but Cochrane came in from third when Bing Miller hit a double to center. The Athletics had all the runs they needed to win the game and the series when the first inning closed.

Statisticians Go to Work.

There was a morbid fascination about Jim Bottomley's futility at bat. Once a hitter of great distinction, Mr. Bottomley went through the series with only one hit, achieved several days ago, and when he struck out in the second inning for the ninth time in the series there were fluttering sounds all up and down the press row as the statisticians, those birds of ill omen who get up odd and unimportant records, riffled their books to discover that he was crowding the world series record of George Kelly, another first baseman, now of the Cubs.

When Mr. Kelly was with the Giants some years ago he struck out ten times in one of those series between the Giants and the Yankees. The record seemed likely to fall today, and anticipation lit the faces of the statisticians with a grewsome glow as the game went on. But Bottomley presently drew two bases on balls, and was revealed as having been on base only three times in 25 opportunities. On this sorrowing young man's behalf let it be said that he had played a long time with a bruise on one of his hands which hampered his stroke and post him many demerits on his report card.

First Hit Off Earnshaw.

George Fisher hit for Hallahan in the third inning and boosted one out to a blank spot between Moore in left and Simmons in center, a double, and the first intrusion on Earnshaw's authority. But there were two out then, and there was no profit for the Cardinals, for Douthit, the next hitter, couldn't develop the attack.

Sylvester Johnson relieved Hallahan, and Al Simmons, his first hitter, saluted him rudely with a high home run to the upper tier of the left field bleachers. Chick Hafey backed up to the wall and stood there, pensively scratching his back on the rough concrete, as the ball sailed by him to drop among the patrons. A bit of an uproar, not quite a tumult, celebrated this wallop. Bing Miller took the liberty of doubling a moment later, but this was a purely incidental exploit, for he merely stalled around waiting for a lift until three were out.

Ill Feeling Ends with Series.

Frisch hit a single in the fourth, but two were out at the time and Hafey failed him with a fly to Mule Haas, a young man who has been responsible for much of the vulgarity in the repartee between the clubs all through the series. All of Mr. Haas' remarks to the opposition have been in consummate bad taste, but now that the series is over the boys probably will carry over no ill feeling. The insult seems to be the standard coin in the conversation from bench to bench in the world series.

Not that the situation required any more scoring, Dykes sent a home run driving low and on a flat line into the left field bleachers in the fourth, scoring Max Bishop, who had walked. The A's had five runs now, and the customers were beginning to frisk their pockets for old letters to read.

Two more pitchers, Jim Lindsey and Herman Bell, came up from the Cardinals' dugout, blinking and apprehensive, to see the thing through in short spells of work.

When the fifth inning closed the Macks had their sixth run. Foxx led off with a hard drive, which caromed off Frisch's glove, and he arrived at second base before the ball was returned to the infield. Miller bunted Foxx to third, whence he scored on Haas' sacrifice fly to Douthit. Lindsey permitted the champions their final tally in the sixth, his first inning of toil. After Earnshaw had been retired, Bishop walked and went to third when Dykes doubled. Bishop then crossed the plate on Cochrane's sacrifice fly to Douthit. Simmons' fly to Watkins ended the inning.

St. Louis avoided the humiliation of a shutout in the ninth inning. Andy High, who had replaced Sparky Adams at third base, singled to right and moved to second when Watkins drew a base on balls. Frisch lined to Foxx, who ran over to first base for an unassisted double play, High remaining at second. Earnshaw whipped two strikes across on Hafey, and then the Cardinal fielder drove a double down the third base line, High racing to the plate. Bottomley was passed, but Jimmy Wilson ended the game with a fly to Miller.

Play the "St. Louis Blues."

The Shibe boys, owners of the Athletics, having hired no band to adorn their show, a small cluster of free lance horn tooters in plum colored uniforms suddenly bobbed up among the upper deck trade during the seventh inning to toodle a mournful medley of the "St. Louis Blues," the stein song, and Chopin's dirge. The stein song was included because it makes people feel bad.

The athletes of both clubs, with few exceptions, are now hospitable to any and all offers of employment in the allied arts of literature and the drama. The market for ball players' memoirs and opinions has been off several points this year, and one of the big entertainment syndicates recently decided to bar them from the stage and screen on the ground that they can't act, sing, dance, or otherwise justify their hire.

Card Hurlers Come and Go, but None Bats

Philadelphia, Pa., Oct. 8.—(AP)—Today's game was unusual in that not one Cardinal pitcher came to bat. Fisher batted for Hallahan in the third, Blades for Johnson in the sixth, and Orsatti for Lindsey in the eighth. In effect, it carried out the idea of President Heydler, made two years ago, that a tenth man should be in the lineup to hit for the pitcher.

The series was remarkable in that only once did either team hit for double figures in any game. The Cardinals collected ten hits in the third game off the pitching of Walberg, Shores and Quinn.

The two time world's champions got one or more men on the bags in every inning except the seventh and eighth, when they went out in order.

Connie Mack said Earnshaw did not tire in the ninth when he allowed two hits and two bases on balls. He was just a "little careless," said Mack.

Jimmy Foxx, who won Monday's game with St. Louis with a homer, was given a big cheer when he came to bat the first time.

The great ovation given to George Earnshaw when he came to bat in the eighth was enough to warm the heart of any ball player. He doffed his cap and hit a high fly to deep center.

"Darn good," said Connie Mack when asked how it feels to win a fifth world's championship. Connie was the master tactician to the very end. Asked after the game when and why he decided to pitch Earnshaw, he said "That is a clubhouse secret."

The best fielding play of the game was Frisch's stop and throw on Cochrane in the fourth inning. The great second baseman made a wonderful stop of Cochrane's torrid grounder and got the ball to first a whisker ahead of the peppery A's catcher.

Connie Mack said it was a clean series. The "riding" of the players, he said, was just an incident of the game, and left no hard feelings.

Young Stribling to Fight K. O. Christner Oct. 23

Newark, N. J., Oct. 8.—(AP)—The Velodrome A. C. announced today the signing of Young Stribling, Georgia heavyweight, and K. O. Christner of Akron, O., for a 10 round fight at the Newark armory Oct. 23.

A's Rejoice as Connie Mack Says, 'You're a Great Team!'

Philadelphia, Pa., Oct. 8.—(AP)—Once more Connie Mack, the tall, stately patriarch of the Philadelphia Athletics, has maneuvered his men into the throne room of baseball. In fifty years of playing the game and managing the A's he has won five of these titles, but the thrill of conquest and keenness for the fight never seem to fade in him.

Today the young athletes, who might be his own sons in the affection he feels for them, battered the St. Louis Cardinals into the final defeat needed to bring another world championship pennant to Shibe park. They fought for the honor and prizes of winning and they fought for the "Old Man," though they'd never dare call him that to his face. They fought, too, to be recognized by Connie as a truly great ball team, an honor he denied them after their first series triumph over the Chicago Cubs last year.

So, when the battle was over and a mob of howling fans were fighting to invade the Athletics' dressing room, Connie slipped in among them. He could hardly speak from excitement. The warriors were shouting defiance and satisfaction over a radio microphone set up in their quarters and an announcer was pleading for Mr. Mack's presence on the air.

"You're a Great Team!"—Connie.

The players let out a roar that rumbled through the walls and out into the stands when they espied Connie's long, lean frame. He walked happily down a lane through them, reaching out to pat his aces, Big George Earnshaw, the pitcher; Al Simmons, Jimmy Foxx, Mickey Cochrane, and Jimmy Dykes, as he went by. Then, halfway to the microphone, he stopped and said:

"You did what I asked you to. You are a really great ball team."

The athletes seemed to have been waiting for that. They yelled and jumped around the room in their various stages of dress and undress, cheered and shouted for Connie and themselves. Then they followed him to the microphone and all tried to speak at once.

Just as the A's themselves, giving the Cardinals plenty of credit for gameness and fight, looked upon the outcome of the series as something that could not have been otherwise, so did Connie Mack accept the victory with complacency when he finally got a chance to sit down and talk it over. The tremendous nervous exhaustion that followed last year's victory was missing today. He did not need to lie on his couch and rest while his heart struggled back to normal. The depth of feeling was gone, but there was great satisfaction in its place, and happiness that made him tremble.

Last Game Was Easiest.

"This was the easiest game of the series," he said as he lolled back in an easy chair at his desk in the tiny office set up in the tower back of the grand stand in Shibe park. "The Cardinals played all their cards and went down fighting. I am proud to say that they made us play to the limit. They were worthy foes. But I must give my boys credit. They are a truly great ball team.

"Lefty Grove and George Earnshaw must be given a world of credit. They are great pitchers. Earnshaw, on his performance today and through the series, must be classed as one of the greatest pitchers of all time, an iron man of the same caliber of Jack Coombs, who won three games for me in the world series with the Chicago Cubs in 1910.

Down under another section of the stands the Cardinals, beaten, but contented with the best showing a National league champion has made in a world series in four years, quietly stripped away their baseball togs for another season and headed home. There were no crowds pushing them. They had little to say because there was little to say. They had given all there was and it was not enough.

"It was just a case of too much Earnshaw," said Street, and there was genuine admiration for the big right hander in his voice. "I've got a good club and we might have won with the breaks. We didn't get them, so the best club won this series."

Philadelphia Celebrates as Athletics Win

Philadelphia, Pa., Oct. 8.—(AP)—Philadelphia whooped it up for the world's champion Athletics today. As soon as word of the 7 to 1 victory over the St. Louis Cardinals reached the central city section, confetti and ticker tape began to fall in great showers from buildings.

A number of impromptu parades were held and at every street corner groups of fans were gathered, slapping each other on the shoulders and singing the praises of big George Earnshaw and Connie Mack.

It was the greatest evidence of "baseball mindedness" and enthusiasm that this city has shown for years. No such demonstrations marked the winning of the championship last year, when the Athletics defeated the Chicago Cubs.

The celebration today had all the earmarks of spontaneity. From ordinarily quiet and dignified midtown offices came telephone directories torn to shreds, and umbrellas, festooned with ticker tape, tissue paper, and telephone books, drifted down like lost parachutes.

ST. LOUIS IS CALM.

St. Louis, Mo., Oct. 8.—(AP)—St. Louis baseball fans took what happened in Philadelphia today with such calm as to give the impression that the element of surprise was entirely lacking.

Happenings of the last few days had convinced even the most rabid of the Red Birds' backers that George Earnshaw and Robert Moses Grove know considerable about fooling hostile batters, and with Earnshaw and Grove ready for today and tomorrow—but there been a tomorrow—those who entertained an idea that the Cardinals would win were decidedly in the minority. Until the last man was out, however, radio listeners consoled each other with "but you can't tell, the Cardinals have come from behind all year."

Ruth and Gehrig to Go on Barnstorming Tour

New York, Oct. 8.—(AP)—Babe Ruth and Lou Gehrig will do some barnstorming again this fall. The famous batsmen of the Yankees will play with teams in New Jersey and at Providence, R. I.

be an invalid this year, but he refuses to admit it beyond swathing his legs in rubber bandages. An assistant football manager follows him around the field, carrying a cushioned office chair, and Mr. Rockne is supposed to know what the chair is for, but shows no evidence of it.

The poor manager perspires, both from carrying the chair and because he knows that Mr. Rockne ought to sit down more. But what is the poor, conscientious kid to do? His job is to have the chair ready to be sat upon, but who is he to try to make Mr. Rockne sit on it?

This chair business, frankly, seemed to us to be full of pathos, and we asked Mr. Rockne what reward the chair bearer has to look forward to, and he said that if the fellow carries it three seasons without getting listless he will be awarded a minor letter.

Just a Hint to Parents.

Well, of course, this put a different light on the whole situation and has caused us to think up a hint to parents: If you have a son who is under weight but aspires to win an N. D. at Notre Dame, don't let the kid become discouraged. Send him to South Bend, and if he is diligent and minds his chair bearin' he may win the coveted insignia. And think of the honor! It's not every kid in the land that gets to shadow Knute Rockne with a chair.

The dedication exercises are going to make a pretty show, regardless of the outcome, and it's going to be attended by a crowd of 55,000, the capacity of the handsome new stadium. It is said that 50,000 seats already have been sold, and of course it will be easy to dispose of the remaining 5,000.

We don't want to seem to be stealing any of the auto editor's stuff, but it might not be amiss to warn those of you who are fixing to drive down here from Chicago that you had better get an early start.

The road, U. S. 20, you know, is in good condition, but it is narrow and we counted several bottle necks that are sure to precipitate jams if the traffic load is at all heavy, especially in a detour coming into Gary from the west.

Allow Four Hours for Trip.

It's only 92 miles, and an easy 2½ hour drive under normal conditions, but the traffic experts are figuring that 4 hours would be a good allowance Saturday.

After you reach the stadium area, however, there'll be nothing to worry about. You never saw such parking facilities.

But try to get here early, wontcha?

DRILL AGAINST IRISH PLAYS.

Annapolis, Md., Oct. 8.—[Special.]—Defensive practice against squad B coached in the passing and running attack of Notre Dame, was the rule at the Naval academy this afternoon.

Williams was at quarter for the varsity instead of Gannon or Denny, though the final occupant of the position has not been settled. Kirn, Tschirgi and Hagberg were the other three backs.

BUCKEYES HAMMER FROSH.

Columbus, O., Oct. 8.—[Special.]—The Ohio State varsity scrimmaged against the freshmen today. Wingert, huge guard, was slightly injured and was replaced by Haubrich. Bell was displaced from the regular tackle position by Griffith, a two year letter man.

The varsity was on the offensive all of the time. Fesler played both at full back and end, Grady doing most of the ground gaining. Holcomb was in uniform but did not take part in scrimmage. Campbell, a guard injured yesterday, will not be able to report for a week.

Following the scrimmage both the first and second teams polished up on forward passes.

BY BOB BECKER.

Should the American waterfowl hunters take a limit of coots this fall and leave the ducks alone on those days, thus following the suggestion of the United States biological survey? Yes, say many of the shotgun fans, and the ladies back up this stand by saying that they can cook coots to make them delicious eating.

During the last week we have had many letters expressing this sentiment and more requesting some good recipes for cooking the coots or mudhens, which the biological survey says are abundant and should be thinned out this year when we are faced with a short duck crop.

One housewife of Lacon, Ill., in the heart of good waterfowl hunting country, writes that she has served the breast of coot many times (always with large hominy), although she did not dare label it as such, due to the antipathy toward this plentiful game bird. But when cooked it was excellent eating and no one could identify it as coot.

If you have any favorite recipes for cooking coots send them in and we will pass them along. To take these birds this year instead of ducks is a genuine conservation measure. Ducks are far from plentiful and large bags of waterfowl other than coots will not do our duck population any good.

Here is a recipe for cooking coots which can be recommended. It will take a disagreeable strong taste from any bird from fish duck to mudhen.

The mudhen should be drawn and picked immediately. Don't hang them with their entrails in. Wash thoroughly with ice cold water and cut off the tail for an inch or more to remove the fatty glands at the base. Sprinkle the bird generously inside and out with pepper. Then put in the icebox near the ice, but not on it. Leave there for at least a week. Then wash with strong salt water and you are ready to cook the bird.

Cover the breast with bacon, place one or more apples inside the bird, and roast in a hot oven for 20 minutes. Remove the apple before placing on the table. We have tried onions in place of apples inside of the bird. Both are good, as they impart flavor to the meat.

Von Porat Is Confident He Can Come Back

Otto Von Porat, tall Chicago heavyweight, regards Angus Snyder, his opponent in the eight round windup at the Coliseum tomorrow night, as the first of several stepping stones he will have to use to get back among the leading boxers of his division. Otto had piled up a worthy list of knockout victims with the aid of his good right hand until he was put away in the first round of his bout with Willie Stribling here last June.

Von Porat, who, yesterday, wound up his training for the Snyder bout, took a few minutes off to talk about that Stribling fight.

"I got my chin in the way of one of Stribling's blows because I was both careless and overconfident," he said. "After several weeks in the Wisconsin woods I feel able to make a real comeback, and the first victim's going to be Snyder."

Snyder Disagrees.

Over in the Snyder camp there seemed to be a difference of opinion on this important subject.

"I'll win from the start. He won't have much on me in weight. I will scale around 195 and Von Porat will have to be down to 200 to be in good condition," Angus declared.

Eddie Ran, 22 year old Polish welterweight, who meets Johnny Hayes of Philadelphia in another eight rounder, has won a real following among Chicago fight fans during the last few months.

Ran, in his local appearances, has won decisions over George Kerwin, Herb Peterson, and Billy Merz, and has knocked out Joe Kubiak in one round and Kerwin in two. He fought a ten round draw with Bobby O'Hara.

Bernasconi Meets Torres.

Domencio Bernasconi, Italian bantamweight who will go eight rounds with Sid Torres of the Philippines, knocked out Blas Rodrigues in the fourth round of a bout at New York Monday night.

Edgar Norman, and Chick Raines, light heavyweights, will clash in the eight round semi-windup, and Colagnato Oreste and Dave Forbes are down for another fight over the same distance. They are heavyweights.

Al Singer, New Yorker who won the lightweight title from Sammy Mandell, will appear in Chicago for the first time today when he arrives to complete training for his ten round bout with Eddie Mack at the stadium next Tuesday night. Mack arrived yesterday from St. Louis.

Benny Friedman and Giants Face Bears on Sunday

Pro grid teams led by Benny Friedman hold the edge on the Bears in games to date, and Sunday Friedman will again attempt to down the north siders at Wrigley field when he leads the New York Giant attack.

In every one of his victories Benny resorted to forward passes, the specialty that made him an All-American at the University of Michigan.

Coach Leroy Andrews is again in charge of the Giants and his probable starting lineup will have Badgro, the new end sensation from Southern California, and the veteran Campbell on the wings; Steve Owen, who tips the beam at 235 pounds, and Red Owen at tackles; Caywood and Comstock at guards; Westoupal at center, and Friedman, Widberg, Sedbrook and Feather in the backfield.

Elect W. W. Adams Head of Midwest Grid League

W. W. Adams was elected president of the Midwest fooball league at the annual election of officers last night. A. L. Clark was named secretary and M. J. Pauley treasurer. Sixteen games will be played in the league next Sunday.

KOSKY WHIPS LUBRICO.

Fresno, Cal., Oct. 8.—(AP)—Sailor Fay Kosky, Chicago, won from Leon Lubrico of the navy, at the end of the fourth round last night when the referee stopped the fight because Lubrico suffered a broken nose.

Loyola to Use Aerial Attack on Duquesne

Loyola university's football team will depend upon its forward passing attack to best Duquesne university at Loyola stadium tomorrow night. The heavy and experienced Duquesne line has consistently smothered every sort of running and plunging offense directed at it this season, but has shown weakness in stopping forward passes.

SOPHOMORES HELP DE PAUL.

Offensive playing of Jim Roche and Eddie Lyons, sophomore ends, stood out during scrimmage at De Paul university yesterday afternoon. They will see service Saturday, when De Paul plays St. Mary's college eleven at Winona, Minn.

Lyons formerly starred on Mount Carmel's High school team, while Roche helped De Paul academy win the Catholic league title two years ago. Another new end is Barney Cullen. He intercepted a forward pass and ran for a touchdown against Buena Vista last Saturday.

WITNESS TELLS OF DEATH THREAT IN WALKER SUIT

Jersey City, N. J., Oct. 8.—(AP)—Witnesses to support her contentions of cruelty were produced today by Mrs. Margaret Walker, wife of Mickey Walker, pugilist, in a divorce hearing before an advisory master in chancery. Mary Burk of Perth Amboy testified Walker once introduced another woman to her as his wife. She also said she heard Mickey tell his wife he would "bump her off."

HOCKEY MOGULS STUDY PLAN FOR WORLD SERIES

The latest move of the American Hockey league in invading Buffalo and establishing another team there, making eight in all, is being watched carefully by National Hockey league officials. While the National league regards the American league as an outlaw organization, it is studying the possibilities of the development of a world hockey championship series between the leaders of the two leagues some time in the future.

There are two sections in the National league with five teams in each. The National league is adopting an attitude toward the American league of standing pat, awaiting developments. The leaders realize that if the American league develops the same strength as theirs, competitive rivalry would increase interest in hockey to their own benefit, from a box office point of view.

On the other hand, there is the question of drafting players from such organizations as the American league, the International league, and the Canadian American league, which can be done now at a comparatively low figure. If the American league should start bidding in the open market for players the price of promising hockey talent would rise accordingly.

Albie Booth Adds Baseball Letter to His Collection

New Haven, Conn., Oct. 8.—(AP)—Albie Booth, who is best known for his slippery qualities on the gridiron but who also knows how to play baseball and basketball, today had three letters to show for his athletic activities at Yale during the college year of 1929-1930. He was among 14 members of last year's baseball squad who were awarded major letters today. Previously he had been awarded a minor "Y" in basketball and a Major "Y" in football.

LIEUT. RUSSELL BEATS CALOME ON MUDDY TRACK

Takes Fifth Victory in Six Starts.

BY FRENCH LANE.

Lieutenant Russell, selling plater just a few weeks ago, stood 'em on their heads again at Hawthorne yesterday.

He won so impressively by a length and a half from Calome and four other overnight handicap performers in the fourth race that those Audley farm people who allowed him to be claimed for $2,500 at Arlington Park last July will be likely to begin to shed alligator tears.

Since he was claimed Lieutenant Russell has gone to the post six times. In five engagements he has been victorious. His only defeat came in the $5,000 Midwest handicap last Saturday, in which he finished third after a very bad start.

Johns in Good Ride.

While Lieutenant Russell turned in a good performance over the heavy track, he also had the benefit of a good ride by Jockey W. Johns, who was rolling up his second victory of the afternoon. With Lieutenant Russell possessing plenty of early speed Johns proceeded to keep Calome, the contender, in hot water throughout the battle.

There was no fouling but it seemed as if every time Calome started to drive up toward the lead he found Lieut. Russell directly in front of him blocking all passage. This kept up midway in the stretch where Calome made a final bid and got up within half a length of the leader but Lieut. Russell had something left. Johns called on him once more and he was going away at the finish. Calome led Battle Ax home by two and a half lengths. Seth's Hope, Blushing Maiden and Lady Seth trailed on to the line of finish in the order named.

Lieut. Russell ran the mile and 70 years in 1:46 4-5, stepping the first mile in the muddy going in 1:42 1-5. He was the topheavy choice of the crowd and paid $4.18 to win. Calome had also been backed heavily.

Seargent Swenke of Maryland took over Lieut. Russell after he had been claimed. He has made of the son of Sir Barton-Honey Girl do things that the Audley Farm people were unable to do. But it isn't the first time Swenke has performed such feats with good horses that have been dropped in too cheap a claiming race.

Chianti Runs Second.

For the first time on a Chicago track William Ziegler Jr.'s purple and red packet was carried in the 6 furlong secondary feature. Chianti, a son of High Time-Tuscan Red, was the performer which represented the easterner, and he was beaten a neck by the long shot, War Time, a son of Man O' War-Penrose, after the gamest kind of a race.

The eastern delegation here for the running of the Gold cup on Saturday lost a big wager on Chianti, but Corbett on War Time outrode Fisher on Chianti in the final stages and it turned the tide of battle. War Time was a long shot paying $20.38 in the $2 mutuels.

There was a lot of rough riding during the afternoon. W. Moran was one of the offenders letting Prickly Heat, winner of the second race, cut across in front of the field so sharply at the clubhouse turn that several of the dozen starters were knocked completely out of the contention.

FORMER HOCKEY PLAYERS TESTIFY IN $700,000 SUIT

Ralph Taylor and Robert Burns, former hockey players with the Chicago Cardinals, testified in Federal Judge Carpenter's court yesterday that Maj. Frederic McLaughlin, owner of the Chicago Blackhawks, offered them bonuses and higher salaries to break their contracts with Edward J. Livingstone, who owned the Cardinals.

Livingstone is suing Maj. McLaughlin and two of his employes for $700,000 damages. He charges that McLaughlin and hockey league officials conspired to wreck the Cardinals.

3 Candidates for Gold Cup Race Arrive

Three more candidates for the $25,000 added Hawthorne Gold Cup, to be run on Saturday, are to arrive here this morning from Kentucky. They are Pigeon Hole and Alcibiades, both owned by Hal Price Headley, and Saxon, owned by H. S. Hart.

While such cup notables as Spinach, Sun Beau, Jim Dandy, Plucky Play, My Dandy, and Karl Eitel were given easy work over the muddy Hawthorne course yesterday, Lady Broadcast went in for a serious effort. She was sent the cup route of a mile and a quarter in 2:08. It was a remarkable performance considering the difficult track conditions. It caused the westerners to back her all the more for her first big engagement against the stars from the east.

The Hawthorne track was drying out rapidly late yesterday and if there is no more rainfall will be fast for the running of the cup race.

Light Cars to Race at Roby Speedway Sunday

Racing at Roby speedway Sunday will be restricted to light cars in accordance with the national association's ruling that the heavier makes be barred from all races shorter than 100 miles. Sunday's events are the 25 and 50 mile national championships. Because of the ruling the entry of Luther Johnson of South Bend and several others were returned.

Face Value in Man Style

To put it bluntly . . . the Robt. Burns Panatela to-day classes a chap correctly. Long, graceful, modern, it is an identifying mark of fellows alert to up-to-date manly refinements.

Its jaunty outline and man-style, bespeak quality wherever men careful of their appearance foregather for work or play.

Not least is the appeal of its mild Havana Filler—taste and aroma without the wallop of heavy, heady tobacco.

Why not style your smoking? What you smoke, has as much to do with your looks as your hat and collar. Smoke with men of fashion, men of affairs, and men of action—and you yourself smoke the Robt. Burns Panatela.

ORIGINAL RADIO BOARD MEMBER FOR HIGH POWER

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Oct. 8.—[Special.]—Deliberate waste of the nation's radio facilities, through the curtailment of power of broadcasting stations operating on exclusive wave lengths, was charged against the federal radio commission today by one of the original members of the body, O. H. Caldwell of New York.

Invited to testify at the hearing by counsel for station W-G-N, THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE'S cleared channel station, Mr. Caldwell chose to appear in the general interest of high power for broadcasting, and not as a witness for any particular station.

In no uncertain terms the former radio commissioner expressed his views of the commission's order to limit power to 50,000 watts on 20 of the 40 exclusive channels set aside for high powered stations. This order was on the basis of the protracted hearings being held before the commission involving the applications of 27 stations in all parts of the country for the right to use this maximum power.

Urges Increased Power.

Instead of limiting the power of stations on cleared channels, the commission should demand the use of the highest possible power if the greatest possible service from each channel is to be obtained, he said. Stations should be encouraged to use powers even of 50,000 or 500,000 watts, which he declared as "now entirely feasible."

It is the duty of the commission, said Mr. Caldwell, "so to shape the radio channels that strong, clear radio signals will be laid down in every home in the United States—so that the most modest dwelling with the simplest radio set will enjoy the same priceless boon of radio entertainment as do people in the great cities.

Mr. Caldwell's testimony followed the completion of the case of station WMAQ, operated by the Chicago Daily News, for an increase in power from 5,000 watts to the 50,000 watts maximum. Again counsel for W-G-N, L. G. Caldwell, former general counsel of the commission, subjected William S. Hedges, president of WMAQ, Inc., to cross-examination. The W-G-N counsel brought out that station WMAQ operates its experimental television studios at Chicago in conjunction with "sponsored" programs broadcast over WMAQ. Commission regulations specifically prohibit commercialization of television programs, since they are regarded as highly experimental.

WBBM Also Asks Full Time.

Full time operation and the maximum power of 50,000 watts for station WBBM, Chicago, two-thirds owned by the Columbia Broadcasting system, was asked by Sam Pickard, vice president of Columbia, and by Ralph L. Atlass, vice president of the company operating the station. Spirited encounters between counsel for WBBM and for station KFAB at Lincoln, Neb., which shares the 770 kilocycle channel with WBBM and which also is seeking full time operation, marked the hearing.

Mr. Pickard, a former member of the commission, emphasized that Columbia must have a "full time" outlet for its network programs in Chicago, which it does not now have because WBBM uses only four-sevenths time, with the remaining three-sevenths assigned to KFAB. Besides WBBM, station WMAQ uses certain Columbia programs, he declared. Mr. Pickard said, moreover, that Chicago is second only to New York as a program center, and that some 25 of the Columbia programs originate in that city.

LITTLE ORPHAN ANNIE: He Will Not Be Sidetracked

Chiang's Victory Shuts Off Food Supply.

BY JOHN POWELL.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

SHANGHAI, Oct. 8.—While Gen. Chiang Kai-shek, president of China, has occupied all of rebel Gen. Feng Yu-hsiang's strongholds in Honan province, excepting Loyang to the west of Chengchow, which is expected to fall shortly, there still exists a serious and most complicated military situation in northern Honan and the south western Chihli provinces.

According to foreign military observers, there are probably 200,000 demoralized and disorganized northern soldiers, formerly under the banners of Yen Hsi-shan and Feng Yu-hsiang, now quartered along the tracks of the Peiping and Hankow railway at a distance of about 100 miles north of the Yellow river

Cut from Food Supply.

Due to occupation of the Peiping district by Chang Hsueh-liang, Manchurian war lord, and Gen. Chiang's victories in Honan, the defeated soldiers are now cast off from their food supply.

Gen. Feng, who escaped from Chengchow prior to Gen. Chiang's occupation of that city yesterday, is reported to be stationed in Chiochow, a short distance away from his ally, Gen. Yen, who is concentrating on guarding the mountain pass leading into his home province, Shansi.

Gen. Feng has asked Gen. Yen's permission to move about 30,000 of his troops into Shansi, but Yen is reported to have refused, fearful that Feng's real purpose is to oust him.

Captures 40,000 Rebels.

Gen. Chiang, who planned to return to Nanking immediately, is reported remaining in Chengchow trying to unscramble the situation following Gen. Feng's defeat.

According to government reports, Chang's forces have captured 40,000 rebels and large stores of arms and ammunition.

Russia Warns War Lord.

MOSCOW, Oct. 8.—(AP)—The soviet consul at Harbin, Znamensky, today handed Marshal Chang Hsueh-liang, Manchurian war lord, a note protesting against anti-soviet activities of White Russians on the Chinese Eastern railway, demanding that Chinese authorities take immediate measures to terminate such activities, which were declared to be endangering the peace of the far east.

KILLED IN FAMILY QUARREL.

Houston, Tex., Oct. 8.—(AP)—J. W. Jones, 42, farmer, was shot to death at his home near Sugarland last night as a result of a family quarrel. His son, Frank Jones, 24, farmer, living nearby, surrendered at Houston and was charged with murder.

AGREEMENT HALTS TRIAL OF SUIT OVER $600,000 ESTATE

South Bend, Ind., Oct. 8.—[Special.]—The contest brought by fifty-two relatives to break the will of the late Mrs. Willomine Kizer Morrison, which disposed of a $600,000 estate, was settled out of court today as selection of a jury to hear the case started.

Mrs. Anna Bingham, wife of Superior Judge J. Fred Bingham, and Miss Thadessa Taylor, secretary of the Associated Charities, will share $300,000, while the remainder will be distributed among the fifty-two relatives.

The settlement closes a controversy which court officials expected would require years of litigation. The relatives contended the wealthy and eccentric sportswoman was of unsound mind and was unduly influenced to leave practically the entire estate to Mrs. Bingham and Miss Taylor. The estate originally was valued at $800,000.

OLDROYD, NOTED FOR HIS LINCOLN RELICS, DIES, 88

Washington, D. C., Oct. 8.—(AP)—O. H. Oldroyd, 88, who many years ago established a museum of Lincoln relics in the house on 10th street in which the civil war President died, died tonight from infirmities of age.

U. S. INSURANCE TO HELP NEEDY IS SUGGESTED

All to Contribute, Is Economist's Plan.

New York, Oct. 8.—[Special.]—A new plan of social insurance to be operated by the government, yet which is not a plan of unemployment insurance, was suomitted today before the industrial council of the National Association of Manufacturers at their convention at the Hotel Roosevelt by Dr. Wilford I. King. Dr. King is head of the department of economics at New York university.

Dr. King denied emphatically that his plan was one of unemployment insurance, saying that "if you pay a man for being idle, he is likely to stay idle longer." His plan, he said, would assure to every one, rich and poor alike, the necessities of life in times of distress. Every one, it was proposed, would contribute and thereby be the beneficiary.

"All kinds of social relief should be based on the theory that misfortune is likely to befall any one," he said.

The fact that one man has a million dollars is no assurance that he will not some day be in need, and the fact that a workman is industrious and thrifty is no guarantee against need. Since all are liable to misfortune all should contribute to a government fund to meet the minimum needs. Would it not be logical to say that all people, rich and poor, be protected by insurance and that all be compelled by the government to contribute to a general fund for that purpose?"

M. J. Hickey, secretary of the industrial council, submitted three specific suggestions for restoring business to normal. They were the reduction of taxes through economy in local and state governments, the adoption by wholesalers and retailers of a plan to keep prices within a "reasonable profit level"; and the more efficient management of business.

MANY ACTIVE CHICAGO STOCKS CLOSE HIGHER

Majestic Shares Show 3 Point Gain.

BY THOMAS FURLONG.

Cross currents prevailed in the trading on the exchange yesterday. Despite the decline which ruled in New York many of the active shares here finished moderately above the previous day's final quotations.

Speculative interest centered in the shares of Majestic Household which were aggressively supported throughout the day. At one time the stock sold above 18 and the close found the issue selling at 17¼, three points above Tuesday's close. Grigsby was steady in sympathy and closed unchanged.

DON M. COMPTON.

Announcement was made yesterday that Don M. Compton has been named assistant to the president and general manager of the Grigsby Grunow company. It is understood that President William C. Grunow will devote all his time to the affairs of the Majestic Household Utilities corporation which was organized by the Grigsby company last spring.

Formerly with U. S. Radio.

Mr. Compton was formerly vice president of the United States Radio and Television company. He resigned from that firm last April and is generally credited with having improved affairs of that firm. He has served in similar capacities with other corporations. He has undertaken reorganizations for banking interests at various times.

The majority of other active shares were steady and in some instances moderately higher. After easing on early trading Middle West came back to finish a fraction above Wednesday's close. Buying appeared in Kellogg Switchboard and the issue climbed over a point to 7. The price of the stock has moved within a narrow range since the first of the year. Its high was 8⅝ and the lowest price it sold at was 4⅛.

Trading in the trust issues was centered in Chicago corporation and Continental Chicago issues and prices in the group were generally easier. With the exception of Auburn, which dropped four points, the active motor shares displayed a fairly steady tone.

Volume Subsides.

Trading volume contracted to 168,000 shares, while bond sales totaled $80,000. The bulk of the bond transactions represented dealings in Insull 6s, which eased a fraction to 98⅝.

Abbott Laboratories will declare an extra dividend of 12½ cents a share next month. The special will be authorized in order to bring total disbursements for the year to $2.50. So far this year the company has paid $1.75 a share, the quarterly rate of 62½ cents having been inaugurated in April.

Directors of Bunte Bros., candy manufacturers, took no action on the common dividend, but declared the regular quarterly dividend on the preferred stock. A payment of $1 was made on the common stock in February and 50 cents was paid Aug. 1.

At their weekly meeting yesterday exchange directors approved the listing of additional securities of National Radiator corporation and the Celotex company. Common stock of the North American Water Works and Electric corporation was removed from the list.

Cincinnati Union Terminal.

Will you recommend Cincinnati Union Terminal company first mortgage 4½ per cent bonds, series A, for investment by a man of limited means? Can you inform me as to the names of the railroad companies guaranteeing these bonds?—E. W. A.

Cincinnati Union Terminal company was organized in 1927 to build and operate a union passenger station at Cincinnati. Plans call for the completion of this project by July 1, 1932. The new station is to be used by the Baltimore and Ohio, Chesapeake and Ohio; Cincinnati, New Orleans and Texas Pacific; Cleveland, Cincinnati, Chicago and St. Louis; Louisville and Nashville; Norfolk and Western, and the Pennsylvania. These railroads, in accordance with the terms of a guaranty agreement dated July 1, 1930, will guarantee the payment of principal and interest of Cincinnati Union Terminal company bonds.

While the new station is being built the railroads have agreed to pay as rental all expenses of the terminal company, dividends on the preferred, and 6 per cent dividends on the common.

The $12,000,000 first 4½s, series A, dated July 1, 1930, and due July 1, 2020, are being issued in connection with capital expenditures made, to provide for future acquisition of property and for construction work. They are secured by direct first lien on the property and equipment of the terminal company.

They are a sound investment.

Salt Creek Producers.

Kindly give me information on Salt Creek Producers from the investor's standpoint. I have fifty shares of this company's stock.—A. T. P.

Salt Creek Producers Association, Inc., is an oil producer operating principally in Wyoming fields. At the close of 1929 the company and its subsidiaries held leases covering about 3,800 acres in the Salt Creek field. At that time 610 wells had been drilled with an aggregate daily production of about 10,000 barrels.

Earnings have varied since 1924, the general trend being downward. In each of the last four years earnings, before federal taxes and charges for depletion, have been less than the amount paid out in dividends, although at the close of 1929 the company still had an earned surplus of $9,279,596. Current assets were $10,646,834, and current liabilities were $357,441, leaving a net working capital of $10,289,393.

Earnings, before federal taxes and depletion, in 1929 were $3,723,991, equal to $1.82 per share on 1,496,860 capital shares [par $10]. Such net earnings in 1928 were $3,326,429, or $2.22 per share.

Dividends are being paid at the annual rate of $2 per share. Disbursements totaling $2.50 per share were paid in 1929.

The stock is medium grade and somewhat speculative.

BUSINESS NOW IN POSITION TO GROW: CORLEY

Field Official Sees Turn in Trade.

BY O. A. MATHER.

Merchants and manufacturers have cleaned up surplus stocks of goods in some lines [illegible] quantity even now is developing. Therefore general business and industry are in position to go forward again as we are on the eve of recovery. These views were expressed yesterday by Frederick D. Corley, vice president and retail merchandise manager of Marshall Field & Co., operating both wholesale and retail stores in Chicago and branches in several cities.

F. D. CORLEY.

"It is our opinion that the period of liquidation of merchandise stocks and commodity prices is about at an end," Mr. Corley said. "Generally speaking, there are no important accumulations of goods in the hands of manufacturers or wholesale distributors. There is little, if any, slack to be taken up in the processes of production and distribution.

Public Spending.

"The public as a whole is able to spend more freely than it has been spending, and we believe that people will look for more goods as soon as they are convinced that there will be a firming up of prices rather than a weakening. If the public will follow Mr. Coolidge's advice and spend sensibly without hoarding business ought to make a steady and sure recovery.

"Current orders should quickly show increased demands upon manufacturers and speed up the wheels of industry. Any improvement in the manufacturers' position will logically produce increased employment. This will give increased spending power, to say nothing of improvement in the frame of mind, and will thereby increase the willingness to buy.

"Our own buyers have already found manufacturers who are late on deliveries because of shortage of raw goods for use in their mills. In other words, going all the way back to first hands we have found a scarcity already appearing in some lines. Impressive evidence has been accumulating daily that retail merchants generally throughout the country have been starving their stocks.

May Find Difficulty.

"The seasonal upturn has sent buyers scurrying to the markets, most of them with orders for goods for immediate delivery. Big buyers are now beginning to be concerned about their ability to get all the goods they will need for the autumn and winter seasons in time for actual requirements. It is not improbable that many merchants will want goods quickly in quantities which they will have difficulty in finding.

"In our wholesale and manufacturing offices merchant buyers have been coming in increasing numbers from all over the country and there is a distinct note of optimism in most of their reports. There is a vastly different atmosphere in wholesale merchandising from thirty days ago. We are much encouraged and look confidently for a continuing improvement."

Recession in Steel.

Some recession in steel production has occurred in the last week, according to the midweek trade reviews. The Iron Age placed output for the whole country at about 58 per cent of capacity, compared with 61 per cent a week ago, while Steel puts the average at 54 per cent, compared with 55 per cent last week.

"While the brief spurt in steel demand in September failed to bring its long awaited recovery," Iron Age says, "current specifications, as contrasted with forward commitments, have shown little diminution. Automobile production in October will show little, if any, reduction from that of September, according to current estimates. New structural steel projects are the largest since the first week of September and more than double the total of a week ago."

"Apparently the gains in demand reported by most producers through September were met by shipments from stock or represented obligations against which buyers have not yet specified," Steel says. "A deflation of the improved sentiment of recent weeks undoubtedly will result from the combination of receding production and the loss of momentum in buying. This week, as last week, there has been more talk of holding recent gains than of bettering them."

Commercial Possibilities in Helium, Scrutator Says

BY SCRUTATOR.

Representative Fred A. Britten [Rep., Ill.] in making known his intention to introduce a law permitting the United States to export helium serves to call attention not only to the American monopoly of this gas but to its possibilities as an article of commerce.

Before the world war helium was known only in the abstractions of astronomy as one of the sun's gases. It was discovered, seemingly by accident, in a natural gas well in Kansas while efforts were being made to find some noninflammable material for use in lighter than air craft.

The first extractions of this gas, which is inert and only a little heavier than the dangerous, easily inflammable hydrogen, cost something like $1,700 a cubic foot. Methods of extraction improved rapidly, however, and the government itself built the only large plant in existence at Amarillo, Tex. There the operating costs of production in some months have fallen to less than $10 a thousand cubic feet.

Greater Capacity.

The restricted uses so far of helium and the ban on exportation, placed as a military measure, have resulted in overproductive capacity. The bureau of mines, which installed the plant in Texas, states that in the fiscal year ending last June production was less than ten million cubic feet, but that this could be increased there alone to twenty-four million. The plant was shut down in December and in February because there were no orders from either the army or the navy for helium.

Besides this plant there are two others in the country, one in Colorado and one in Kansas. Until other uses than as aircraft filler become larger, there would seem to be little reason for increasing capacity. Some half dozen or so commercial airships, with the army and navy, constitute the bulk of the market.

Aside from military reasons, there can be no objection to lifting the ban. The natural gas from which helium is extracted is found, it is said, in commercial quantities only in the United States. Europeans doubtless would be willing buyers for their airships, and an export business of good proportions probably would follow the lifting of the export restrictions.

Cheaper of Two.

Helium, according to the bureau of mines, is really a cheaper as well as a much safer lifting element than hydrogen. Its lasting qualities are such that it is necessary to refill ships with it only one and half times or twice a year, while hydrogen bags must be reinflated eight times a year. Geological reports indicate that the American supply of the natural gas bearing from 1.75 to 7 per cent of helium is practically inexhaustible, and the low costs might be made still smaller if there was a larger and steadier demand.

Important researches are in progress to determine the values of helium as a refrigerant and for other purposes. This, coupled with the fact that after it is extracted the natural gas that originally contained it can be burned—actually improved by the extraction—might mean an important industry in the future.

SUGAR CONTROL PLAN APPROVED BY COMMITTEE

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, Oct. 8.—The sugar control plan of Thomas L. Charborne, New York attorney, was definitely approved today at a meeting in Havana of the Cuban sugar committee, representing producers, according to advices received here.

The terms of the plan provide that 1,500,000 tons of sugar be withdrawn from the market for future distribution over a period of five years. Banks are said to have agreed to advance a loan on that sugar from proceeds of which the owners are to be reimbursed.

The plan further provides that Cuba shall restrict exportation of sugar to the United States from the next crop to 2,800,000 tons and that none of the sugar withdrawn from the market shall be sold to this country. After 1931 exports to the United States are to be increased only in an amount equal to increase in consumption during 1931 over 1930.

PACKERS SAY FOOD HANDLING WOULD NOT GIVE MARKET CONTROL

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Oct. 8.—Further testimony designed to show that handling of foodstuffs by the packers would not give them control of the market was presented by the Armour and Swift companies before Justice Jennings Bailey of the District of Columbia Supreme court today. The packers are seeking modification of the 1920 packers' consent decree which prohibits them from engaging in retail business.

Hutzel Metzger, assistant chief of the division of coöperative marketing of the federal farm board, the principal witness of the day, said that coöperative organizations each year are handling 2½ billion dollars worth of farm commodities.

Late in the day attorneys for the packers claimed to have won an important point when Justice Bailey pointed out informally that the department of justice has agreed that his court has jurisdiction and authority to order modification of the decree. The American and National Wholesale Grocers' association, which with the government are opposing the modification, have contended that the court does not have jurisdiction.

Spokesmen for the packers said today that they expected to give testimony over a period of six weeks in support of their petitions.

Heads of Steamship Lines Ask to Retain Control

New York, Oct. 9.—(AP)—The heads of the Black Diamond Steamship corporation and the Cosmopolitan Shipping corporation asked President Hoover's advisory shipping committee today for permisison to retain control and operation of their lines despite the high bid for their purchase by the United States Lines. Operation of their vessels by the American Merchant Marine, they said, would be a waste of money and an affront to French semi-governmental competition.

Manufacturers Air Views on Outlook for Business

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, Oct. 8.—The following expressions on business by members attending the National Association of Manufacturers were given here today:

A. L. Salt, chairman of the board, Graybar Electric company, Inc., New York—It seems to be the opinion of most economists and business leaders that we have seen the worst of the business depression and that we now are definitely on the uptrend. Some of the business executives are backing their judgment with increased advertising appropriations and with more comprehensive sales programs, and many who are so doing report noticeable improvement in business.

E. B. Leigh, president Chicago Railway Equipment company, Chicago—There are three broadly recognized activities essential to general business prosperity: The building industry, automobile manufacture and sale, and railway buying. But it is not believed that general business prosperity can be attained when all three of these fundamental activities are operating at low volume.

C. A. Dunham, president C. A. Dunham company, Chicago—The present recession in business has produced a condition of public mind which I regard as favorable to America's future prosperity. It has developed waste consciousness. Our general business is showing more than seasonable improvement and we look for a slow but definite recovery.

W. Hume Logan, president Logan company, Louisville—We noticed a very slight improvement beginning about Sept. 1. My opinion is that we reached the bottom in this depression in August, and that we will have some bad weeks yet. On the whole that there will be a very slow improvement until we get back to normal, and then some.

Lee J. Eastman, president Packard Motor Car company, New York City—While there is no question but what since September of 1929 we have been going through an unusual business depression, it is our feeling that it is not nearly so bad as we have allowed ourselves to believe. By taking a ten year average in the automobile industry we find that the automobile business for the first seven months of 1930 is in excess of this ten year average. By taking a five year average we find 1930 business about equal to this average.

George M. Verity, chairman American Rolling Mill company, Middletown, O.—A survey of the general situation at this time convinces us that the bottom of the current business depression has been passed. Our tonnage bookings of new business in August was 6 per cent greater than in July, and up to date our September bookings are 25 per cent greater than those of August.

R. S. Whitely, vice president and secretary of the Curtis companies, Clinton, Ia.—The trend of business in Iowa is upward, although that trend has been unfavorably affected by misunderstanding in the east of conditions in the state. Iowa is probably in the best condition of any like area in the United States.

C. C. Carlont, secretary Motor Wheel corporation, Lansing, Mich.—Business is decidedly on the upturn. The spending power of great numbers of our people has not been decreased. Real values are being sold by real salesmen and the bunk artists who wrote up the orders in 1929 are going back to the mines where they belong.

John F. Ohmer, president Ohmer Fare Register company, Dayton, O.—If people in all walks of business and working activities will make up their minds to set the house in order and with a fixity of purpose and a determination to do the very best they can under the circumstances, it will not be long until normal conditions will be resumed.

Spanish Peseta at Lowest Level Since War of 1898

MADRID, Oct. 8—(AP)—The peseta, which has fluctuated widely this summer, today slumped to what bankers called the lowest point since the Spanish-American war. The dollar was quoted from 9.87 to 9.96c. Bankers regarded the strike movement and unsettled political conditions generally as the cause.

BY FRED HARVEY.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, Oct. 8.—Stocks drifted gently on to still lower price levels today. There was nothing of yesterday's violence to the continued decline at any time, the bears evidently having decided to go on their good behavior for a spell after the dreadful way they cut up in face of the exchange's warning to be good. But it was just as steady and just as persistent, even if keyed to a slower pace, and it achieved a similar effect of sinking most of the list to new minimums for the year.

Dribbling liquidation by tired and discouraged holders seemed to feature the selling. The turnover was one of the smallest in weeks—2,066,960 shares.

U. S. Steel Touches 150½.

From the professional viewpoint the big outstanding feature of the otherwise dull day was a drop in United States Steel to 150½, a bare half point above the low it reached in the great smash of last November. U. S. Steel has been the focus of some rather anxious speculative attention for several days, as it has sagged lower and lower. Long recognized as the barometer of the industrial list, its action has been watched for signs

CASH profits or "paper" PROFITS?

CORPORATE TRUST SHARES are designed for the investor interested in realizing the greatest possible returns from funds conservatively invested.

There are two theories of conducting investment accounts, both of which have their advocates. One converts all stock accruals into cash and treats the whole as income. The other allows such accruals to remain in the form of increasing equities. There are good reasons for preferring either plan, and the investor should choose that best suited to his needs.

Corporate Trust Shareholders believe in taking cash profits when they are available, on what might be termed a "bird in hand" policy. Under the terms of this Trust all dividends and other distributions from the underlying stocks, plus interest on the Reserve Fund, are paid to the shareholders in cash twice each year. But the number of shares of each stock in the portfolio remains the same. Under the Corporate Trust Share plan, proceeds from stock dividends and split-ups may represent in part a return of principal, but more generally, and over a reasonable period of time, they are the result of market appreciation.

As will be seen from a glance at the list, the companies represented in Corporate Trust Shares are among the leading corporations in America; high grade stocks of the type proved to be the most profitable to hold. This Trust brings to small investors as well as large the full benefits of holding these stocks, together with the additional benefits of the trust form. It provides a very high cash return with assured safety and flexibility to meet the needs of various types of investors. Price at the market.

WHEAT HAS NET LOSSES AFTER AN ERRATIC DAY

Prices End ⅞@1½c Off; Corn Declines.

BY CHARLES MICHAELS.

Wheat traders are seemingly not sure of their position in the market. Bullish sentiment continues among commission houses in general, and houses with eastern connections were good buyers yesterday on the breaks. The action of Winnipeg and the Wall street stock market had a great deal of influence in shaping the trend of values during the day. Prices fluctuated in an erratic manner within a range of 1⅝@1⅝c, with good support apparent on the breaks, while bulges were hard to maintain.

The wheat market gave a good account of itself until near the last, when U. S. Steel dropped below 151 to a new low for the year. General local selling of futures followed, which carried prices off to the inside figures of the day with net losses of ⅞@1¼c, December finishing at 78⅛@79c, March 82⅛c, May 85⅝@85¾c, and July at 87¼c.

Export Demand Lacking.

There is a continued lack of foreign demand for North American wheat, which, tends to restrict operations on the buying side of futures, both in American and Canadian markets, although Winnipeg showed a firmer undertone than Chicago, closing only ⅝c lower for the day. An easier basis was quoted for No. 1 hard winter at the gulf, but there was little demand, since hard winter is at a good premium over Manitobas. At the time in Liverpool December closed only 3c over the same delivery in Chicago.

Russia is now exporting wheat from northern ports as well as from the Black sea, according to Broomhall. Highly beneficial rains fell in South Australia. Liverpool finished ⅛@1¼d lower, with October showing the most strength, due to the small amount of grain available for delivery on future contracts. Buenos Aires wheat showed a firmer undertone, with the finish ⅝c higher, February being 74¼c.

Many traders continue to talk bullish on wheat. Had it not been for the decline in the stock market a higher level of values might have been witnessed, as there was no material pressure except from the local element.

Reports from the Canadian northwest indicated that the persistent rains in northern Alberta has resulted in a lot of rgain remaining unthreshed and the quality has been materially lowered. Farmers in the prairie provinces are not selling their grain as rapidly as last year, although deliveries at interior points on Tuesday aggregated 2,841,000 bu, compared with 2,940,000 bu in 1929.

Cash Corn in Demand.

Local operators continue to work on the bull side of corn and the market showed stubborn resistance to pressure, although closing ⅛@⅝c lower, in sympathy with the late weakness in wheat. December finished at 84⅛@84¼c, March 85¼c, and May at 87@87⅛c. Shipping sales of 332,000 bu cash corn, with charters for 250,000 bu to Buffalo, attracted considerable attention, as the sales were the best in a number of days. Country offerings were again light, and husking returns continue to show irregularity. A car of new No. 6 yellow was received from Iowa and sold at 80c.

Houses with northwestern connections bought December and sold May oats at 2@3¼c difference, while commission houses were on both sides of the market. Prices fluctuated errratically, breaking toward the last with other grains and closing ⅛@⅝c lower. December was 37⅝@37⅞c, March 39⅝c, and May 40⅛@40⅝c at the close.

Rye showed independent strength and closed unchanged to ⅛c higher, with December at 49⅛c and May at 55⅛c. Buying of rye against sales of other grains by spreaders accounted for part of the strength. Shipping sales of 22,000 bu were reported by local handlers, a good part of which were for feed.

WORLD'S GRAIN MARKET NEWS

A Chicago Board of Trade membership sold at $18,000 net to the buyer, an advance of $1,000 over recent sales.

Grain traders say that so long as stock market in Wall street continues weak and declining, confidence will be lacking. At the same time there is an absorption of wheat and corn on breaks. Wheat is off over 4½c from the high point of last Saturday, and foreigners are not showing any particular disposition to buy. Prices at the seaboard are said to have receded, and until there is a clarifying of the general situation nervous markets are to be expected.

New business on the buying side of grains is not coming into the market as fast as it was a week ago. The short interest is said to be incrasing and the open interest in wheat has enlarged moderately. In oats it is 50,169,000 bu, compared with 49,106,000 bu in corn.

BUTTER AND EGGS

The record breaking crash of butter and egg futures continued with slight letup on the Chicago Mercantile exchange yesterday, all deliveries sagging to new lows. November eggs shot down to 20½c, a level never touched in the last 20 years. November butter hit 34½c, a low for the year and the lowest point reached in last year's crash. November eggs, weakened by the continued flow of bearish news, dropped ½c at the opening and closed at 20½@20¾c, off ⅝@¾c, and December at 21c, off ¾c. The price trend in eggs was equaled by that in butter. November closing at 34⅝@35c, off ⅝@½c, and December at 35c, off ¾c.

The egg market has been reduced to an exceedingly weak state because of the fact that holdings on Oct. 1 may prove the heaviest in history, with an excess predicted at 2,000,000 cases compared to last year. Sales: Butter—November, 157 cars; December, 117 cars. Eggs—November, 396 cars; December, 51 cars. Receipts: Butter, 4,402 tubs. Eggs, 4,284 cases. Prices follow:

LARD CLOSES HIGHER

Action of lard prices was irregular yesterday with a good advance early and a moderate recession close, being at net gains of 10c to 15c. Considerable December liquidation was under way. Hog prices were steady to 15c higher, with receipts larger than a week ago but smaller than last year. Liverpool lard was weak with losses of 6d to 1s 9d, the latter on December. Export clearances were 919,200 lbs and bacon 256,500 lbs. Bellies were nominally unchanged with no trading. Prices follow:

HOGS HIGHEST IN 2 WEEKS ON NEW ADVANCES

Prices Are 50c@$1 Over Last Week's Close.

Additional advances in hog prices yesterday carried quotations to the highest level in more than two weeks, packing sows and extremely heavy butchers showing the sharpest gains. Prevailing quotations are 50c to $1.00 above the close of last week and 65c to $1.25 above the low spot early last week.

The extreme top at $10.60 was paid for 224@263 lb butchers, with bulk of good 180@200 lb averages at $10.25@10.45. The general average advanced 15c to $9.85, standing within 55c of the highest average since last March, due partly to the smaller proportion of packing sows in offerings lately.

An advance in pork loins to the highest level in a month's time brought smaller packers and city butchers on the market earlier than usual. Only 3,000 were left at the close. Fresh pork loins selling on the wholesale market at 20@29c compared with 17@25c at the close of last week and with 13@23c two weeks ago.

Hog Futures Active.

Trading in hog futures was more active at steady prices yesterday, although some months at the finish were slightly lower. Four carloads of December light sold at $8.80. January light opened at $9.00, but closed at $8.95. December mediums sold at $8.90. October mediums were offered at $9.75 and bid $9.50.

On the "to arrive" market, 260@310 lb butchers were bid $10.60 for today's delivery and 210@260 lb averages were bid $10.30 for Friday delivery, but there were no offers at these figures.

Cattle receipts at 13,000 exceeded expectations and proved too much for the market. The trend of prices was reversed soon after the start, good grades sharing in the full price cut. Losses of 15@25c were general, choice 851@900 lb yearlings going at $13.00, while $10.85 bought some good long fed steers averaging 1,505 lbs.

Prime 1,322 lb averages at $12.50 were in a class by themselves in point of quality and finish. Bulk of cattle of beef merit sold at $9.50@12.00. Cows and heifers declined 25@35c, closing at the low point of the day. Calves were weak to lower. Stockers and feeders were slow and weak.

Lambs Sell Stronger.

Strong to 25c higher prices were paid for the supply of fat lambs yesterday. Choice ewe and wether natives sold to packers and city butchers at $9.00@9.25, while bulk of western range lambs brought $9.00 and below. The first large string of fed western shorn lambs this season sold at $8.25 yesterday.

Aged sheep and yearlings were scarce and strong. Feeding lambs met good demand at the previous day's strength, with fancy light black face stock quoted upwards to $7.50. While Chicago receipts so far this week show a slight increase over a week ago, there has been a substantial decrease at other points, the 20 markets in three days showing a shortage of 70,000 head.

Receipts at Chicago for today are estimated at 8,000 cattle, 25,000 hogs and 25,000 sheep, against 6,955 cattle, 18,514 hogs, and 18,878 sheep on the previous Thursday and 7,749 cattle, 26,810 hogs, and 22,525 sheep a year ago.

HIDE FUTURES

Trading in futures on the New York Hide exchange was quiet, the market closing 5 to 10 points higher. Total sales, 120,000 lbs. Prices follow:

CURB MARKET STOCKS AGAIN SHOW DECLINES

New York, Oct. 8.—(AP)—Curb market shares were still under pressure in today's market, and closed lower for the fourth consecutive session.

Selling was not particularly heavy, today's sales aggregating 515,000 shares, but it was persistent. Half-hearted efforts to rally the list were promptly abandoned. Most net declines were moderate, although several soared from 1 to 3 points.

Electric Bond and Share held above recent minimum and closed at 60¾, a net loss of only 1¾. This issue was also active in large volume. American and Foreign Power warrants, still adversely influenced by the Brazilian situation, touched new low ground at 26, but closed at 27½, off only ¾. Consolidated Gas of Baltimore lost 3, and Cities Utility Associates dropped nearly 4 to a new low at 35¾. Niagara Hudson, however, held steady, and Niagara Gas and Electric gained a point.

Bank of Canada dropped nearly 4 points to a new low at 18½, then rallied a point. General Aviation, formerly Fokker, touched 10, off 1¾ and near low ground. Dow Chemical gained 2 points, touching 60 for the year to date this year.

Among the mines Consolidated Mining, infrequently traded issue, sold at a total of 27 points from the previous day, and Noranda sagged a point to a new low at 17. Oils were also heavy. Standard Service closed at 26, off only ¼, while Gulf dropped 3 points. Goldman Sachs Trading was a soft spot in the investment trusts, declining a point to 10, again a new low.

COTTONSEED OIL.

New York, Oct. 8.—(AP)—COTTONSEED OIL—Futures inactive today, with trading almost entirely local. The tone was slightly firmer after the issuance of the official consumption estimate of 14,486,000 bales, but later became steadier and later on the firmer in cotton and the strength in lard. Prices ran 3 to 10 points lower on old crops and 9 points higher to 3 lower on new months. Sales were 500 brls in old and 1,950 in new contracts. Prime crude, f.o.b. mills: prime summer yellow old, spot, 7.41c; November, 7.42c; December, 7.43c; new December, 7.21c; January, 7.36c; March, 7.36c; May, 7.45c.

STOCKS DRIFT GENTLY ON TO LOWER LEVELS

of that support which in similar situations on past occasions has been so efficacious in turning a decline and saving the day for the hard pressed forces of progress and uplift.

There has been talk that a group of first aid specialists were standing by ready to rush in with powerful support orders if the stock threatened to crash through its old bottom. Some buying appeared when the price reached the 150½ mark, enough to bolster it back to 151½, but it didn't look very "powerful" to the average calloused onlooker.

Other steel stocks went down with the leader, Bethlehem selling off for a further loss of 2¾ points.

Gillette Breaks.

One of the sharpest price breaks of the day was Gillette Safety Razor, which showed a net loss of 8 points on its final sale. At one time Gillette was down to 44¾ points, as compared with its high of the year of 106¼. Obviously the stock wasn't helped to any great extent by word that negotiations for its merger with Auto Strop, or the other way round if you prefer it, were nearing a stage of completion. Auto Strop held to its last night's price.

Other conspicuously weak issues included Air Reduction, Allied Chemical, Case, Columbian Carbon, Du Pont, Eastman Kodak, Western Union, Worthington Pump, Vanadium, Corn Products, and Pullman.

General Electric found a new low price for the year along with such other well known issues as International Mercantile Marine, National Cash Register, Chicago and North Western, United Fruit, Nickel Plate, and St. Louis-San Francisco.

Under Pressure.

Rails and utilities were under some pressure, the former having the burden of an unfavorable car loadings report to help bear them down. Elsewhere, however, group movements were difficult to distinguish.

A scattering of issues moved against the trend, but their gains were largely of fractional proportion.

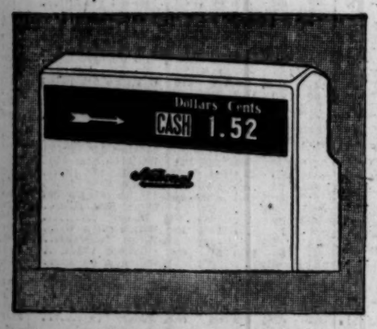
Small and Compact in Size. Pays for Itself out of Losses it Stops.

No merchant should EVER consider buying a key-operated cash register which does not have these new features and real improvements. If you are using a register with old-style indication and other out-of-date features NOW is the time to exchange it. You can still get a liberal allowance for your old register even though it is out-of-date today and will soon be entirely obsolete.



No Other Key-Operated Cash Register Has a

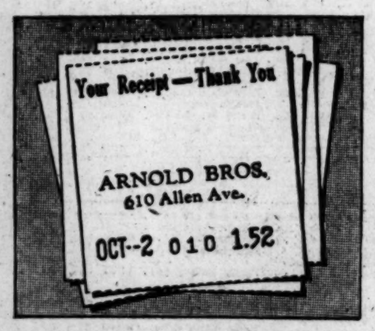
which shows the amount of a sale exactly the same from the back of the register as from the front with figures in correct reading order left to right. No tablets to confuse the customer . . . exactly the same protection for customer as for clerk. The only indication on a key-operated register which is easy to read.



No Other Key-Operated Cash Register Has a

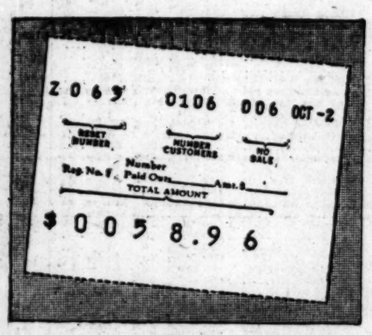
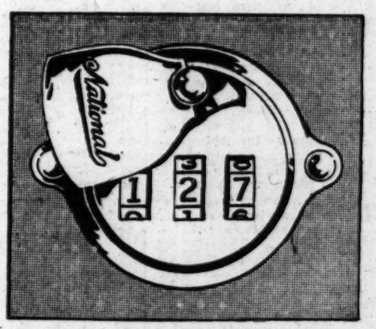
which shows the date, the amount, the tracer number of a sale and the merchant's name. Without any one of these four features, a receipt is useless in tracing a sale. Now for the first time all of this information is printed on a key-operated cash register receipt which gives a new and complete protection.



No Other Key-Operated Cash Register Has a

Statement of Business

which shows the total amount of business, the number of customers waited on, the number of no-sales, the number of times the register has been reset, and a symbol which proves that the register was reset after the final total for the day was taken. A complete and permanent record of each day's business.



No Other Key-Operated Cash Register Has a

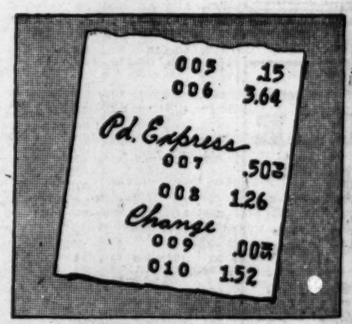
a new and exclusive feature which gives the merchant the same protection over his cash register records that he has over his safe. No keys to lose, forget or for others to duplicate. One thousand possible combinations, you alone or a person you designate knows the combination which opens the register.



No Other Key-Operated Cash Register Has a

which shows the amount and the tracer number of every transaction made during the day. The last fourteen transactions recorded on the register are always visible on this record. This detail-strip also has ample space for a written notation to be made on any sale. Every merchant needs this record.

The MURDER at the VICARAGE

BY AGATHA CHRISTIE

SYNOPSIS.

Dr. Clement is vicar of a country village in England. His wife, Griselda, is nearly twenty years his junior. The vicar's young nephew, Dennis, lives with them.

Col. Protheroe, a pompous parishioner, who makes life miserable for his daughter, Lettice, and his second wife, Anne, is expected at the vicarage at 6:15 one evening. At 6:30 the vicar is called to visit a dying parishioner and leaves word for the colonel that he will be late. On returning at 7 the vicar meets Lawrence Redding, an artist who is living in a studio on the vicarage grounds, coming out of the house in an agitated state of mind. In his study the vicar finds the colonel dead, murdered apparently. No weapon is found. Dr. Haydock is called and he says Protheroe has been dead half an hour and summons the police. A note which the colonel started to write to the vicar is headed 6:20, a clock, overturned when the colonel fell forward, stopped at 6:22, but it was always fifteen minutes fast.

Lawrence Redding and Mrs. Protheroe both confess to the murder.

Miss Marple, a near neighbor, saw Anne Protheroe go to the vicarage about 6:15 and go to the studio. She had no place to conceal a weapon. Redding came along shortly after and joined her at the studio. They came out a little later and walked towards the house.

Lawrence and Anne admit they had confessed the crime thinking the other had committed it. Lawrence said he had come back to see the vicar, after leaving Anne, and had found the pistol and thought Anne must have taken it.

Murder by person or persons unknown, is the verdict given at the inquest.

A man who represents himself to be Dr. Stone, an archaeologist, is thought to be an accomplice and is suspected of the theft of some valuable old silver which belonged to Col. Protheroe. His secretary, Gladys Cram, is also under suspicion.

The vicar receives notes from three women parishioners, Miss Hartnell, Miss Wetherby, and Mrs. Price Ridley, asking him to call as they have important information to tell him about the murder. The first two implicate Mrs. Lestrange, a mysterious newcomer to the village, who is known to have called on Col. Protheroe the night before he died.

The vicar is surprised, when he mounts the pulpit at Sunday evening services to find the church crowded.

INSTALLMENT XLVI.

A MOVING SERMON.

Anne Protheroe was there, but she usually attends evensong on Sundays though I had hardly thought she would today. I was far more surprised to see Lettice. Church going was compulsory on Sunday morning—Col. Protheroe was adamant on that point, but I had never seen Lettice at evening service before.

Gladys Cram was there, looking rather blatantly young and healthy against a background of wizened spinsters, and I fancied that a dim figure at the end of the church who had slipped in late was Mrs. Lestrange.

I need hardly say that Mrs. Price Ridley, Miss Hartnell, Miss Wetherby and Miss Marple were there in full force. All the village people were there, with hardly a single exception. I don't know when we have had such a crowded congregation.

As a rule, I prepare my sermons beforehand. I am careful and conscientious over them, but no one is better aware than myself of their deficiencies.

Tonight I was of necessity preaching extempore, and as I looked down on the sea of upturned faces, a sudden madness entered my brain. I ceased to be in any sense a minister of God. I became an actor. I had an audience before me and I wanted to move that audience—and more, I felt the power to move it.

I gave out my text slowly.

"I am come to call not the righteous, but the sinners to repentance."

I repeated it twice, and I heard my own voice, a resonant ringing voice unlike the voice of the every day Leonard Clement.

I saw Griselda from her front pew look up in surprise and Dennis follow her example.

Mass emotion is a strange and terrible thing.

The congregation in that church was in a state of pent up emotion, ripe to be played upon. I played upon them. I exhorted sinners to repentance. I lashed myself into a kind of emotional frenzy. Again and again I threw out a denouncing hand and reiterated the phrase:

"I am speaking to you——"

And each time, from different parts of the church, a kind of sighing response went up.

I finished up with those beautiful and poignant words—perhaps the most poignant words in the whole Bible.

"This very night shall thy soul be required of thee——"

It was a strange brief possession. When I got back to the vicarage I was my usual faded indeterminate self. I found Griselda rather pale. She slipped her arm through mine.

"Len," she said. "You were rather terrible tonight. I—I didn't like it. I've never heard you preach like that before."

"I don't suppose you ever will again," I said, sinking down wearily on the sofa. I was tired.

"What made you do it?"

"A sudden madness came over me."

"Or it—it wasn't something special?"

"What do you mean—something special?"

"I wondered—that was all. You're very unexpected, Len. I never feel I really know you."

We sat down to cold supper, Mary being out.

"There's a note for you in the hall," said Griselda. "Get it, will you, Dennis?"

Dennis, who had been very silent, obeyed.

I took it and groaned. Across the top left hand corner was written: "By hand—Urgent."

"This," I said, "must be from Miss Marple. There's no one else left." I had been perfectly correct in my assumption.

Dear Mr. Clement:

I should so much like to have a little chat with you about one or two things that have occurred to me. I feel we should all try and help in elucidating this sad mystery. I will come over about half past nine, if I may, and tap on your study window. Perhaps dear Griselda would be so very kind as to run over here and cheer up my nephew. And Mr. Dennis too, of course, if he cares to come. If I do not hear, I will expect them and will come over myself at the time I have stated.

Yours very sincerely, JANE MARPLE.

I handed the note to Griselda.

"Of we'll go," she said cheerfully. "A glass or two of home made liquor is just what one needs on Sunday evening. I think it's Mary's blanc mange that is so frightfully depressing. It's like something out of a mortuary."

Dennis seemed less charmed at the prospect.

"It's all very well for you," he grumbled. "You can talk all this high brow stuff about art and books. I always feel a perfect fool sitting and listening to you."

"That's good for you," said Griselda serenely. "It puts you in your place. Anyway I don't think Mr. Raymond West is so frightfully clever as he pretends to be."

"Very few of us are," I said.

What Griselda called the nephew-amusing-party started off at a little after nine, and whilst I was waiting for Miss Marple to arrive I amused myself by drawing up a kind of schedule of the facts connected with the crime. I arranged them so far as possible in chronological order. I am not a methodical person, but I am a neat one, and I like things jotted down in a methodical fashion.

At half past nine punctually, there was a little tap on the window and I rose and admitted Miss Marple.

She had a very fine Shetland shawl thrown over her head and shoulders and was looking rather old and frail. She came in full of little fluttering apologetic murmurs.

"So good of you to let me come—and so good of dear Griselda—Raymond spoils her so much—the perfect Greuze he always calls her. Shall I sit here? I am not taking your chair? O! thank you—no, I won't have a cushion!"

I deposited the Shetland shawl on a chair and returned to take a chair facing my guest. We looked at each other, and a little deprecating smile came out on her face.

"I feel that you must be wondering why—why I am so interested in all this. You may possibly think it's very unwomanly. No—please—I should like to explain if I may."

She paused a moment, a pink color suffusing her cheeks.

"You see," she began at last, "living alone as I do, in a rather out of the way part of the world one has to have a hobby. There is, of course, fancy work, and guides, and welfare, and sketching, but my hobby is—and always has been—human nature. So varied—and so very fascinating. And I, of course, in a small village, with nothing to distract one, one has such ample opportunity for becoming what I might call proficient in one's study. One learns to class people, quite definitely, just as though they were birds or flowers, to group so and so, genus this, species that. Sometimes, of course, one makes mistakes, but less and less as time goes on. And then, too, one has a certain gift oneself. One takes a little problem—for instance the gift of picked up that amused dear Griselda so much—a quite unimportant mystery. Things that are absolutely incomprehensible unless one solves it right."

By Mae Tinée.

Good Morning!

"He wanted fire and she gave him ice!" exploded the ad. So I dashed over to McVicker's theater to get a line on this disobliging "she." (By the way, here's a movie house that opens when it says it does and starts the feature picture five minutes after the curtain goes up AND draws the crowds by so doing.)

You forgive this demilleffusion much because it makes you laugh a lot.

The story by Jeanie MacPherson, Elsie Janis and Gladys Unger is gay, risque comedy, with some devastatingly funny lines, situations, and pantomime. Played straight the piece might have been a knockout of its kind. But, as we all know, simplicity and Mr. De Mille are not to be mentioned in the same breath, and so ere long you find yourself contemplating a masked ball occurring on a Zeppelin moored to a New York skyscraper.

At this party the director allows his passion for the outre full rein. Witness the wildest and most improbable carryings on—many of them to music. "Come, bring on the crystal finger bowls!" says Mr. De Mille (figuratively), "and the gold and silver ones as well." But you forget the glittering weariness of the masked ball for the amusement you derive later during the period that the ship, set upon by a storm, breaks from its moorings, causing a wholesale escape of the guests by parachtue, they landing in the most unusual places—and predicaments.

The production is a gorgeously accoutred thing and the principals in the cast are delightful people—with a flair for the particular rôles they play in "Madam Satan." Reginald Denny is seen as a trifling husband; Ronald Young, as the triffer's pal—who steps from frying pan to fire; from hot coals to boiling oil—because he is a pal; Kay Johnson as the wife who deals out ice when fire is desired until she learns some tricks from Lillian Roth—who has fire to sell. Elsa Peterson plays a shrewd French maid who sings a song that gives Madam an idea. A fascinating bevy!—with Mr. Young copping the lion's share of the laughs.

If you patronize this show you'll hear some charming music—the words of which you can't always understand—and see some unusual sets and costumes. You'll be enamored with two-thirds of the production, and—it all depends on you—you may hungrily swallow "Madam Satan" hook, line and sinker.

Theodore Dreiser Called Candidate for Nobel Prize

STOCKHOLM, Sweden, Oct. 8.—(AP)—Theodore Dreiser, American novelist, was mentioned prominently in Stockholm newspapers today as a possible winner of this year's Nobel prize in literature. Although the greatest secrecy is maintained as to the actual winner, it is understood Dreiser has several champions in the Swedish academy, which annually awards the prize.

Other writers who are reported having a chance to win the award are Paul Vallery, French poet, born in 1871; Roger Martin du Gard, also a Frenchman, born in 1881, whose work "Les Tribaults," throws light on the contrast between Catholics and the Protestants in France, and Johannes V. Jensen, Danish novelist, born in 1873, among whose more important books is one entitled "Christopher Columbus," published in 1921.

Due to the general prosperity in Sweden and advantageous investment of the funds of the Nobel foundation, mostly in Swedish securities, the prizes will this year set a new high record, each award being valued at 172,947 kroner [$46,350].

Around World Tour Will Be Made in Limits of Chicago

BY THE REV. JOHN EVANS.

One does not need to leave Chicago to see the world. Acting on this fact, Prof. Murray H. Leiffer, head of the department of sociology at Garrett Biblical institute, Evanston, personally is to conduct a tour around the world for the 75 new students at the Evanston seminary, though he says it will not be necessary to step out of the city's metropolitan bounds to do so.

Last night Dr. Leiffer outlined in a lecture to the new students the itinerary to be taken. He asserted his belief that Chicago is now the focal point of theological education, not only because there are more institutions of theological training and more theological students in Chicago than any other American city but also because more human contacts are offered here than elsewhere.

Dr. Leiffer pointed out to understand Chicago involves a knowledge of the city's "dramatic and colorful history." He declared that Chicago would have remained a hamlet if a group of men had not willed it into existence. Passing from a review of the last century, Dr. Leiffer told the seminarians the necessity of knowledge that ministers must have of human life. He declared that local theological students are particularly favored in first hand study of people and institutions.

"One may spend the morning in Poland, the afternoon in Italy, and the evening in China," Dr. Leiffer said. "Here every language is spoken, every cuisine enjoyed and every faith observed. Chicago may be viewed as a clinic for study of human relations. Its settlement houses, juvenile courts, and specialized municipal courts are world famed. Culture, travel, and life are here to be studied, understood and appreciated by the student who is aware of the riches in store for him."

The class will be divided into two groups for tours of The Tribune Tower on Oct. 20 and 21, according to Dr. Leiffer, in plans announced last night. With the aid of a collection of stereopticon slides, the students last night entered the city at Howard street. Points of interest studied included Loyola university, Elks' memorial, St. Gauden's Lincoln and Lincoln park, the Potter Palmer mansion, The Tribune Tower, Newberry, Crerar and public libraries, Buckingham fountain, Field museum, Shedd aquarium, Adler planetarium, and the University of Chicago.

"Here are endless opportunities for self-education," said Dr. Leiffer. "They are open to rich and poor." Dr. Leiffer urged that students should not confine their studies solely to books and indicated that an educated clergyman is one who has interested himself in the opportunities for education his surroundings offer.

Son to Choose His Own Path, Lindbergh Says

Flyer Gives Views on Boy's Education.

New York, Oct. 8.—(AP)—When Charles Augustus Lindbergh Jr. grows up he is going to have the whole wide world in which to find himself a career, without parental interference.

In an interview about the baby, which appears in the forthcoming issue of the magazine Pictorial Review, Col. Lindbergh is quoted as saying with a laugh that he has as yet given no serious thought to young Charles' career.

"Our son," he said, "has hardly reached the age to have his future determined for him, and in any case it is a question he can decide for himself when the time comes.

"Personally, I don't want him to be anything or do anything that he himself has no taste or aptitude for. I believe that everybody should have complete freedom in the choice of his life's work."

The chief problem in connection with "our son" at present, the interview reveals, is not what he is going to be when he grows up, but how in the world his father and mother are ever going to thank all the thousands of admirers who showered him with presents when he was born.

Charles Jr., it appears, would have to remain a baby for the next ten years or so to wear out all the layettes sent him, and his parents received so many letters and telegrams it was a human impossibility to acknowledge them individually.

One rather embarrassing angle to the situation is what to do with all those baby clothes. They couldn't very well return them without appearing ungracious.

The interview, apparently obtained before the present series of revolutions started, indicated that Col. and Mrs. Lindbergh were contemplating a tour of South America as their next long trip.

"We are both anxious to see some of the other modern South American republics," Col. Lindbergh said, remarking that they had already visited the northern section of the continent.

The article quotes him at length on aviation and the possibilities of future regular airplane travel across the Atlantic.

"In general, there are four possible air routes across the North Atlantic," Col. Lindbergh said, "the far northern, the great circle, the shipping lane, and the Bermuda-Azores."

How New Yorkers Join Their Clubs, Belonging to 10 or 15

New York, Oct. 8.—[Special.]—Changes in the membership of New York's clubs during the last year are shown by a comparison of the 1930-'31 edition of "Club Members of New York," published today.

The book contains the names and addresses of 30,000 individual members of forty-three selected men's and women's clubs.

Brig. Gen. Cornelius Vanderbilt belongs to seventeen clubs, which is the highest number recorded. Harry Payne Whitney was credited with membership in an equal number of organizations last year, but he has since dropped two, according to the publishers.

Clarence H. Mackay and George F. Baker Jr., together with Mr. Whitney, hold memberships in fifteen clubs this year. J. P. Morgan is shown to be a member of thirteen, one less than last year, and Junius S. Morgan Jr. of nine.

C. Oliver Iselin is recorded in the lists of fourteen clubs. Last year he was listed as being a member of fifteen. Ogden Mills and Charles Steele both maintain membership in twelve. Other names conspicuous in the volume are W. Vincent Astor, a member of eleven clubs; Frederick W. Allen, eleven; Anthony J. Drexel Biddle, eleven; William Woodward, eleven; George C. Smith Jr., Columbus O'D. Iselin, Henry Walter, Francis Minot Weld, William Goadby Loew, and Charles A. Stone, members of ten clubs each; H. Nelson Slater, Jeremiah Milbank, and Edward S. Moore, each members of nine.

Mrs. John T. Pratt and Mrs. Howard F. Whitney head the list of women club members, each being credited with five. This is one less than last year for Mrs. Pratt. Mrs. Winthrop W. Eldrich, Mrs. Frederick Winthrop Allen, Mrs. George S. Amory, Mrs. Horace E. Andrews, Mrs. Shults Dougherty, Mrs. Helen H. Jenkins, and Miss Anne Morgan are each credited with four clubs. Last year Miss Morgan was listed as belonging to five clubs.

Adler Planetarium Plans for Season Announced

The fall schedule of open hours and lectures at the Adler planetarium in Grant park was announced yesterday by George Donoghue, superintendent of the south parks. The present schedule will be in effect until winter, when another change will be made.

The announced schedule is: Mondays, Tuesdays, Thursdays, and Fridays, from 10 a. m. to 9 p. m., with lectures at 11 a. m., 3 p. m. and 8 p. m.; Wednesdays and Saturdays, 10 a. m. to 8 p. m., with lectures at 11 a. m. and 3 p. m.; Sundays and holidays, 2 p. m. to 5 p. m., with lectures at 3 p. m. and 4 p. m.

THE STAGE

THE THEATER GUILD announced yesterday that the revue staged under its auspices last winter, bearing the title of "The Garrick Gayeties," will follow Shaw's "The Apple Cart" at the Blackstone, opening Oct. 27. The Guild's former announcements had scheduled "A Month in the Country," a play by Turgenev with Alla Nazimova in the leading rôle, for that date.

This musical show will not form a part of the Guild's subscription season, although subscribers to the program of drama will be given reduced rates as ticket buyers. It will be an interruption rather than an integral part of the Guild's Chicago schedule—and will offer comic relief to the political oratory of "The Apple Cart." According to the Guild's representatives here, "A Month in the Country" has not been dropped from the subscription season.

Incidentally, the Guild states that it is in the market for a sketch or song, or combination of both, of Chicago atmosphere, satirizing local conditions, for use in "The Garrick Gayeties" during the Chicago engagement. The humorists of the town are invited to get busy, and if they want to know where to send their manuscripts, the New York address of the Guild is 245 West 52d street.

"Luana," the operetta made from "The Bird of Paradise," which was staged in New York about three weeks ago, was withdrawn from Hammerstein's theater as a failure last Saturday night. According to Arthur Hammerstein, the production of this entertainment cost $200,000, and its sudden closing has caused him to suffer greatly, both in his feelings and in his bank account. He attributes the failure, in part, to the rules of the League of New York Theaters, formed to curb ticket speculation.

"I could have made 'Luana' a success," he said, "but no musical show can survive in New York under present conditions without a 'buy' from the ticket brokers—unless it is a success from the start. Something will have to be done about the league's rules if I am ever to produce for the New York stage again."

Before he staged "Luana," however, Mr. Hammerstein had intimated that this would be his last "legitimate" production, and that the talking pictures will engage his attention in the future.

The next play by Marcel Pagnol, author of "Topaze," to be seen on the American stage will be his "Marius," which is now running in Paris as a rival to his first hit. Gilbert Miller will place the American adaptation in rehearsal this week. The title will be changed, and New York dispatches say it will be called "Marseigles," which sounds like a typographical error. Dudley Digges and Alexander Kirkland will have rôles in this new specimen of M. Pagnol's quaintness.

Efforts will be made to interest American tourists in next spring's Malvern festival of drama in England. J. N. Parker, representing Sir Barry Jackson, director of the Birmingham repertory company, is now on the high seas as propagandist for the festival, of which Bernard Shaw is a kind of patron saint.

A seven day program, illustrating the development of the British drama, is planned for the festival. On the first day Sir Barry will stage one of the earliest of the religious dramas; on the second, one of the first English comedies; on the third, an Elizabethan play not by Shakespeare; on the fourth, a Restoration comedy; on the fifth, an eighteenth century play; on the sixth, a drama representing the heyday of the Victorian era; and on the seventh, a play by Bernard Shaw, probably a new one written for the occasion. New Methods Doctors' Theme in Talks Today

Infantile Paralysis and Cancer Are Included.

Treatment of infantile paralysis in its earliest stages by means of baths, exercises, and other physical energies, as a successful departure from the old time practice will be explained this afternoon by Dr. J. C. Elsom of the University of Wisconsin. He will address the American Physical Therapy association at the Hotel Sherman. Motion pictures will illustrate the new methods that, it is said, prevent degeneration of the central nervous system, the cause of the paralysis and deformity.

"This marks a decided change from the old and beaten past of allowing cases to go untreated for months before introducing efforts to control or limit the deformity that is sure to occur," Dr. Elsom said. "This new method has for its object early treatment to prevent the destructive changes that take place because of delay."

The curing of hundreds of victims of infantile paralysis at a Los Angeles hospital, especially endowed for this modern treatment and directed by Dr. Charles Lowman, also will be discussed by Dr. Elsom. Large mirrors placed at certain angles in patients' rooms, allowing parents to see their children without disturbing them, is a unique feature of the hospital.

Dr. J. Cash King of Memphis, Tenn., will discuss the safety and use of electrical currents for the relief of certain conditions of the brain and central nervous system as an important development in physical therapy at this morning's session. Electrical currents for the production of body heat are far safer and more beneficial than the injection of serums, Dr. King declares.

Need for educating the public in the control of pre-cancerous conditions was urged by specialists at yesterday's meetings. Advantages of electrothermic surgery over the older methods were stressed by Dr. Owsley Grant of Louisville, Ky.

"Destruction of the tissues may be carried to any extent desired," said Dr. Grant, "depending on the amount of current used and the length of time employed."

"Little knowledge has been gained recently regarding the basic causes of cancer, but much progress has been made in its treatment," explained Dr. William L. Clark of Philadelphia. "Many cases there were considered hopeless a decade ago are now amenable to treatment because of the combined use of physical energies with expert surgery."

Members of the American Physical Therapy association will attend a dinner at 7 o'clock this evening at the Hotel Sherman for Dr. Frederick H. Morse of Boston. A charter member of the association, Dr. Morse has served as president and for many years as a member of the board of directors. Speakers at the dinner will include Dr. Burton B. Grover, Dr. Curran Pope, Dr. A. David Willmoth, Dr. Harry Eaton Stewart, Dr. Richard Kovacs, Dr. Joseph Waddington, Dr. William Benham Snow, and Dr. Charles Brooks. Dr. Arthur Linwood Brown, president of the association, will be toastmaster.

Paralysis Cases Increase.

Washington, D. C., Oct. 8.—(AP)—Increased infantile paralysis cases were reported today to the public health service. Over the country they now total 648, as against the 661 reported in the same week of 1927. Last year the highest number was 150, and the year before 340 cases.

During 1928 and 1929, the disease started its upward curve in July, reached its peak in September and had subsided by the end of October. This year, however, the disease began mounting in June and has been on a sharp upward climb.

States reporting more than a scattering of cases in today's compilation included: Indiana, 17; Illinois, 23; Michigan, 20; Wisconsin, 14; Iowa, 38.

Mrs. F. C. Gardner Now Baptist Minister Here

Mrs. F. C. Gardner, who was ordained last night to the Baptist ministry, is the second woman to be raised to the ministerial status in Chicago Baptist history. This was announced before the ordination service by the Rev. York A. King, pastor of the Austin Baptist church, where Mrs. Gardner's ordination took place. The Rev. Mr. King stated that Mrs. Gardner had been assistant pastor of the Austin church during the last four years. He said that she would enter evangelistic work at once. The ordination sermon was preached by the Rev. Dr. Melbourne P. Boynton, pastor of the Woodlawn Baptist church.

Diggers Find More Images of Deities of the Mayans

TEGUCIGALPA, Honduras, Oct. 8.—(AP)—Archaeologists working in the ruins of the ancient city of Copan have found a large number of old stone images supposed to be of Mayan gods. The scientists say their discovery will aid in solving many mysteries connected with Mayan civilization.

The new relics, which include monuments and other objects in addition to the statues, were found in a large cave several miles from the famous Copan ruins. The government has taken a deep interest in the discovery.

Society Street Gowns Reflect the Fashions

Black as well as black and white street clothes are perennial favorites with Chicago's smartly garbed women, and this season they seem to be even more popular than usual.

Mrs. William H. Mitchell, who commutes from Lake Forest to town almost every day for her numerous charitable activities, wears a chic black wool dress, tailored and with a variety of the fashionable peplum, black bone buttons down the front of the bodice, a high belted waistline, and a collar of white caracul, narrow on one side and with a point on the other. Mrs. T. Clifford Rodman and her sister, Mrs. Russell Kelley, wear black ensembles with interesting onyx and crystal composition costume jewelry. Mrs. Rodman's frock is of satin crêpe, trimmed with white piqué, and has an uneven peplum. Her beret, of woven fabric, is ornamented with a pearl pin.

The cuffs and collar of Mrs. Kelley's dress are of plaited organdy and her hat is of black felt. Mrs. Charles Glore's street wardrobe includes a suit of a rather bright blue broadcloth, with a wide collar of blue fox, and a matching felt hat, double brimmed and trimmed with an agraffe of varicolored stones. Mrs. A. Watson Armour has a wool crêpe street dress of dark hunter's green, trimmed with a collar and cuffs of Persian lamb, with which she wears a close fitting black knit hat with a thrown back veil.

Good Showmanship Is Something Every Woman Can Develop

BY DORIS BLAKE.

"She stages herself in such a way that people think of her as a most attractive and popular person," was said of a guest just departed and undergoing the analysis that so often follows a guest departure.

"Just what do you mean by staging herself?" was asked.

"Oh, she draws a picture of herself which she leaves in your mind. As when she said, speaking about that dinner: 'The table was lovely old yellow damask spread, walls of the same color and I was wearing my black velvet and Mr. J., the guest of honor, turned to me and said——'

"There you have a picture of the girl, a stunning figure in a stunning setting, seated next the guest of honor.

"Good showmanship, I call it," the speaker added. "She really is not more than ordinarily good looking, more than ordinarily clever except in her showmanship. And women need more of that quality that Barnum made famous—only not on his lines, of course."

Maybe there is a good working idea in the above for you who wonder why other women shine while you droop. Certainly all the great sirens of history had showmanship. Some of them wove fantastic tales about their origin and succeeded in blazing a career for themselves out of the humblest beginnings. While we wouldn't recommend fantastic weavings—still a woman can create a prestige for herself by clever "staging."

Certainly in our era when individuals are taken pretty much at their own face value, it profits a woman nothing to play herself down with apologetic terms, or confessions of embarrassment or with reference to some handicap which she may be aware of but others need not be reminded of frequently.

I recall some one stressing one of the advantages of wealth to woman as permitting her to "stage" herself in the manner best calculated to heighten her charms and suppress her defects—jewels, clothes, perfumes, fine home background, etc.

Without wealth, without snobbery and without a too obvious conceit, woman still can play herself up picturesquely enough with a little brains and the urge to conquer. And competition being what it is, it might be well for more girls and women to look into this personal showmanship business.

IF KIDNEYS ACT BAD, DRINK WATER

Add a spoonful Jad Salts to first glass before breakfast to clear intestines of poisons that may pass from intestinal tract to kidneys and invite trouble.

If you have miserable pains in your back, or strained feeling, don't jump to the conclusion that you have a bad kidney ailment and start dosing yourself with a lot of medicine. Plain water is the best diuretic—the best flusher of the kidneys you can find.

Drink a full glass one-half hour before breakfast to which you've added a spoonful of ordinary Jad Salts. The water will flush the kidneys. The Jad Salts will cleanse the intestines of the dangerous toxins of Systemic Poisoning which are probably the real cause of those back pains.

According to recent discoveries of able men of science, these toxins frequently pass from the lower intestines to the kidneys, causing pus formations and pain—and inviting trouble. Get them out of your system and chances are those pains you've diagnosed as "kidney pains" will go like magic. You'll feel a general easing up, less of that horribly tired and strained feeling at your back. You'll feel more snappy and alert than perhaps for years.

You can get the Jad Salts at any corner drug store. Just ask for ordinary Jad Salts. Take as suggested above. Also drink two glasses of plain water between every two meals and at bedtime. Then if your "kidney pains" aren't completely gone in six days or less, see a good doctor. Try this simple way today. You'll be glad that you did.

This Costume Owes Much of Its Chic to Buttons

BY BETTINA BEDWELL.

PARIS.—[Special Correspondence.]—Buttons have come back strong into the Paris mode. The days of an upward writhe and a downward wriggle and you're dressed are past. Lots of the new things are merely decorated with buttons, but more of them really button up, and your husband's lucky if it isn't in the back.

Paris couturiers either take it for granted that everybody has a maid or else that husbands are willing victims on the altar of chic, for many of their smartest costumes are buttoned in places that would baffle a contortionist.

This formal afternoon costume from Madeleine owes much of its chic to its buttons. It's of heavy black satin. Its underskirt buttons up the left side of the front and both sides of the back. The tight knee length tunic edged with a wide band of red fox fur, buttons down the back from waist to hem and that's what makes it fit so becomingly, for in front it's cut princess and softly draped and the tunic is detached from the blouse at the waistline in back.

Madeleine gives it the leg o' mutton sleeves she uses with nearly all her costumes and which certainly call attention to and flatter a graceful figure.

The hat from Marthe Regnier is of black satin lined with velvet to match the red fox and the eight button gloves are antelope in the same tone.

The Toll Acidity Takes

You go to bed dog tired but the minute you hit the pillow all sleepiness vanishes. If you do sleep at all it's only in snatches and you wake out of these "stupors" with a strange, startled feeling, sometimes in a cold sweat. Morning finds you a rag, gaunt and hollow-eyed and barely able to crawl out of bed.

Acidity is due to our unnatural eating habits, our excessive smoking and irregular hours. The excess acid upsets digestion and causes acid-indigestion with gas and heartburn. It causes putrefaction and fermentation in the gastro-intestinal canal which frequently results in ragged nerves, sleeplessness, logy days and general loss of strength and vitality.

A remarkable new corrective of acidity has been developed by a famous 100-year-old pharmaceutical house in Germany. This new, improved magnesia comes in the form of small white tablets called Magnesia Oxoids which do not have to be chewed, but which may be swallowed whole. Magnesia Oxoids, upon contact with the acid in the stomach, generate nascent, or active, oxygen! Now, active oxygen, as any doctor will tell you, when generated within the digestive tract does just the things required for acidity. It stimulates the secretion of the alkaline mucus. It checks the putrefaction and fermentation in the gastro-intestinal canal. It exercises a stimulating effect upon the activities of the intestinal walls and aids the movement of the bowels.

All three effects are necessary to the true relief of acidity and Magnesia Oxoids supply them in a perfectly natural manner.

Make This Acidity Test

To ascertain just how "acid" you are, make this acidity test. Get a bottle of Magnesia Oxoids from Walgreen Drug Stores, Economical Drug Stores, or any other druggist on our money-back guarantee. Take two after each meal. Mark the change in your physical condition—note how more sound and restful your sleep and how more cheerful and active your days. If, after taking contents of one bottle, you don't sleep better and have more "pep" and power, return the bottle to the druggist and he will refund your money.

No matter what your AGE

No need Now to Have Gray Hair

THIS is the age of youth! People want to look young. The country wants youth. Employers want young people. Society wants youth. So now you see fewer and fewer people with Gray Hair. Do you know the secret? Hundreds of thousands of other people have found it—in a queer discovery of science—a liquid that is as colorless as water—yet which imparts color to Gray Hair. Its name is Kolor-Bak! Not a sticky, messy, hard-to-use preparation that might endanger your hair. But a clear, safe, liquid that you simply comb into your hair to make the gray go. It acts so gradually that even your friends won't realize that you are using anything. And it leaves the beautiful gloss of the hair unchanged. No experimenting with Kolor-Bak—the one bottle does for Black, Brown, or Auburn. Be young again! Get a bottle today and if Kolor-Bak doesn't make you look 10 years younger your money will be refunded any time you ask.

BY THALIA

Last year's debutantes are not vanishing, now that their "coming out" season is past. They are busy. Some of them with regular jobs, some with classes of various kinds, and most of them with stints to be performed for their charities.

Of those who were bowing to society about this time last fall, Betty Cudahy and Marianne Ruffner are still at school; Margaret Emily Linde, having achieved her first success, is advancing in the intricacies of cooking, and Veronese Beatty is going to art school.

Miss Parker is instructing in Latin at the Winnetka country day school and Miss Ruffner has three classes in history at the same school. Phoebe Snow says she is going to study painting at the Art institute.

Betty Pope is taking dancing lessons, Narcissa Swift is still writing books, and Carol Bourne "hostesses" at lunch time at the Erie shop. Marianne Stevenson, whose marriage to Bruce Thorne took place last week, was the first of last year's debutantes to be a bride.

A group of "second year" girls is planning another of the Junior League's second hand clothes sales, to take place a week from today at a location not yet designated. Janet Kirk is the general chairman, and the committee heads include Carol Bourne, who has charge of collecting the castoffs; Margaret Emily Lynde, who will attend to the pricing of the clothing; Geraldine Leonard, chairman of the hostess committee; Betty Parker, wrapping chairman; Ann Small, publicity chairman; Carol Bush and Betty Jane Hewitt. The prices will be from 15 cents to $15, and the articles to be sold include coats, dresses [some of them Paris models], lingerie, hats, and accessories.

The Cradle ball, the annual benefit of the Cradle society in Evanston, is to be held this year on Saturday evening, Oct. 25, at the Drake hotel ballroom. Mrs. L. Octigan White of Evanston is general chairman, and is being assisted with the arrangements by Mrs. John C. Slade and Mrs. Irving L. Garnett.

The committees and their respective chairmen include: Supper arrangements, Mrs. Augustus W. Eddy, Mrs. J. T. R. Nicol and Mrs. Warren A. Cram; bridge room, Mrs. Buckingham Chandler, Mrs. Frederick K. Morrill, and Mrs. Horace W. Armstrong; floor, Mrs. Chester Corey; cigarets, Mrs. E. Sheridan, Mrs. Rollin W. Crowe and Mrs. Frederick K. Lawson; decorations, Mrs. Corey Blanchard Jr. features, Mrs. Louis Blessing, Mrs. Barry C. Clyde, and Mrs. Donald Fowler; reservations, Mrs. Eugene M. Stevens; publicity, Mrs. Lucius Crosby, and tickets, Mrs. John C. Slade. The society's accomplishment to date is the placing of 1,400 babies in carefully selected homes since its opening in 1923.

Princess Alexis Obolensky of New York City is to arrive on Sunday to be the house guest of Mrs. Hale Holden Jr. at Lake Forest next week, and is to conduct a series of showings of the hand quilted articles made by the Kentucky mountaineer women sold in Princess Obolensky's shop in New York, the Nancy Lincoln Hut.

Mrs. Holden is assisting Princess Obolensky, and has arranged for her display to be on view at the residence of Mrs. Phelps Kelley of Lake Forest on Monday and Tuesday, and at Mrs. Philip B. Maher's new interior decorating shop the rest of the week. Mrs. Holden is to give a luncheon for Princess Obolensky on Monday, and Princess Clarissa Cantacuzene is planning to entertain for her the latter part of the week.

The Lake Forest committee of the North Shore Circuit Theater association met on Tuesday at the residence of Mrs. Harold Ambler, the chairman, to organize a subscription drive. Members of the group include Mrs. Richard Bentley, Mrs. William Burry Jr., Mrs. William E. Casselberry Jr., Mrs. Morrow Krum, Mrs. J. N. Lee, Mrs. C. P. McCullough, and Mrs. Howard Peabody.

Mrs. Patrick A. Valentine of 209 Lake Shore drive and her daughter-in-law, Mrs. Patrick A. Valentine Jr., have returned from Southampton, L. I.

Mrs. Chauncey Keep is in Camden, Me., after a visit of several weeks with her sister, Mrs. George Otis of New York. It will be several more weeks before Mrs. Keep returns to Chicago.

Louis Betts Among Leading Painters of U.S.

BY ELEANOR JEWETT.

In any group of five distinguished American portrait painters the name of Louis Betts must figure. According to Sir John Lavery, the English painter, there is no one better than Betts today in England and it would be difficult to find his equal. This last statement, of course, must exclude Sir William Orpen, who ranks possibly first of all living contemporary portrait painters of any nationality.

A recent portrait by Louis Betts hangs now in the O'Brien Art galleries. It is of Cecil Barnes, the husband of Margaret Ayer Barnes, whose "Years of Grace" has endeared her to all Chicagoans and whose play, written in collaboration with Edward Sheldon, "The Dishonored Lady," is a current attraction in the theater.

Louis Betts has given us some of his finest work in the portrait of Mr. Barnes. It is a solid, substantial piece of work. Mr. Barnes sits comfortably, relaxed, in a chair conspicuous for its inconspicuousness. The background is green. Mr. Barnes wears a gray suit and blue tie with a soft shirt. He is very human. The intelligent hands, sensitive and thin, are beautifully placed. The long, clever face with its mobile features, is in the light. The hair, the eyes, nose, mouth—the chin—each detail in the likeness is firmly, generously stroked in. Character and personality are there.

In addition to the portrait there is a group of delightful water colors of flowers by N. Littlehale Murphy on the walls and in the larger gallery two gorgeous flower pieces in oil by H. Dudley Murphy. The Murphys are husband and wife, and while in this case both are showing flower paintings, Mr. Murphy is extremely well known as a painter of landscapes. Two of Mrs. Murphy's water colors were seen last spring in the Art institute international water color exhibit.

New Dog Shelter, Orphans of Storm, Is Opened Officially

Mrs. Frederic McLaughlin's new Orphans of the Storm refuge for dogs, built through donations at a cost of $8,600, was opened formally yesterday on Mill road two miles west of Deerfield. Seventeen guests from Chicago and the north shore were served tea and sandwiches in the offices of the dog house. The structure replaces the one which was burned last February with the loss of 39 dogs.

The building is two stories high, steam heated and equipped with a modern lighting system and hot and cold running water, with two attendants always on duty to feed and bathe the 150 dogs that are expected.

Among Mrs. McLaughlin's guests yesterday were Mrs. Thorne Donnelley, Mrs. Dorothy Eagles, who conducts the North Side Animal shelter in Chicago, John Jay Abbott, Mrs. William Dennison Morris, Mrs. William S. Ennis, Mrs. A. H. Alberding, Mrs. J. E. Butchart, Mrs. James Topp, Mrs. H. Gilhofer, Mrs. B. D. Brennerman, Mrs. Earl Reynolds, and the Misses Mildred Fitz Hugh, Viola Larson, and Odeane Daughten of Waukegan.

Miss Jane P. Francis Crowned Queen of Veiled Prophet's Fete

St. Louis, Mo., Oct. 8.—(AP)—Miss Jane Perry Francis, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Talton B. Francis and granddaughter of the late David R. Francis, was crowned queen of the court of love and beauty at the 53d annual Veiled Prophet's ball at the Coliseum tonight.

Next to Miss Francis, in the distinction bestowed by the prophet on the occasion of his annual two day visit to St. Louis, came the four special maids of honor. They were Miss Betty Rathman, Miss Louise Augustus Goddard, Miss Adeline Ely Smith, and Miss Jane W. Blackmer.

Tomorrow night, if weather permits—and it will permit unless rain is falling at the starting time—the veiled prophet and his crew, or krewe, of staid business men frolicking in masks, will parade through downtown and residential districts, presenting the pageant, "The Making of a Great Nation," with a series of picturesque floats. The pageant, postponed from Tuesday, because of rain, will close this year's carnival.

After tonight's ball, about 1,500 guests attended the queen's ball at Hotel Jefferson.

100 Miami Beach Owners, Worth Billion, Form Club

New York, Oct. 8.—[Special.]—The committee of 100, made up men owning homes at Miami Beach, Fla., whose combined wealth is said to total about $1,000,000,000, held its first annual northern dinner tonight at the Hotel Biltmore. A reception preceded the affair.

Clayton Sedgwick Cooper, chairman of the committee, introduced John McEntee Bowman, who delivered a short speech of welcome. Guests at the speaker's table included James W. Gerard, former ambassador to Germany; Newton W. Gilbert, former governor of the Philippines.

Reception for Singer.

Mrs. James Hamilton Lewis has arranged a reception to be given at the salons of the Alliance Française in the Fine Arts building for Mme. Yvonne Gall following her recital at the Studebaker theater next Sunday afternoon. Mlle. Justine Tibesar, Belgian student, who is making a tour of the world, will give a brief talk on some of her travel experiences.

WEDDING

The wedding of Gertrude Marion Kelly, 6559 Jeffrey avenue, and Robert W. Bycraft, 4520 Ellis avenue, took place yesterday morning at St. Ambrose church, 47th and Ellis avenue. The ceremony was followed by a breakfast and reception at the Blackstone. Mr. and Mrs. Bycraft left last night on a honeymoon to California and Mexico.

Can't PLAY Can't REST —child needs Castoria

WHEN a child is fretful and irritable, seems distressed and uncomfortable, can't play, can't sleep, it is a pretty sure sign that something is wrong. Right here is where Castoria fits into a child's scheme—the very purpose for which it was formulated years ago! A few drops and the condition which caused the trouble is righted; comfort quickly brings restful sleep.

Nothing can take the place of Castoria for children; it's perfectly harmless, yet always effective. For the protection of your wee one—for your own peace of mind—keep this old reliable preparation always on hand. But don't keep it just for emergencies; let it be an every-day aid. Its gentle action will ease and soothe the infant who cannot sleep. In more liberal doses it will effectively help to regulate sluggish bowels in an older child.

All druggists have Castoria; it's genuine if you see Chas. H. Fletcher's signature and this name-plate:

CASTORIA

Develop Grace for Success in Wearing New Fall Gowns

BY ANTOINETTE DONNELLY.

Yesterday we were talking about the wall for grace that is going to be demanded of woman in her fashionable fall and winter frock. The theory is that the new line of frock cries for a new line of woman inside it.

We suggested that first you find out just how you are holding yourself. First, stand up against a wall with the back of the shoulders and heels touching the wall, your arms hanging easily at your sides. Then walk away from the wall holding the body erectly and without effort. You may have to do some practicing before there is effortlessness about the movement.

When you are walking get into the habit of pulling yourself up with a reminding jerk. Pull the knees up and back, slightly rigid; hold the chest up. The abdomen will automatically flatten and the back will have a better line. You will feel taller and your feet will respond with a lighter step.

An important point in walking is to swing from the hips rather than from the knees. Not a masculine swing, understand, but a graceful one. You cannot be corseted tightly to get this motion, but one does not need to be or want to be corseted tightly these days, even in the type of frock that seems to call for a pulled-in waistline.

About your head. Carry it as if you were proud of yourself. Develop a pride, if you haven't it now. Begin developing it by holding the head at an angle that looks self-respecting. This does not mean shunting the chin forward like a turtle's. Hold it up—without strain. In order to get this poise of the head quickly, lift up the chest and flatten the abdomen and the head will lift automatically.

What we are driving at is that there is no room for slouchiness in the 1930 dress. Neither is it a military bearing, nor anything suggestive of a masculinely ruled form. It's grace—one hundred per cent feminine grace—and the curved outline that you only get with the chest held up and the complete figure reformation that follows that single gesture.

BEAUTY ANSWERS

R. H.: IT IS A MISTAKE TO USE soap in cake form on the hair when shampooing it. All soap should be reduced to jelly form by shaving and pouring boiling water over it. Hair needs to be shampooed every ten days or two weeks. Shampooing instructions may be had for a stamped, addressed envelope.

C. G.: BRUSHING NOT ONLY REmoves particles of dust but it gives the hair a sheen and gloss. It also improves the circulation in the scalp. You should devote at least five minutes each morning to brushing. Brush the hair upward and outward.

Food Talk.

"I never serve fried foods and we never eat them. They are indigestible!" This is a remark often made by housewives. Before one can accept or reject this criticism it is necessary that one know what is meant by "fried food." In a good many instances fried food is not meant, but sauted food is. In any case the reference is to food poorly cooked in fat—that which is sodden and grease soaked. Such food I heartily agree is unattractive and difficult to digest.

Real frying is done in deep hot fat. Just as soon as the food comes in contact with the fat the surface is seared and no grease penetrates beyond the thin outer crust. When finished, properly fried food has a delicious crisp crust of a beautiful golden brown color and is free from cracks where fat may soak through. The center is steaming hot. In all, it is well cooked and is as digestible as it could possibly be cooked by any other method.

To fry foods perfectly one must have the proper equipment. A deep iron kettle is best—much better than an ordinary sauce pan because the temperature of the fat can be controlled most easily. A frying basket to lift the foods out and a thermometer for testing the temperature of the fat are great helps in frying. Of course, a slotted spoon, a wire egg whip or a perforated pancake turner may be used to turn and lift out the foods. And the bread test may be used to determine the temperature of the fat.

Fat is at the right temperature for fritters, doughnuts, and uncooked mixtures in general when a thermometer registers 360-370° F. or will turn a one inch cube of bread a golden brown in 60 seconds. At a temperature of 350-400° F. on the thermometer the fat is right for chops and cutlets and will turn a one inch cube of bread a golden brown in 30 to 60 seconds, depending upon the thickness of cutlet. The thicker the meat is the slower it will need to cook. The lower temperature should be chosen for the thick foods requiring longer cooking.

Fat should register 395° F. on thermometers for French fried potatoes, or should turn a one inch cube of bread a golden brown in 40 seconds. The kettle should be filled a little less than half full with fat. This is a safe amount to use for hot fat over a flame must be handled cautiously.

Vegetable fats or oils are most satisfactory for frying as they decompose at a higher temperature than animal fats.

Food that is to be fried must be prepared so that it will not absorb any fat. All excess moisture should be removed. Rolling the food in bread crumbs and egg or dipping in thin batter are two ways to prevent fat penetration [potatoes need no protection].

When the fat is at the right temperature, lower the basket into it for a moment to grease and heat the wires. Remove, lay articles in it not one touching another and lower into fat. Lift occasionally to see how they are browning. When they are a delicate brown, lift the basket clear of the fat. Drain over the vessel for a moment and turn food onto soft, absorbent paper to remove all superfluous fat. Paper toweling is good for this. Do not let them touch each other. Keep hot in an uncovered pan in a warm oven.

Reheat the fat for a moment before putting in more food.

The frying fat may be saved from one time to another. Strain hot fat through double or triple cheese cloth into a heavy earthen bowl or jar. When cool, cover tightly. Wipe the kettle out with soft absorbent paper and wash with hot water to which a little soda has been added.

Cooked foods or thin slices of easily cooked foods are best for frying. Do not fry foods that need long cooking in deep fat. They will soak up too much fat to be appetizing. Fried food to be at its best must be served immediately.

Paris Paper Adds Movie Theater to Its Building

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

PARIS, Oct. 8.—The afternoon newspaper, l'Intransigeant, today announced a project unique in journalism.

That paper is enlarging one wing of its modern office building to install a large movie hall which will be open in December. The movie will be called Les Miracles, after the famous "court of miracles" described by Victor Hugo on the site which l'Intransigeant's building is situated.

The editorial executives of the paper will arrange the programs of films. The novel theater will be devoted especially to encouraging the French movie industry, but the editors of the paper will run productions from Hollywood and other foreign places. Educational and news films will be given a prominent place on the programs. The latest news bulletins will be flashed on the screen every few minutes.

The paper already has its operators and its own radio news service for its readers and "covers" a number of big events by radio. It is considered by the French to be an enormous paper, because it runs 14 and 16 pages every day. Director Leon Bailby is at the present in America studying how he further can Americanize the paper.

Children in the Same Family May Be Poles Apart

BY GLADYS HUNTINGTON BEVANS

A list of books to be read to children and by them will be sent by Mrs. Bevans on receipt of a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

One of the most fascinating things to watch—of course we mean in the Realm of Interest in Children, which is where this column resides!—is the difference between children in the same family.

Of course, some of the differences are accounted for by heredity. The sensitive child and the impervious child, the phlegmatic child and the excitable child are often found in the same family. Or the artistic child and the businesslike child, the child who heeds people and the one who heeds them scarcely at all are frequently found having the same father and mother. But the ancestors responsible for their qualities may be much farther back than that.

A grandmother who ran her husband's business successfully, a grandfather who was a marvelous musician, a great-grandmother who was the belle of the town—one of these, if known about, may account for the apparently unaccountable qualities of a child.

But people often say, even so—suppose they are different in such ways, how can children with the same training behave so differently—how can one be jealous, one selfish, another domineering, and another wild, all in the same family? They have the same parents, the same home, the same upbringing—how can their behavior be so different?

The answer to that is even more interesting than the idea of heredity. The answer to that is that they often haven't! Haven't what? Haven't the same parents, the same home, the same upbringing—therefore, their behavior wouldn't be the same! That is all the children in that family will still have as parents the same James and Martha Brown, the same house at 47 Washington avenue, apparently the same methods used in their rearing—but actually, if you look hard and close at each of these factors, you may find that they're not the same, at all. Does that sound ridiculous?

If it does—as the puzzles say—read tomorrow's paper!
